Receives Deposits subject to Check or on Certificate, allowing interest thereon at favorable rates.

Lends on Approved Stocks and Corporation Bonds as Collateral.

Acts as Trustee, Guardian, Executor, Administrator, Assignee or Receiver, Transfer Agent or Registrar of Stocks of Corporations. Takes charge of Personal Securities.

Conserves the Professional Relations of Attorneys to their clients, in consultation with the Company's Counsel, in any business that may be placed with it.

Its method of insurance is the strongest, because it is based on the safest examination and the most careful supervision.

Its information is the fullest, because it furnishes abstracts in addition to an opinion and a policy.

Its policies are universally accepted by individuals, trustees and corporations. It has complete locality and nominal plants of the Counties of New York, Kings and Westchester.

PREFACE.

The following is the semi-annual Index of Volume LXXVII of the Record and Guide, containing complete lists of the Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Buildings Projected in New York City during the first six months of 1906. Those wishing to keep a file for permanent reference should see that all the numbers are complete and have them bound. Cost of binding $2.50 per volume. A suitable temporary binder, holding one volume, can be obtained at the office, 14 and 16 Vesey street; price, one dollar.

THE KEY.

* Before any page No. indicates an Auction Sale.

† Before any page No. indicates a New Building Projected.

Figures in parenthesis are leases.

Figures preceded by capital letters are mortgages, said capital letter indicating the first letter of the name of the mortgagor.

Figures without any signs whatsoever are Conveyances.

EXAMPLE.

Allen st., from Stanton st. to East Houston st.. 337, R 354, (393), †1033, *1250.

On page *1250 an auction sale will be found.
On page 337 a conveyance will be found.
On page R 354 a mortgage will be found.
On page (393), a lease will be found.
On page †1033 will be found plans for a new building.

AUCTION SALES.

The * appearing before any number indicates the page on which to find an Auction Sale.

CONVEYANCES.

are distinguished by numbers without having signs attached thereto. In many instances there will be found streets, etc., indexed under pages which, on being examined, show at once that they are not in their proper order according to our customary alphabetical and numerical arrangement. A further examination will disclose the fact that while the properties appear more prominently under the other street descriptions, they nevertheless extend to the streets, etc., indicated by the Index, and having a frontage on same have been included in the paging, and it will necessitate a somewhat more thorough search than usual to locate it. The Leases, Mortgages, Auction Sales and Projected Buildings are indexed in a similar manner to the plan followed with the Conveyances.

LEASES.

The figures in parenthesis denote that the transaction on the page given is Leasehold, an assignment of lease or a lease running for a short or long term of years. This explanation is made so that subscribers searching for transfers in fee can at once distinguish between the former and the latter without referring to the pages mentioned.

MORTGAGES.

All the mortgages are indexed against the street or avenue in which the property is located, and memoranda added to enable searchers to find the particulars in "The Record and Guide." See "Example." The streets and avenues are so subdivided that very few references are necessary. All readers of "The Record and Guide" are aware that the mortgages appear weekly in alphabetical order, so that they have, so to speak, a weekly index of mortgagors. This publication of an index against property completes the information which those interested may require.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS

are included under the same general heading, and are distinguished by the † which precedes the numbering.

Auction Sales, Conveyances, Leases, Mortgages and Projected Buildings. BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN. STREETS.

NOTE.—Longitudinal streets, roads and places, such as the Bowery, Boulevard, Broadway, etc., which run parallel with the various avenues, will be found in alphabetical order amongst the avenues.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING IN 1905.

1905 As Compared to Other Years.

In order to understand the true significance of the existing activity in real estate, the transactions of the past year must be compared not merely with those of the preceding year, but with the general course of real estate business since 1897. The years from 1897 to 1900 were not prosperous years for real estate brokers, operators and owners. Consolidation had resulted in large increases of taxes, which for the time being were paid exclusively by the owners of real estate. The landlords were unable to recover from their tenants this heavy increase in taxation, because the builders of tenement and apartment houses were putting an over-supply of living accommodations on the market. Building was indeed very active on the lower East Side, on the West Side and in Harlem, but its activity was not restrained by any careful calculation of the current demand for new habitations. The upper part of the city was full of tenements which were only partly filled and whose owners were offering inducements to tenants to occupy their buildings, and this description applied to comparatively expensive as well as to cheap flats. A large number of seven-story elevator apartment houses were built under the old law in 1898 and 1899, their builders being encouraged by their ability to obtain electric power from the street, but they were hard to rent and harder to sell. The only section of the city in which real estate was strong and active was on the lower East Side, which was being filled up by the gathering body of Jewish immigrants. Throughout the rest of the city values were practically stationary, and trading was dull—partly because the revival of general business had not yet affected real estate, partly because of the increase in taxes, and partly because the growth of the city was stunted by wholly inadequate means of transit.

Of course, the most crying and exasperating deficiency of all was the wretched means of interborough transit, and it was during these years that preparations began to be made by the city for new bridges to Brooklyn and a subway from City Hall to the Bronx. The beginning of better times, however, was brought about by causes independent of rapid transit, which would have had their effect, subway or no subway. It was almost entirely the result of general business prosperity. This prosperity, demanding as it did much financial reorganization, and bestowing as it did an increased importance upon New York in the financial organization of the country, only affected those parts of the city, in which large business affairs were transacted, and in which rich men lived and amused themselves. By stimulating the demands for offices, it encouraged the erection of "skyscrapers" in the financial district, and caused large increases in real estate prices south of Maiden Lane. By increasing the number of rich men who lived for greater or shorter periods in New York, it brought about a lively demand for property adapted to expensive residences and hotels. Finally it also had the effect of raising values on those thoroughfares, such as Fifth avenue and middle Broadway, whose places of business cater to the needs and amusements of well-to-do people. Throughout 1901 and 1902 the conditions briefly described above dominated New York real estate and served to enrich the owners of expensive property in the middle districts of Manhattan; but they exerted practically no effect upon the much larger areas occupied by the residences of people who were poor or only moderately well to do.

In the meantime, however, causes were also at work which were destined to have a corresponding effect on low-priced residential property, and these causes were such as both to increase the demand for new residential accommodation and temporarily to diminish the supply thereof. The demand was increased, because the general prosperity increased the employment of all grades of labor and because the volume of immigration was reaching unprecedented dimensions. At the same time the enactment of the new Tenement House Law placed a temporary check upon the construction of tenement houses. The consequence was that soon after the speculation in high-priced property diminished in 1903, a speculation in low-priced property began. In the first place, the more stringent provisions of the new Tenement House Law gave an increased value to the older types of five-story flats and encouraged their purchase by speculators. In the second place, the enormous immigration, particularly of Polish and Russian Jews, filled the lower East Side to overflowing, and the overflow gradually flooded the East Side of Harlem. In this way Harlem itself soon became overcrowded, particularly as very few new tenements had been built, and similar causes diminished the vacancies on the West Side. The landlords of tenements and apartment houses soon found their incomes substantially increased; and, with the improved renting conditions, it was natural that the construction of new dwelling accommodation was begun on a large scale. It so happened that just about the same time the new subway began to have its effect, and opened up large areas of vacant land in Harlem, on Washington Heights and in the Bronx, which had been inadequately provided with means of communication. A violent speculation on unimproved property was the result, and an enormous increase in the construction of tenement houses.

The speculation in vacant property had largely spent its force by the spring of 1905, and the real estate and building operations of the past year have been devoted largely to a less precarious kind of transaction. The activity during the past year has been enormous. It has surpassed that of any previous year in the history of New York real estate by a large percentage. But it has at the same time been exceptionally well distributed and wholesome. There has been no violent speculation in any part of Manhattan, but there has been a sustained and healthy demand for real estate, both for use and for investment. Wherever the current condition is tested it shows similar characteristics. In the financial district there has been no such increase in values as there was during 1901 and 1902, but buildings have been well rented, and a fair amount of new construction has been undertaken—more than during any year since 1902. At the same time there is a sensible tendency shown to erect new skyscrapers on the cheaper land to the west of Broadway. In the new wholesale district a very large amount of new construction has been undertaken between Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets; and it has been made manifest that within a few years the wholesale trade will begin to occupy the area between Twenty-third and Thirty-fourth streets. Along Fifth avenue there has been steady progress, looking chiefly towards the control of Fifth avenue property by the business men who use it, and towards the occupation of the adjacent side streets. In the residential districts there has been a revived demand for high-priced houses, and at the same time the largest volume of new tenement accommodations projected that has ever happened in New York. As we shall see presently, this new construction is well distributed throughout the different districts in the northern part of Manhattan. Real estate is being sold and new houses projected in all parts of the city, and in response to a substantial business demand.

The net result, consequently, of the real estate history of the past five years is the complete rehabilitation of real estate as a form of investment. During all these years, while one class of real property after another has been restored to favor, there has been no increase of taxes. The landlord has reaped the fruits of the improved conditions. He is prosperous, as he has not been for over a decade, and he has no reason to fear that the bottom of his prosperity will suddenly drop out. It is, after all, founded on the fact that an enormous increase has taken place in the demand for land in Manhattan by people who must use it, and owners can rest assured that this demand will become even more imperative. The truth is that the improvement of the past few years, great as it has been, is merely a suggestion of the vaster improvement which will be brought about hereafter by the accelerated means of communication which will be effected with all the outlying districts. We all know what has been accomplished by one subway, and this result has to be multiplied many times over in order to understand the changes that will take place as soon as the new subways are in operation, and as soon as Manhattan is connected with Long Island and New Jersey by all the tunnels and bridges now under construction. The pressure on land in Manhattan for industrial and residential uses will become terrific, and will necessitate radical reconstructions, both of real estate values and building equipment. Neither will these results be confined to the favored districts in the very center of the island. Those districts will indeed become still more valuable, but the largest relative increases in value will take place in less favorably situated property, which is still comparatively cheap. Anybody who considers calmly the existing situation must reach the conclusion that there is no surer way of making money in the world than to purchase improved real estate which carries itself in some central but less expensive district of Manhattan, particularly real estate situated on an avenue rather than a street. It is the gradual appreciation of this fact, coupled with the excellent renting conditions, which is responsible for the current activity and strength.

The Year's Figures.

The number of conveyances recorded during 1905 was not only very much larger than during any previous year in the history of New York county, but they show an unprecedented increase over the figures of last year. We present herewith a table, showing the number of conveyances recorded during every year since 1898, together with the amount of money involved by these transfers:

	No. of Cons.	Amt. involved
1905 .....	34,853	$91,592,291
1904 .....	24,641	76,664,430
1903 .....	18,649	109,075,595
1902 .....	17,265	137,562,422
1901 .....	15,919	156,413,062
1900 .....	14,587	114,243,112
1899 .....	15,623	130,317,427
1898 .....	14,097	104,060,581

It will be seen from this table that, whereas only 24,641 were recorded during 1904, the number for the past year was 34,853. This is an increase of over 10,000 in the number of transactions placed on record, which means that there was an augmentation of activity during the year equal to about 40 per cent., whereas during no previous year has the percentage of increase been over 30 per cent. It will be noticed, furthermore, that the tremendous increases in the number of transactions have taken place since 1903. From 1900 to 1903 the ratio of expansion in the number of recorded transfers was only about 30 per cent. for the whole period, whereas the increase from 1903 to 1905 has amounted to almost 100 per cent. That is, almost double the number of conveyances are being recorded than were being recorded only two years ago, and this enormous expansion has taken place since low-priced residential property was brought more into favor late in 1903. Of the 10,000 additional conveyances which have been recorded during the year, about one-half are concerned with property situated in the Bronx, and the other half with property situated in Manhattan. The Bronx shows, consequently, the larger proportionate increase; but Manhattan holds its own very well. The total assessed value of the Manhattan property conveyed amounts to about $715,000,000, which is an average of $32,500 for each parcel. It is interesting to note that the average price of each parcel of Manhattan real estate transferred has increased about $10,000 in fifteen years.

The Mortgage Market.

The mortgage branch of the real estate market has been in a very peculiar condition throughout the year. During the first six months its activity was even greater than the corresponding activity in buying and selling real estate, because the current building operations called for the lending of very large sums of money at high rates of interest. Furthermore, the enactment of the law taxing all mortgages recorded after June 30th resulted in an artificial stimulus of the business before July 1st, and an equally artificial reaction after that date; and this artificial reaction was increased by the scarcity of loanable funds, which was created during the fall for a combination of general prosperity with stock speculation. The consequence has been that although a much larger sum of money was loaned during the year 1905 than during the year 1904, the increase took place entirely during the first six months of the year. Since July 1st there has been a regular weekly decrease both in the number of mortgages recorded and in the amount of money loaned; and the mortgages made have carried with them an increased rate of interest, amounting, on the average, to a larger percentage than that of the tax. These decreases have taken place in spite of the fact that there was no diminution in the percentage of increase in the transfers recorded. Wherever possible existing mortgages were assigned, instead of new mortgages negotiated, and this condition will continue as long as the mortgage tax remains in force. In spite, however, of the obstacles which have been encountered during the past six months in the lending of money on real estate, the totals for the year make a very impressive showing. Some, 30,659 mortgages were entered at the Register's office, against only 21,502 during the preceding year, an increase of about 50 per cent. The amount of money loaned also increased from about $343,000,000 to about $560,000,000, the percentage of increase in this item amounting to almost 70 per cent. In 1904 each mortgage carried with it an average sum of about 23,000, whereas during the past year the average was almost $28,000. The Bronx naturally received more than its proportionate share of this increase. Almost $86,000,000 was loaned on Bronx property in 1905, against less than $40,000,000 in 1904, and the percentage of increase was consequently about 115 per cent. It may be remarked that this also was just about the percentage of increase in the money spent in the Bronx on new buildings.

Activity in Building.

Remarkable, however, as the activity has been in the conveying and lending branches of the real estate market, the activity in building construction has been even more remarkable. In order to show how, the figures for the past year compare with those of previous years, we have prepared the accompanying table, which tells its own story with the utmost conceivable emphasis:

	Manhattan.		The Bronx.		Brooklyn.
	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.
1905 ..	2,516	$123,830,000	2,269	$38,265,000	8,576	$69,471,919
1904 ..	1,402	74,932,600	1,671	23,144,500	5,793	39,872,740
1903 ..	988	74,070,400	766	7,104,514	3,914	23,538,837

It will be seen from this table that the total amount of money called for by the new buildings projected during 1905 in the three leading boroughs of the Greater New York was not far from $230,000,000, while only two years ago the corresponding total was only $105,000,000. In 1904 the buildings projected called for an expenditure of about $139,000,000. The figures for this year are larger by far than during any previous year in the history of the city. The only years which can be named in the same class are 1901 and 1899, when the totals for the three boroughs were about $150,000,000, but in both of these years the figures were inflated by attempts to anticipate changes in the building or tenement house laws, and an unusually large proportion of the projected buildings were never actually constructed. It is safe to say that the year 1905 witnessed an amount of money spent in the three larger boroughs larger by 75 per cent. than the amount of money spent in any other year in the history of the city; and this activity was shared by all of the boroughs named. In Manhattan the plans filed during 1905 called for the expenditure of 66 per cent. more money than the plans filed either in 1904 or in 1903. In Brooklyn the plans filed in 1905 called for the expenditure of 50 per cent. more money than the plans filed in 1904, and for almost 200 per cent. more than the plans filed in 1903. It is the Bronx, however, which shows the most extraordinary increase. More than five times as much money has been planned to be spent in 1905 than the sum planned to be spent only two years ago, in 1903. Such an increase as this means practically a revolution in conditions, and it is only the beginning.

The classification of the building records for 1905 shows clearly how well distributed has been the constructional activity of the year, both in respect to the kind of buildings projected and in respect to their location. We give herewith a table showing the number and the cost of the different types of business and residential structures from 1905 to 1902:

	1905.		1904.		1903.		1902.
	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.
Office buildings .....	13	$6,445,000	10	$3,849,000	31	$7,712,500	30	$10,929,000
Lofts, factories, etc. ....	210	22,993,000	176	13,406,500	182	18,106,000	170	19,264,000
Hotels .....	14	5,230,000	10	3,095,000	28	9,426,000	46	21,070,000
Apartments and tenements ..	1,366	83,574,000	714	45,186,500	442	23,204,000	238	14,947,000
Private residences .....	88	4,122,000	61	2,014,500	56	2,881,000	130	8,161,000

It will be seen from the foregoing table that under each item in the classification a substantial increase has taken place. The amount of money to be invested in office buildings is larger by over one-half. The amount of money to be invested in miscellaneous business buildings is not only larger by 75 per cent. than it was during the preceding year, but it is larger than during any previous year in the history of the city. It has, indeed, been an extraordinary year in the construction of loft and factory buildings, particularly in that part of the city between 14th and 59th streets. A large part of this building has been done on Fifth avenue. There are no less than ten corners on Fifth avenue between 16th and 46th streets now being improved with buildings between nine and fifteen stories in height, which will cost about $8,000,000. The erection of sky-scrapers on the avenue is the inevitable result of the high level of prices recently established, which necessitates the erection of tall buildings in order that a sufficient income may be secured from the property. A revival also has taken place in the building of hotels. The increase in the amount of money to be spent on this class of building is, however, the result of the filing of plans for the new Plaza Hotel. There are no indications that apartment hotels will again be built in anything like the same numbers that they were in 1901 and 1902. Even the building of private residences has been more active than during any year since 1902, but its character has not radically changed. So far only a few rows of private dwellings have been projected for Washington Heights, and the great majority of new dwellings continue to be expensive houses built to the east and south of Central Park by people who propose to occupy them.

The great bulk of the money which is being invested in new buildings goes, however, into apartment and tenement houses. Fully three-quarters of the total amount of money called for by the plans for new Manhattan buildings is spent upon tenements, while in the Bronx, out of $38,000,000 which in round numbers is being spent upon new buildings, no less than $28,000,000 is used for tenements. We give herewith a table showing the distribution of tenement-house building in 1905 compared to 1904:

	1905.		1904.
	No.	Cost.	No.	Cost.
South of 14th street .....	85	$3,120,000	174	$7,466,500
14th to 59th streets .....	50	3,427,000	51	3,384,500
East Side, N. of 59th street...	470	20,130,500	213	9,697,500
West Side, 59th to 125th street	95	13,560,000	98	11,171,000
Harlem .....	249	11,329,500	185	8,896,000
Washington Heights .....	417	22,007,000	90	4,336,000
Bronx .....	694	28,250,500	479	15,001,200

The foregoing table affords some very useful information respecting the tendencies of tenement house building in Manhattan. The existing movement is well distributed throughout the borough; but there are certain sections which are increasing in their availability for this class of improvement, and others which are decreasing. Thus there has been an actual decrease in the number of tenements erected south of 14th st, which shows that the pressure of population on space in that thriving quarter is not as bad as it used to be. Between 14th and 59th the amount of money spent during each of the two years is just about the same. On the West Side fewer new apartment houses were projected in 1905 than in 1904, but these fewer buildings were estimated to cost $2,400,000 more, which indicates that the average new tenement erected on the West Side is constantly becoming a more costly affair. The figures for Harlem show a fair increase over those for the preceding year, but the increase is not unusually large. It is the upper East Side and Washington Heights which have been the popular districts for tenement house construction. The figures for the East Side show an increase of 100 per cent. over those of the preceding year, while those for Washington Heights are almost six times as big. A larger number of tenements (470 against 417) have been projected for the East Side, but the 417 buildings planned for the Heights cost $2,000,000 more than the 470 buildings planned for the East Side. As the amount of land available for improvement on the Heights is much larger than in any other section of Manhattan, the time is plainly foreshadowed when more money will be spent for new tenements on Washington Heights than in all the rest of Manhattan borough.

One further point deserves attention. It will be observed from the foregoing tables that plans have been filed during the past year for some 2,060 brick tenements to be erected in Manhattan and the Bronx. Now assuming that each of these buildings will accommodate 100 inhabitants, which is an under rather than an over-estimate, it means that living accommodations are being provided for 200,000 additional people in these two boroughs alone. We cannot give the corresponding figures for Brooklyn, but it is fair to estimate that what with the new frame tenements and the individual residences under construction in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, accommodations will be provided for 80,000 additional inhabitants. Inasmuch as the annual increase of population is less than half of 280,000, it is probable that the effects of over-building will become evident during 1906, and that the movement will be checked.

Who Shall Pay the Tax?

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

A mortgage for $1,000,000 at 4 per cent. for five years (on Aldrich Court, No. 45 Broadway, arranged through me with the New York Life Insurance & Trust Co.), recorded to-day, contained the following clauses:

"The mortgagor agrees, in addition to the interest to be paid on this bond and mortgage, to pay the mortgage tax levied upon this bond and mortgage under Chapter 729 of the Laws of 1905, or any act supplemental thereto or amendatory thereof, or any other tax that may be hereafter levied on said bond and mortgage or the debt secured thereby, as the same becomes due and payable, and in default of such payment, the mortgagee shall pay the same with any penalties or interest accrued thereon or expenses connected therewith, and the amounts so paid shall become part of the mortgage debt, and be a lien on the land herein described and secured by this mortgage, and shall bear interest from the date of such payment at the rate herein specified as to the said principal sum.

"It is hereby further agreed by the parties hereto that if at any time or times before said bond is paid, any new law or laws affecting this mortgage be enacted which shall render illegal the agreement to pay the mortgage tax or taxes above referred to, then said bond and this mortgage shall, at the option of the mortgagee, or mortgagor, be payable upon the expiration of sixty days after written notice to the owner of the mortgaged premises or the holder of the mortgage debt as the case may be.

"It is agreed that upon the payment by the mortgagee of any mortgage tax, together with any penalties or interest accrued thereon or expenses connected therewith, the amount so paid, together with six per cent. interest thereon from the date of payment shall be returned by the mortgagor to the mortgagee within thirty days after demand therefor made on the mortgagor, otherwise the whole of the said principal sum shall become due at the option of the mortgagee."

The validity of this mortgage is warranted by the title companies. The aforesaid clauses take care of any future as well as present legislation as to mortgage taxation. They were fixed after careful and laborious work on the part of some of the best legal talent in our State.

Do you not think that it would be wise for mortgagees hereafter to have mortgagors make mortgages as a corporation, insert these clauses in the mortgage, and in that way get away from the constant trouble we are having to get loans from these people who do not want to be subject to a mortgage tax?

Besides, the result will be that in the repeal of the mortgage tax the mortgagor will be relieved from the excess interest which he would otherwise have to pay if the mortgage and interest were made for a term of years.

This last is quite an important consideration and should be carefully considered by real estate men as a factor in the present arguments as to "who shall pay the tax."

S. H. STONE.

It is certainly provided in the new Mortgage Tax Law that "in the case of trust mortgages made by corporations the terms of which require the mortgagor or the owner of the mortgaged property to pay the tax imposed by this article, or to deduct the same from the interest upon the mortgage debt, the mortgagor or the owner of the mortgaged property, as the case may be, shall be liable for the tax, and the trust mortgagee shall not be under or subject to any of the obligations and liabilities imposed by this section, and any taxes imposed by this article shall be a lien upon the mortgaged property prior to the lien of the trust mortgage, as well as upon the trust mortgage and the debt or obligation thereby secured." (Section 302.)

But again, by Section 309 it is provided that

"Any contract or agreement in respect to any mortgage, obligation or deed of trust, OTHER than mortgage obligation and deeds of trust executed by corporations, by which the mortgagor shall agree or be bound to pay the tax or any part thereof imposed by this article shall be usurious and void, and no judgment shall be obtained in any court of this State upon any obligation or mortgage subject to the tax imposed by this article when it shall be made to appear that there has at any time been any agreement that the mortgagor should pay such tax or any part thereof, or that the mortgagor has made any payment in pursuance of any such agreement."

It therefore appears that "mortgage obligation and deeds of trust executed by corporations" are especially excepted from the penalties imposed on agreements by which the mortgagor or owner of the land is to pay the tax, and a corporation might be formed as suggested by our correspondent to execute and issue mortgages providing legally for the payment of the mortgage tax by itself or any subsequent owner of the mortgaged land.

It will be noticed that while Section 309 allows tax payment to be agreed to be made on any "mortgage obligation" executed by corporations, Section 302 makes exception only in favor of trust mortgages made by corporations, and the later section might be limited to this more confined construction by the courts; both these sections being evidently intended to exempt from the general operation of the Tax Law, but one and the same thing.

Even in respect to these, whether trust mortgages, or any kind of mortgage which may be executed by a corporation, it was clearly the intention of the Legislature to provide under Section 302 for the deduction of the tax so paid by the corporation or subsequent owner from the interest to be paid upon the mortgage indebtedness to the beneficiary thereof, the use of the word "or" for "and" producing the only doubt as to this otherwise expressly expressed intention. And there is nowhere any escape from the fact that when in fact not paid by anybody, the tax is made a lien upon the trust mortgage also.

But whether provided to be paid by the owner of the land or not, no one doubts that the tax on a past due mortgage will always be found to be paid by the owner of the land as carefully as the main tax on the land itself—this little favor being gladly extended to a mortgagee who might otherwise find it in his heart to "want his money."

Need of Protection for Brokers.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

Through the columns of your valuable paper we would present to the real estate world in general, as well as those interested in the making of laws for the protection of all legitimate business men, one of the vital defects in our present laws, which leaves the real estate broker at the mercy of unscrupulous buyers of property, who do not hesitate to make a broker exert his power, influence and business ability, which it has taken many years to acquire, and which is his only stock in trade, and deliberately rob him of the fruits of the same, without the broker having any apparent redress in the real estate laws as they exist at present in this State.

One very flagrant case which we are about to quote should arouse the indignation of all real estate men who believe that it is just as great a crime to rob a man of the fruits of his labor as it is to rob him of the merchandise in his store. A certain tradesman recently turned real estate speculator, calls various times at the office of a real estate broker who has been in business for more than 20 years and gets from him a large list of houses for examination. The procuring of these houses among others for sale have cost the broker a considerable outlay of money in the form of store rent, clerks, canvassers, typewriters, etc. How many of these houses the buyer may have derived a profit from before taking title it is impossible to find out, but one certain day he calls in the morning at the office and evinces a great interest in two pieces of property previously submitted, one of which was an Amsterdam av corner and the other a house in West 125th st.

At his request the broker goes with him to show him through the same, and devotes his entire day to dissecting both propositions, so as to leave no doubt in the buyer's mind as to their desirability. In fact, in this special case the broker has pointed out more strongly than he would have ordinarily whatever defects there may have been in either proposition, thinking that if he would show his fairness he would make of this buyer a friendly customer. He did not know, however, that the buyer was simply using the broker's experience, time and labor toward helping his own pocket. The buyer offers a certain figure immediately for the 125th st house and sends the broker to the owner, who lived near by, to close the transaction. The owner being out, the broker makes an appointment to meet him at his office late in the afternoon, returns to the buyer, and is confronted with a demand, first for one-half of his commission, then for $100 of it and finally for $50 of it, all of which he refuses to give up. He tells the buyer, however, that he will try to save him something on the purchase price below his offer, and at the last moment, after very hard effort and labor, actually succeeds in getting the owner down to a figure $100 less than he authorized him to buy for it. An appointment is made to draw contract, and the buyer does not appear.

On the other proposition the same buyer takes up the broker's entire forenoon, goes through every apartment with him, from cellar to roof. The broker uses his influence with the janitor to disclose to him any defects or undesirable tenants, and to give him the actual rents of each and every store and apartment in the building, and compares them with the owner's statement of rents procured by the broker—all at the buyer's request, thus making him do an amount of work which under any just and equitable law ought to entitle him to and protect him as a citizen and taxpayer in reaping the fruit of his labor should the buyer purchase the building, which in this case he eventually did, through another channel, leaving the broker out of the transaction.

At an interview which took place immediately after the announcement of his purchase in the newspapers, the buyer acknowledged in the presence of a witness that the broker did take him through the building and did devote his time and attention to him, and that he did, at the buyer's request, communicate with the owner after this for still further particulars of this proposition, but he offered no excuse for his conduct in subsequently buying the same without mentioning this broker, and said that he knew the law would not protect the broker in this instance.

We would suggest through your valuable columns that some action be taken by the reputable real estate brokers of this city to petition the Legislature to pass a law which would allow the broker to sue and to recover from the buyer in such a case for the services rendered, even though he had no previous agreement with the buyer for payment of services.

Opinions from honest brokers as to the advisability of making a test case of this proposition would be of great value if published through the columns of your esteemed paper. We would be willing to stand as the instigators of such action if we knew that we had the support of the reputable real estate community.

Yours respectfully,

Expert Testimony in Condemnation Proceedings.

By CHARLES GRIFFITH MOSES.*

It has always seemed to me that the highest grade of real estate work is expert appraising, and that this department more than any other raises the real estate business nearer to a profession. It is extremely difficult to stand here and lay down any rule or series of rules as to how to testify as an expert in a condemnation proceeding, or to give you by note any method of preparing yourself for the ordeal; and it is an ordeal, I can assure you, until you become more or less callous to the searching cross-examinations of a bright and able assistant corporation counsel, or the sometimes very pertinent questions of a conscientious commissioner. But I will try to give you a few pointers gathered from my own experience and from the experience of some of my preceptors, which I hope may be of some value to you. In the first place, I will give you a brief outline of what happens when a piece of real estate is taken for public purposes by condemnation under the laws of eminent domain.

I won't go into the preliminary legal steps, as that part of the proceedings does not concern the witness, although it is very useful and valuable for him to learn. We shall start after the various city departments, the Local Board, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the Supreme Court, the Commissioners and the Corporation Counsel have gotten matters under way. Briefly, after the three commissioners have been appointed, have organized, viewed the premises and received proof of title, they are ready for the witness. The attorneys for the property owner whose real estate is to be taken put witnesses on the stand and endeavor to prove by them the fair market value of the land or buildings, or land and buildings, affected, as the case may be. Then the Corporation Counsel, through one of his assistants, cross-examines the witnesses for the property owners. Then the City puts its witnesses on the stand, and they in turn are cross-examined by the various attorneys for the property owners. Then the commissioners fix the amount to be paid the property owner, and finally the report of the commissioners is presented before a Justice of the Supreme Court for confirmation. Some reports are confirmed at once and some sent back for review and change, for various reasons. This all seems simple enough, but don't think that it is, and that the months and months, and often years, through which an apparently little street opening or school site proceeding seems to drag along is time wasted, because, as a rule, it is not. There are a thousand and one legal points and twists and theories to be argued and discussed, and ruled on, and objected to, and excepted to, before a final result is obtained. Now as to the experts' part in all this:

Firstly, and of most importance, you must know your subject. You must be able to appraise the real estate taken in the proceeding in which you are employed. You must be sure of your values, and here is the meat of the whole thing: You must be able to PROVE the values that you are sure of. Some of the best and ablest and most experienced appraisers in the city make very poor witnesses, because they can't prove what they know to be true. In my opinion, the best witnesses are those that confine themselves to one particular section of the city or one character of real estate. The reason for this is quite obvious, for no one man, I don't care who he is, can possibly keep posted on all parts of the city, and can know the real estate happenings both at Hunt's Point and lower Broadway as well as the two men who make each of those sections his specialty. If a man in his mind's eye can see the surroundings of a piece of property in question, not only the very block, but the district, a mile in every direction, and can call to mind automatically, as it were, the character of the buildings and improvements, the recent changes, the contemplated improvements, the most recent sales, leases and mortgages, and the true consideration of the inside history of these transactions, his testimony carries ten times more weight and conviction than the answer of the witness who can't remember, or isn't sure, or who hesitates, or makes mistakes of facts.

The simplest and most effective way of proving the value of a conventional regular-sized piece of property is by quoting sales of similar pieces in the immediate vicinity or in a similar location. This is not always possible, for various reasons. First, there may not have been any recent sales analogous to the plot in question, or if there has been such a sale it may be at a figure below or above its actual value by reason of special considerations. The knowledge that there was some reason for a sale at a figure above or below what you consider the market value comes only to those that know the real estate happenings of their special section. For ordinary appraising the price at which property is held in a certain section or vicinity, and actual offers that you know have been made and refused, would be, and are justly so, good guides to and criterions of value; but they would not be admitted as competent before a commissioner. Right here I might say that a good working knowledge of the rules of evidence is a very handy and valuable adjunct to the expert. Many a time I have had an opportunity to get in an answer to a question that I knew well would be ruled out on objections as incompetent, immaterial or irrelevant, and, while such answer was ruled out, I got it before the commissioners, and, although technically they could not consider it, they certainly had it called to their attention, and indirectly it must have carried some weight.

Lack of sales in some neighborhoods does not necessarily mean that there is no demand for property in that section, but frequently means that there is little or no property there that is in the market for sale. As in sections such as the heart of the financial districts, where property is held by rich corporations or firms for their own occupancy for business, or by old estates, many of which will not or cannot sell for legal reasons; or in the high-class residence districts, where most of the dwellings are occupied by their owners, who do not care to sell at any figure; or in some neighborhood (especially the outlying ones) that are in a transition stage and where the owners are willing and able to hold until the new order of things becomes an accomplished fact and a new basis of value obtains. In such cases where sales are few or figures such as do not on the surface represent the actual values, an expert must fall back on his general knowledge, and if in his qualification he has shown that he is thoroughly familiar with the neighborhood, his general knowledge carries weight; but if he has not so shown familiarity, much of the effect on the commissioners is lost.

Frequently a witness is asked on cross-examination if he knows of such and such a sale at possibly a wide divergence in price from that which he quoted as his basis of value. Then again his familiarity with the section stands him in good stead. He must know the whys and wherefores of this sale. If improved, what kind of a building is erected there. It may be that it is a superior improvement to that on the piece he is testifying about; or, on the other hand, it may be inferior. It may be that, while the building is a good one, it is not a proper improvement for the land; as a dwelling in a business section, or a very fine building in a neighborhood calling for cheap improvement. If vacant property, there may be a host of reasons why the figure is above or below the one he uses as a basis. For example, physical conditions, such as high rock, or bad bottom, or vice versa, as compared to the plot in question; or perchance it is a small lot between two substantial buildings, the owners of neither of which care to buy and which lot by itself is too small for adequate and proper improvement. These things, I repeat, the expert must know.

I have always found that in quoting sales the little phrase, "I have sold," carries much more conviction and weight with commissioners than the quotation of sales made by others. This, too, bears out my belief in localization, because the man who testifies in neighborhoods where his principal business is done can surely quote more of his own sales in that vicinity than the one who will testify as to values of property all over town.

SHORT LOTS.

Many real estate men differ as to the relative values of short lots or long lots, or irregular plots, or easements, or plottage, or added value for improvements. No fixed rule as to the handling of these different subjects can be made, except that one's own experience must develop certain facts that either prove or disprove one's theories on these varied phases. I strongly advise the working out of theories that can be proven and made to hold water and then sticking to them. The use of the Hoffman and the Harmon Neil rules must be understood thoroughly and their use intelligently applied, or they will prove boomerangs. These rules, while by no means perfect, are, I think, the only standards recognized at all whereby the values of frontage and rearage may be compared. These rules sometimes work very well and equitably in certain cases and are valueless in others, so care must be taken in using and applying them; that what worked well and smoothly in one case may not be brought up against one in another case where it is not applicable. This holds good for many theories about conditions which may add to or detract from the value of land. For example, a double frontage may add very little to the value of certain classes of private dwellings or cheap tenements, but may be of immense advantage to certain kinds of business buildings, or office buildings, or high-class apartment houses. To return for a moment to the Hoffman rule, I think that an experience of my own may be interesting. One of the brightest and ablest of the assistants in the Corporation Counsel's office in the Bureau of Street Openings had always attacked my use of the Hoffman rule in relation to certain kinds of land. He had always given me a great deal of trouble in maintaining my position, which, though I felt sure of myself, I could not prove by the "I have sold" method. Finally a transaction came up in my office whereby the owner of certain rear land desired to purchase land between his and the nearest street to give him frontage for his comparatively inaccessible property.

The owner of the frontage desired to sell, as his front land was hardly deep enough to use by itself. The two, however, could not agree on a price, so I suggested the application of the Hoffman rule. This was agreed to, and I effected the sale on that basis, so the next time that I was under cross-examination by my friend, the aforesaid assistant Corporation Counsel, and applied the Hoffman rule, I was able to use the "I have sold" argument, and it proved a clincher. Since then I have sold several pieces, both frontage and rearage, where the price was based absolutely on this rule.

The Fashionable Residential Section.

FIFTH AV. FROM 72D ST TO 90TH ST.

No. 4.

It is obvious even to the mere superficial observer that there is only one residential section of New York that must always have a permanent character of its own as the home of select, cultured, fashionable and distinguished people. It is that property located on upper 5th av, extending from 72d to 90th sts, opposite Central Park. No other city in the United States nor in Europe has so peculiarly favored a location for the very highest class of residence. What makes the present and prospective value so great is the small quantity of this choice property remaining and the very limited area of it as a whole.

It is certain that in the very near future this section of 5th av with its stately and palatial mansions will be looked upon as unique in respect to its superiority in exclusiveness over any other aristocratic residential district of the city. Moreover, each house has practically its own grounds in the shape of Central Park.

No car tracks can ever mar the smoothness of the roadway of the avenue, and commerce will not disturb the aristocratic placidity of this part of the thoroughfare. In short the situation is ideal for all that wealth can command or ambition desire in a princely home in this great metropolis.

There are other picturesque and delightful parts of New York, but they have greater or lesser drawbacks as choice residential quarters either by being exposed to cold winds or not being easily accessible in severe winters when snow covers the ground for any length of time. The restricted location on upper 5th av, namely from 72d st to 90th st, has among other advantages that of being with an easy driving distance of the opera, theater, hotel and shopping district, thus making its apparent inaccessibility greatly in its favor. The wealthy people who own and dwell in these mansions demand an exclusive neighborhood not gridironed with car tracks or in too close proximity to the Subway or elevated railroad stations.

It was stated in one of this series of articles that there had been a decided improvement in the demand for the little left in the market and that doubtless in the near future it would all be taken up. It may now be said that at any rate since the advent of the new year the inquiry is such as to indicate that all that remains will quickly be disposed of at much higher figures than heretofore. Indeed some real estate experts assert that at present opportunities are offered to buyers that they are not likely to see again.

Another remarkable feature about this particular residential property is that superb mansions of almost palatial character have been erected here at a lavish expenditure by some builders from architectural designs by leading architects. No such condition of things exist in other cities at home or abroad. The very wealthy man like Mr. Carnegie, who wishes to build a fine mansion, usually calls in an architect who submits plans and designs which are subject to such changes, alterations or modifications according to the taste, ideas or fancy of the property owner.

This is now scarcely necessary as some of these residences were projected to meet the demands of America's best people. And to make these houses worthy of the unequalled site, advantage has been taken of every recent production of science and skill, besides which many novel and meritorious improvements have been introduced.

Certainly it is only in New York that new, ready-built palatial mansions in the strict sense of the word are offered for sale.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

BUILDING MATERIALS IN 1905

By FRANCIS N. HOWLAND

President of the Association of Dealers in Masons' Building Materials.

After one of the greatest years experienced in the New York building material trade, the year of 1905 is to a close, and all parties interested in Building Material affairs are anxiously wondering, "what is the harvest to be."

The manufacturers of brick have no reason to complain of the situation up to the present writing, as an average cost to the dealer for the year of $8.35 per thousand, and an advance to $10 per thousand at this time, has resulted in fat bank accounts and a general feeling that they are the favored ones of earth.

The Portland cement makers have been more conservative than the brick manufacturers, and in the face of an enormous demand and hard work to keep up the supply, have kept prices down to a fair figure, and are not charging more for their output than they could be expected to do under existing circumstances. The desire to keep out the foreign cement may have been a very solid reason for keeping the prices where they are, and may have some effect in regulating future prices.

The Rosendale cement people have had a steady demand for all their output, and are to be congratulated for the very prompt manner of filling orders, and the self-denial exercised in not advancing prices in face of the general advance in other material. The purveyors of lime have had their carrying capacity tested to the utmost to keep up with the demand on them, and have kept prices to a fair figure when we consider their product was taken, in nearly all cases, on arrival.

The plaster and lath interests have received their share of existing demands, and have been compelled to advance rates to quite a marked extent, the latter to an asking rate of nearly $6 per thousand, and in face of small arrivals and heavy demand, there may be an advance on that.

In view of the very high prices of some of the material, as shown above, and the advance in labor, I should advise consumers of material and those who engage skilled labor, to do as little as possible until such time as the supply comes nearer to the demand on it, for unless a halt is called I look for very serious trouble in the near future, more especially with the speculative section of the business.

The Labor Situation.

As yet the strike of the housesmiths and bridgemen in this city, against all employers, in or out of the associations, is not viewed with alarm in general real estate and business circles. Ordinarily, outside work is expected to be well-nigh suspended at this season, and many iron contracts had recently been closed out; the strike will have to be prolonged for some weeks before any really severe consequences will mature. Several firms having jobs which they are required to close out, have granted the demand made upon them for a higher wage, but none of these is a member of either of the associations.

New men have been taking the places of the strikers with some degree of rapidity, and the employers are confident that most of the number needed at this time will be forthcoming. On the other hand, the union leaders assert that no union man has given in. They are receiving from the International Union a weekly stipend which, coming at a season when they expected to be idle through the inclemency of the weather, is said to be a strong inducement to continue the strike.

Other trades have not yet been affected, and on the whole no setback is foreseen which might not have been caused any winter by extreme weather. School work is not likely to be delayed much, as no riveting is required, and it is thought that it will be easy to get enough handy men to take the places of strikers, a number of the school buildings having structural ironwork to do.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad will build a freight yard on the Harlem River at 149th st, having bought six acres of land. The property was bought about five years ago by the Subway Construction Co. for $425,000. It is said that the Lehigh Valley Co. will start immediately to build bulkheads and otherwise improve the property, so that the road may be able to more efficiently supply the growing needs of the North Side. Heretofore the Lehigh Valley has shipped its freight into the Bronx by way of the Harlem terminus of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

Prospective Building.

The following is a list of building enterprises for New York City that may be expected within the year 1906. For some, plans are now under way; for others, no architects have yet been selected; and in some cases the sites have not been secured. The first name is the owner's; the second, that of the architect; the third, the contractor's; the date is the date of announcement in the Record and Guide.

WASHINGTON AV.—Goldner & Goldberg, Westchester and Jackson avs, are making plans for a 5-sty flat, 50x87.2, for Harry Lehr, 190 Beach av, to be erected on the east side of Washington av, 94.8 ft. south of Wendover av, Bronx, to cost $50,000.

CATHEDRAL PARKWAY—Thain & Thain, 4 East 42d st, are preparing plans for a 6-sty 24-family flat, 75x59.11, for Max Hirshfield, 1454 Amsterdam av, to be erected on the south side of Cathedral Parkway, 100 ft. west of Manhattan av, to cost $24,000.

135TH ST.—Sussman & Halpin, 158-160 East 113th st, will build a row of six 6-sty, 25-family flat buildings, 45.10x86.11, on the south side of 135th st, 100 ft. west of Amsterdam av, to cost a total of $276,000. Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, is preparing plans.

SOUTHERN BOULEVARD—Wm. Wainwright, 1042 Macy pl, Bronx, will build on the west side of Southern Boulevard, 100 ft. south of St. John st, Bronx, five 5-sty flats, 50x108, to cost about $300,000. Moore & Landsiedel, 3d av and 148th st, are making plans.

AMSTERDAM AV.—Isaac & Henry Mayer, 100 West 119th st, will build on the west side of Amsterdam av, between 172d and 173d sts, a row of five 6-sty high-class apartment houses, for 30 families each, to cost a total of about $230,000. Neville & Bagge, 217 West 125th st, are making plans.

Factories.

Another large manufacturing corporation has decided to establish a mammoth plant along the Hudson River shore, and furnish employment to hundreds of artisans of Hudson County. The Larkin Company, soapmakers, perfumers, chemists, refiners and importers, with factories and general offices at Buffalo, N. Y., branch factories at Peoria, Ill., and local branches at 4 White st and 239 West Broadway, New York City, and also in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Cleveland, has bought a large tract of Hudson River shore front, just south of the new factories which are being erected by James Pyle & Son, manufacturers of pearline, in the Edgewater section of North Bergen, and will build thereon a large factory, which, while it will not be the main factory, will be almost as large as the present plant in Buffalo.

Mercantile.

5TH AV.—No architect has yet been commissioned for the new 11-sty office building, which Simon Frankel, jeweler, Nassau st, will build at the southeast corner of 5th av and 47th st, a plot 50x100, opposite the Windsor Arcade. The present building is covered by several leaseholds. Work will commence upon their expiration.

Miscellaneous.

Messrs. Eidlitz & McKenzie, 1123 Broadway, are preparing plans for a 2-sty fireproof telephone building, 30x70, for the Empire State Telephone Co., 15 Dey st, Manhattan, to be erected at Hornellsville, N. Y.

Estimates Receivable.

20TH ST.—Charles Brogan, 117th st and Sedgwick av, wants figures on all sub-contracts for the 10-sty loft building, 50x100, which he will build at Nos. 36-38 West 20th st, from plans by Messrs. Neville & Bagge, 217 West 125th st.

63D ST.—Figures will be called for soon for the erection of the 3-sty hook and ladder house, 50x75.4, for the City, to be erected at Nos. 142-144 West 63d st, at a cost of $60,000. Werner & Windolph, 27 West 33d st, are the architects.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—Chas. E. Miller, 1947 Broadway, is taking bids on the general contract for the 9-sty elevator apartment house, 35x80, which Mrs. Albertina Miller will build at Nos. 65-68 Riverside Drive, from plans by Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av. R. E. Moss, 12 Elm st, is steel engineer.

WATER ST.—No contract has yet been awarded for the 4-sty stable building, 25x95, which Robert H. Noble, 18 Jackson st, will build at No. 672 Water st, at a cost of $20,000. One old building will be demolished. Plans by John H. Friend, 148 Alexander av, Bronx, call for a brick front, vitrified terra cotta coping, slag roof, galvanized iron skylights, etc.

35TH ST.—Plans are ready for figures for $15,000 worth of alterations and improvements to the 5-sty dwelling and store building, No. 22 West 35th st, for which Brandt & Mooney, 169 East 85th st, are architects, and R. L. Spotts, Boston rd, Bronx, the owner. Edward L. Kumke, of 134 West 23d st, is the lessee. Plans call for a 4-sty front and rear extension, 21x10, elevator, partitions, etc.

BROADWAY.—No contracts have yet been awarded for the 4-sty garage building, 116.2x138.4x79.11½, which the E. R. Thomas Realty Co., Times Building, 42d st and Broadway, will build at the southeast corner of Broadway and 63d st, at a cost of $80,000. L. C. Holden, 1133 Broadway, is architect. Steam heat, galvanized iron and wire glass skylights, cornices, brick exterior, etc. J. E. Edsall is secretary of the company.

Contracts Awarded.

74TH ST.—Abraham Dan, 133 Madison st, has obtained the plumbing contract for extensive alterations to No. 492 East 74th st, for Weil & Mayer, 5 Beekman st, from plans by Samuel Gross, 348 East 84th st; $4,000.

73D ST.—Weil & Mayer, 5 Beekman st, have awarded to Abraham Dan, 133 Madison st, the plumbing contract for extensive alterations to Nos. 223-225 East 73d st, for which Samuel Gross, 348 East 84th st, is architect; $4,000.

149TH ST.—The Thompson-Starrett Co., 49 Wall st, has received the general contract to build the 2-sty fireproof switch house, 50x100, at the foot of 149th st and the East River for the New York Central & Hudson River R. R. Co., from plans by Reed & Stem, 5 East 42d st.

LENOX AV.—Reinhardt Bros., 645 5th st, have received the contract for extensive alterations to the 3-sty store and office building, southeast corner of Lenox av. and 125th st, for the Marion Realty Co., 144 Water st., of which S. Solomon is president. E. A. Meyers, 1 Union sq, is architect.

WILLIAM ST.—Edward Corning Co., 656 Broadway, has obtained the general contract for building the 12-sty side extension, installing new stairways, partitions, etc., to the 12-sty loft and office building at the southwest corner of William and Duane sts, for the Rhinelander Real Estate Co., 31 Nassau st, to cost about $100,000. Messrs. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st, are the architects.

24TH ST.—The J. B. & J. M. Cornell Co., 26th st and 11th av, has obtained the steel contract for the 11-sty loft building, 128x98, which the Franmor Realty Co., 1855 7th av, will erect on a plot 128.6½x87, at Nos. 207 to 217 West 24th st, at a cost of $350,000. No other contract has been awarded. Messrs. Schickel & Ditmars, 111 5th av, are the architects. For full building particulars and officers, see issue Oct. 21, 1905.

BUILDING NOTES

The housesmith's philosophy: "Might better get paid for striking, than not paid when there's nothing doing."

The architectural firm of Horenburger & Straub was dissolved on Jan. 1st. The members of the firm announce that they will continue in business, each with offices at 122 Bowery.

Every man is a trustee, and a trustee only. Years before he died Charles T. Yerkes said: "The money I have made I don't consider my own at all. I am merely holding it in trust for the public good, to do as much good as I can."

The Skyscraper, a journal of building, in a sepia brown, rough-edged cover, printed on the daintiest paper, with wide margins, original pen-and-ink sketches, marginal references, and all the newest and nicest inventions of typographical composition, proclaims itself a work of art, and scarcely a medium of trade. But the Prospectus, and we must go by that, says the Skyscraper is devoted to the interests of those who build, whether as owners who pay the cost, or as builders who make their living by it. At first it will appear every two months, and afterwards possibly oftener. It will print articles and pictures, the articles being sometimes plain, every-day advertisements, and sometimes essays on subjects related to building construction that are believed to have general interest; the pictures will be of buildings erected by the Thompson-Starrett Co., and, generally speaking, the work of this organization will be the theme, but other people's work will be noted and recorded, if deemed interesting. The first number is taken up primarily with the subject of cost insurance. We look forward with pleasant anticipations to the visitations of this handsome-looking contemporary.

Following the announcement of a building operation by the McCormick Construction Co. on Dyckman st, near Broadway, in the Dyckman tract, the Bankers' Investing Co. announces that it has sold for a syndicate eight lots on the west side of Sherman av, size 200 x 150 ft., 100 ft. south of Academy st, to the Hanover Realty & Construction Co., which will begin at once the erection of five apartment houses, each 5 stys in height, 40 ft. wide and 138 ft. deep, on plots 40 x 150 ft. This property is within a block of the property purchased by the McCormick Construction Co. Both properties are within a block and a half of the Dyckman St. Station of the Subway line. This station is one of the largest and most complete on the Broadway branch of the Rapid Transit line and is just above the street level, the Subway coming out of the ground a few hundred feet south of the station. Dyckman st is the connecting link between the Speedway and Riverside Drive and is the natural center of the best portion of the Dyckman tract, and will soon become the center of the building operations of the Dyckman tract. The houses to be built in this section are being planned for the accommodation of clerks and families with children, as the neighborhood affords many advantages for them. There is a large school house within a block of the property just sold.

New Contracting Firm.

The Concrete-Steel Co., engineers and contractors for reinforced concrete construction, has been incorporated. John F. Havemeyer, of New York, is president; A. J. Redway, of Cincinnati, vice-president; Harry L. McGee, of New York secretary and treasurer. They are experienced concrete men and until recently held positions with the Standard Concrete-Steel Co., but have now organized their own company and have associated with them as chief engineer Mr. H. C. Miller, M. Am. Soc. C. E., who will have under him a corps of experienced and competent engineers. Mr. Miller has had long and valuable experience in reinforced concrete work and is one of the best known engineers in the country. He is the vice-president of the newly organized Concrete Association, and has engineered and constructed many large concrete buildings. The main office is located at No. 100 Broadway, New York City. In addition to this the company will operate a western office in Cincinnati, under the direction of Mr. A. J. Redway, who is the vice-president of the company. Mr. Miller will be located at No. 100 Broadway, New York City, while the engineering force of the western office will be supervised by Mr. Albert Witte, an engineer of wide experience and well known throughout the West. Mr. Witte personally engineered the construction of the famous 14-sty Ingalls Building in Cincinnati, the tallest concrete building in the country. He has also engineered many other large pieces of work in reinforced concrete.

The company is already at work erecting a large hospital near Cincinnati. On Dec. 26 last Mr. Miller conducted a very successful fire test at New Brunswick, which received the official approval of the New York and Philadelphia building departments, and the Concrete-Steel Company will have the use of this test.

Personal Mention.

By the will of Charles T. Yerkes it is decreed that upon the death of his widow his trustee (the Central Trust Co.) shall organize a corporation charged with the duty of erecting a free hospital in the Bronx to his memory, for which there will be then available the sum of several millions of dollars.

Mr. Wm. T. Butler, who is well known in real estate and building circles, starts for the Pacific Coast to represent the H. W. Johns-Manville Co. His headquarters will be at San Francisco, with branches at Los Angeles and Seattle.

As chairman of the Board of Directors of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, Charles S. Guthrie, who died suddenly at Salisbury, N. C., this week, was brought in close contact with the construction interests of New York. He had lived here about six years, and was a member of the Union, Tuxedo, Racquet and Lawyers' Club.

The Finance Department of the city government lost an able and brilliant head by the retirement of Comptroller Grout. In testimony thereof the employees presented him on his last day in office with a set of law books comprising two thousand volumes, and costing in the neighborhood of $3,000. The presentation took place in the auditor's room and all of the employees were present. The presentation speech was made by Deputy Controller James W. Stevenson, who was appointed bridge commissioner by Mayor McClellan. Mr. Grout is to resume the practice of law, and has opened offices at 111 Broadway, Manhattan, and 189 Montague st, Brooklyn.

Philip A. Smyth, prominent as a real estate broker and auctioneer, with offices at 141 Broadway, died suddenly on the evening of Dec. 31, of apoplexy, aged 50. He made his home at the Harlem Club, and he expired while returning from a dinner at the Catholic Club. Mr. Smyth was a prominent and successful man in his line of business, and had handled large properties. Some of the very largest transactions in the auction market during the past twenty years were carried out by him, and he was a large investor on his own account, especially in Bronx property. In the midst of his activities, at the height of his success, he was cut off. He was an expert in real estate affairs and highly esteemed for his personal and business friends. The funeral was from his brother's residence, 413 Greene av, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Jan. 3, and from the Church of the Nativity later. Among those who attended the service were members of the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association.

THIS illustrates the Power House of the Metropolitan Railway Company, at 96th Street and East River, New York City. It is considered, both from architectural and mechanical standpoints, one of the best examples of its class of building in this country. Among the several highly commendable features of this structure, the 'Architectural Iron Work, including window frames and sashes, stairs, railings, etc., all manufactured and installed by the Hecla Iron Works, stand out boldly as master specimens of mechanical handiwork.

The Hecla Iron Works are recognized as the first and foremost concern in the manufacture of Architectural Metal Work in the World. The plant is the largest and most complete, and the quality of its work is considered the standard, the world over.

North 10th, 11th and 12th Sts., from Wythe Ave. to Berry St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Moving a Stone Business.

Edward Walther, real estate operator, has sold for the Alger estate the property on Vernon avenue, Ravenswood, between Washington and Graham avs, 150x600, extending to the East River, to the Edwin Shuttleworth Co., cut stone contractors, 105th st and East River, Manhattan. It is understood the price was $70,000. The Edwin Shuttleworth Co. is one of the oldest and best-known concerns in the trade. Among contracts executed by the company are the group of buildings of the Mt. Sinai Hospital, 5th to Madison avs, 100th to 101st sts; Henry Phipps' residence (marble), 87th st and 5th av; the School of Mines Building, Columbia College. The firm have just been awarded the exterior marble work for the new Plaza Hotel, and propose to erect in their new yard one of the best-equipped exterior cut stone and marble establishments in the metropolitan district. When the new bridge is completed at 60th st the location of this yard will be ideal for handling heavy products, receiving them by water and landing them by a short haul right in the heart of New York City.

Seventy Million Dollars' Worth of New Buildings.

Nineteen hundred and five was a wonderful building year in Brooklyn. It is tame to say that it exceeded all previous years, and having in mind the absolute law of multiplication, and the certainty that the aggregates of the future will surpass those of the present time, it is scarcely wise to say more. The true relative standing in building history of any one year should be reckoned, not by totals, but by proportion. How much per capita was the expenditure for new buildings and alterations? With the growth of population the total number annually erected, and the total amount of money annually expended, will naturally increase with each succeeding decade.

The total expenditure for 1905 exceeded $70,000,000. In 1904 there were 15,346 permits recorded, and the total of the operations was $47,682,732. This was considered a remarkable year's business, for the year before the total of the operations was $26,000,000, and the average for five years before was $21,000,000. Brooklyn's building is mostly for homes, and Flatbush, South Brooklyn, East New York and Bay Ridge have seen the most of this work.

A New Operating Company.

The Fort Amsterdam Realty Co. has opened offices on the ninth floor of 128 Broadway, where a general operating business will be conducted. Telephone, 5163 Cortlandt.

Speaking of the United States Realty Company, Mr. Chesebrough is quoted as saying that if any mistakes had been made by the company they were on the side of conservatism, and had the company bought all the properties which had reached the stage of being considered by its executive committee, it would have made money in every instance.

Frothingham & Moore have lately sold the following properties at Onteora, N. Y.: for Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart, her cottage "Tiger Lily" to Mrs. J. N. A. Griswold; for Mis Mary Sharswood the larger house and stable and seven acres of land, known as the Gibson property; for Henry Martin, his cottage "Columbine" to Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart, and his cottage "Harbell" to Miss Sarah S. McEnery, and for Mrs. James W. Alexander's handsome cottage to Percy Griffin.

The "Record and Guide" Bureau of Information

On the first day of January, 1906, the "Record and Guide" will commence to issue a special Real Estate Information Service to all Persons who may Subscribe for the same.

This Service has been established at the request of a Number of the Leading Real Estate Brokers and Financial Institutions in this City, who to-day are unable to obtain really Prompt, Accurate, and Special real estate information.

The Management of the "Record and Guide" have very carefully investigated the Existing Needs of the Public and the real estate service, which the "Record and Guide" has organized, has been devised with an especial view to Actual Requirements.

By means of a Subscription to the "Record and Guide" Bureau of Information, Brokers and Others may equip their offices with a Complete Service of Real Estate Information at a cost of less than Three Dollars ($3.00) a week. For this amount, they will be supplied with the "Record and Guide Quarterly" (improved), the Names and Addresses of Property Owners, full use of the Bureau of Information, a weekly service for Index purposes of Conveyances with Names of Grantees and their Addresses, a weekly service concerning Mortgages, a weekly service of information contained in Wills so far as same relate to real estate, and other matters of importance.

The information supplied will be Full, Accurate, and Prompt. Arrangements have been made to avoid Unnecessary Delay of even an hour. The Service, moreover, has been rendered so Flexible that it is believed it will meet the Requirements of all offices and of any system that may now be in use.

The "Record and Guide" service has been so Devised that it necessitates a Minimum Amount of Space, a Minimum Amount of Filing, a Minimum Amount of Reference, and does away completely with any possibility of a Huge Accumulation of reference cards.

Start the new year with a first-class Information Equipment. A postal card will bring a representative to see you.

Report on Real Estate in the Bronx.

Messrs. J. Clarence Davies and James L. Wells, in a report, for the Real Estate Committee, to the North Side Board of Trade, reviewing the course of events during the year, made these remarks:

"The large estates which were in the hands of the old owners and sold during the latter part of 1904 have been cut up into lots and absorbed by the builders and the public. The speculation has spread very largely through that section east of the Bronx River and a large amount of that still undeveloped territory has changed hands from the original owners into the hands of speculators and will soon come on the market in the shape of lots.

"The building interests have never been busier, and all records have been broken in the number of buildings completed, in buildings in course of construction and plans filed.

"The value of the property itself, instead of decreasing, as had been expected after the enormous number of transactions of 1904, has held steadily and in the majority of sections increased during the year. The erection of buildings has tended somewhat to this increase, as well as the public demand for anything that appeared to be a little under the market. It rather appears as if this building would keep on.

"Your committee would like to call attention to the fact that there should not be an overproduction of flats and tenements in any one part, as that will only create a tendency to cheapen rents. The great need of the district at the present time is for one, two and three family houses, and this committee can assure any builder who will erect this class of property, so it can be sold at a reasonable price, of a ready and quick sale for same."

J. Scott & Co., the real estate agents, brokers and appraisers, at 219 West 116th st, are sending to their friends as a New Year gift an automatic telephone card index. It goes far ahead of the time-honored calendars, and is a helpful adjunct to the telephone and a great time saver. It contains sufficient space to insert 170 names of friends or firms (alphabetically arranged) with whom you communicate most frequently. The handsome index case is made of the finest aluminum and weighs, with cards, only four ounces.

Record and Guide Quarterly

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly contains all the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations. These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments; also by a list of realty corporations created during the past two years, with officers and the enterprises in which they are engaged. The whole makes a volume of reference which no real estate man can afford to be without. It should be on every desk and in every library. Its cost is as nothing compared to its value as a time-saver. This important work can be obtained, with three quarterly numbers, for the comparatively small sum of $20. It is published by the Record and Guide, at Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., where interested parties may see it and have its uses explained to them. If you cannot call, drop a postal card to the Publisher, or call him up on telephone 3157 Cortlandt.

THE REAL ESTATE DIRECTORY
FOR 1906

Every system must have a foundation. The Directory is our foundation. It is a most concise and prompt method of locating property owners. The names and addresses will be in a book on your desk, and inquiry of us is only necessary in case of error and removal. These are a small percentage of the addresses a real estate man wants in a day.

IT STANDS TO REASON

That in the year past which we have furnished information to every REAL ESTATE office in Manhattan, that every address has been verified and corrected. The 1906 Directory will show the result of this work.

PROBABLE EFFECTS OF MORTGAGE TAX

By B. AYMAR SANDS

AT the hearing which was given last spring by Gov. Higgins to the representatives of the Allied Real Estate Interests, when they appeared before him in opposition to the pending Mortgage Tax bill, he stated that he was of the opinion that the rate of interest on mortgages would not be increased by the measure, so that the tax would be paid by the lenders. He emphasized particularly the hardships to which trust estates holding mortgages for investment were subjected on account of the existing high rates of local taxation, and expressed his belief that the relief accorded to them by this measure would encourage them to invest a very large amount in mortgages.

We differed from him in his conclusion, pointing out that the proportion of money invested in mortgages, now exempt, was so much larger than that which was then taxable that the result would be that the taxation of practically all mortgages would increase the rate of interest.

We could not ascertain with any degree of accuracy the amount of mortgages outstanding throughout the State, but by taking the amount of money invested in mortgages throughout the State in one year and multiplying it by five, which we considered the average life of a mortgage, we came to the conclusion that there were in existence mortgages of about three billions of dollars in amount. Of these $600,000,000 were held by the savings banks and a large portion of the remainder by other individuals and corporations also exempt from taxation, namely by life insurance companies, trust companies, State banks, non-residents and individuals who had debt offsets. A careful inquiry also convinced us that of the remaining taxable mortgages only a small number were subject to local taxation, and roughly estimating this residuum to be about 5 per cent. of the total outstanding mortgages, there would remain $150,000,000 in face value on which local taxes are paid.

NO INFLUX OF NEW CAPITAL.

If these figures were reasonably correct, as we thought they were, it was quite easy to predict the result. The exempted and untaxed mortgages were so much in excess of the taxable and taxed mortgages that the efforts of those controlling the former class to secure the same net return from their mortgages were certain to overcome the willingness of those holding the latter class to lend at the rates of interest prevailing before the passage of the act.

I have made diligent inquiry among mortgage brokers and lenders, and I have failed to find any evidence of a general disposition on the part of trustees of estates to increase their investments in mortgages.

The average rate of interest per mortgage, according to the weekly returns published in the Real Estate Record and Guide, has been increased to the extent of over one-half per cent. per mortgage, as will appear by the following table, showing the increase week by week in the Boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn since this law went into effect.

Week Ending	Aver. Rate. 1904.	Aver. Rate. 1905.	Increase.
July 14 .....	4.956	5.31	.354
July 21 .....	4.92	5.21	.29
July 28 .....	4.92	5.284	.364
Aug. 4 .....	4.94	5.255	.315
Aug. 11 .....	4.92	5.51	.59
Aug. 18 .....	4.90	5.459	.550
Aug. 25 .....	4.95	5.53	.58
Sept. 1 .....	4.93	5.22	.29
Sept. 8 .....	4.92	5.54	.62
Sept. 15 .....	4.95	5.54	.59
Sept. 22 .....	4.02	5.59	.67
Sept. 29 .....	4.92	5.57	.65
Oct. 6 .....	4.93	5.54	.61
Oct. 13 .....	4.94	5.56	.62
Oct. 20 .....	4.93	5.49	.56
Oct. 27 .....	4.92	5.39	.47
Nov. 3 .....	4.94	5.48	.54
Nov. 10 .....	4.94	5.50	.56
Nov. 17 .....	4.92	5.46	.54
Nov. 24 .....	4.95	5.46	.51
Dec. 1 .....	4.94	5.45	.51
Dec. 8 .....	4.95	5.53	.58
Dec. 14 .....	4.93	5.51	.58

Inasmuch as the maximum rate of interest is six per cent., in making out this table I have excluded from the total number of mortgages recorded in 1905 a number equivalent to the ratio which the six per cent. mortgages of 1904 bore to the total number of mortgages recorded. In other words, the table shows an average increase per mortgage of the rate of interest on all mortgages, except those which could not have been increased on account of the law fixing the maximum rate of interest at six per cent. This table shows that the increase has been progressive since the law went into effect and that the increase in the average rate per mortgage has been now established at about six-tenths of the one per cent., or one-tenth more than the amount of the tax. . . .

MUST RAISE RENTS TO GET EVEN.

The owner of mortgaged property may attempt to recoup himself by raising the rents of his property to the extent of the increased tax which he is compelled to pay, but in this effort he will encounter two difficulties, one arising from the fact that rents, particularly tenement houses, are already high, and the other from the competition of the owners of unmortgaged real estate. . . .

VALUES LIKELY TO FALL SLOWLY.

Values of real estate, however, as I said before, are gradually affected by a change in conditions, but unless the owners of mortgaged property are able to raise their rents, or interest rates fall on account of causes which we cannot foresee, I am of the opinion that the values of real estate, in adjusting themselves to existing conditions, are likely to slowly fall.

The prevailing high rates of interest on mortgages will probably serve to check real estate speculation and the construction of new buildings, until the mortgage offerings, which are largely the result of such operations, are so diminished that the amount of mortgage money seeking investment is much in excess of the demand; the amount of money seeking investment might then exceed the demand, with a probable fall in the rate of interest. This result would, however, be unfortunate, as it would be attended by a depreciation in real estate values.

So far, I have only discussed this subject from the borrowers' point of view. I, however, find that the lender is equally dissatisfied with the law. The rate of interest has increased so that the lender, who has therefore been exempt or who has escaped, receives the same net return. On the other hand the machinery for the collection of the tax is so burdensome and complicated and the difficulties incident to the payment of the tax are so many that mortgage lenders are almost unanimously arrayed against the law. The so-called usury provision, prohibiting the borrower, either directly or indirectly, from agreeing to pay any portion of the tax, places a particularly dangerous weapon in the hands of the unscrupulous borrower, and has had the effect of decreasing mortgage investments. . . .

REAL ESTATE NOTES

It is rumored that another daily newspaper establishment is to follow the Evening Post to Vesey st.

The house at 63 West 69th st, reported sold in our last issue, is still owned by Minnie Walli, and has not been sold.

E. V. Pescia & Co. have leased for Martin Garrone for a term of five years the 5-sty tenement at the southwest corner of Catherine and Oak sts.

P. S. Treacey has leased for Washington Savings Bank to the Frayer-Miller Motor Car Co. the large store southwest corner of Broadway and 65th st, Empire sq.

Frank W. Stevens, real estate broker, has removed his offices from the Bible House to 41 Park row, formerly known as the "Times Building," rooms 1014-15.

The removal notice of James Kyle & Sons, real estate brokers and agents, in our last issue should have read the southeast corner of 58th st and Lexington av.

Mr. Louis V. O'Donohue, real estate and insurance broker, formerly of the firm of A. V. Amy & Co., is now occupying offices in the Howard Building, 3 West 42d st.

Chris. Schierloh leased for the American Meter Co. the plot of ground, 75x100 ft., between 10th and 11th avs, in West 47th st, for a term of years to P. M. & W. Schlichter.

John M. Bruce, formerly Bruce & Johnston, advertising agents, has taken into partnership Kendall Banning, who comes from the office of the "System" magazine. The office of the firm is at 42 Broadway.

An application is pending before the Appellate Division for the appointment of three commissioners to consider and determine the advisability of constructing new subways along 3d, Lexington, 7th and 8th avs. Motion will be argued January 26.

At a meeting at the Van Norden Trust Company's office, the Dyckman Taxpayers' Association was organized, with Minturn Post Collins as president, Frederick Mead, vice-president; Paul Halpin, secretary; Charles Isham, treasurer. Monthly meetings will be held at No. 1 West 34th st.

The Henry Morgenthau Co. of New York City, formed to deal in real estate, has incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000, the principal offices to be in New York City. The directors are Henry Morgenthau, Mortimer J. Fox, Walter W. Wechsler, Joseph F. Foise and L. H. Dorrman, of New York City.

Olin J. Stephens, president of the North Side Board of Trade, has sent out a circular to the members of the board warning them that the men who purchased the plot of ground at 137th st, 3d and Lincoln avs, for the purpose of erecting a building for the use of the board have declined to hold their offer open after March 1 of this year, in view of the slowness with which the members have been subscribing for the shares in the prospective building. At least $75,000 is needed before building operations can be begun, and of this sum only $25,000 has been raised so far. The shares have a par value of $100 each.

Wm. C. Wotton, of the office of Geo. A. Bowman, has negotiated the following leases: for Lydia Gray for a term of twenty-one years, the 5-sty building 133 West 42d st, at a rental aggregating about $156,000. This lease marks a period in 42d st values of interest to owners. The property was purchased by Mrs. Gray about nine years ago for $75,000, and the lease just made will make an investment on a valuation approaching $200,000. The same parties have also leased the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. the first floor of the building on the northeast corner of Broadway and 42d st at a rental of $4,000 per year for a billiard parlor.

The next regular meeting of the West End Association will be held in its rooms, in the Hotel St. Andrew, Broadway, corner of West 72d st, on Monday evening, Jan. 8, 1906, at 8.30 o'clock. The following proposed amendment to the Constitution was presented at the December meeting and will be presented at the January meeting for action: "The association may, at any regular meeting, elect an Honorary President; provided that the member so elected shall have previously served as President or Vice-President of the association, and that there shall be but one such officer at any time." A full attendance is requested. G. B. Sheppard, Secretary.

The New York Mortgage and Security Company, of 135 Broadway, of which Edgar J. Levey is president, has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. The net earnings for the calendar year 1905 amounted to $135,816.66 (an increase of 20 per cent. over 1904), which represents 13½ per cent. on the capital stock of the company and 10.8 per cent. on the paid-in capital and surplus. After allowing for the payment of one 3 per cent. and one 4 per cent. dividend, the company increased its surplus and undivided profits by $65,816.66—i. e., from $336,322.32 to $422,138.98. In 1905 the company foreclosed three properties, all of which were disposed of for amounts considerably in excess of the company's entire claims. The company, therefore, has continued to preserve its unique distinction of never having made a loss of any kind. One piece of property in the Borough of Brooklyn is now under foreclosure which has been delayed by litigation instituted in behalf of junior lienors; but as this loan has been guaranteed to the company as to both principal and interest by a guarantor of absolute responsibility, no loss can result whatever may be the result of the litigation. The sales of guaranteed mortgages during the calendar year 1905 aggregated $8,685,691, while the guarantees cancelled by reason of loans being paid off amounted to $1,978,200, leaving a net gain in outstanding guaranteed mortgages of $6,707,491. The prospects for the ensuing year are very bright and indicate a continuation of the steady growth of the company's business.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, the mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

December 29, 30, January 2, 3 and 4.

The Private Branch Exchange System of supplying TELEPHONE SERVICE is particularly adapted to the requirements of LARGE HOTELS and APARTMENT HOUSES.

By means of a Private Branch Exchange the general telephone service, local, suburban and long distance, is available in every room and apartment. A complete interior service is also supplied, adding largely to the efficiency, and decreasing the cost of the hotel service proper. No modern Hotel or Apartment House should lack a

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (f) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown.
Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc.,
will be found at the end of the list.

IT looks as if the bull speculation in stocks, which has been under way, with certain inevitable set-backs, for a year and a half, is now reaching its culminating stage—the stage at which stocks are distributed to the public at the highest possible level. During all this period there has been a larger or smaller participation by the public in the market, but for the most part the campaign has been carried on by certain bold and wealthy professional speculators, who were strong and capable enough to carry on such a huge operation. These men accumulated long lines of stocks at lower levels, and they have counted upon gradually attracting enough following among the non-professional speculators to enable them to sell their stocks at much higher prices. They seem to be succeeding in this attempt. Recently the general public participation in the market has been largely increased, and it is apparent that stocks are being distributed in considerable quantities. How much longer the distribution can take place is doubtful, but it does not seem as if it can continue very much longer. The people who buy without judgment are also easily scared, and if the market turns against them they sell in a panic. There is no indication that such a stage has been reached yet. The market may continue active and on the whole advancing for some months to come; but it is well to keep in mind that the pendulum is approaching the end of its swing. That it will react as far as it did in 1903 there is no reason to suppose, because enormous strides have since been made in increasing and establishing the values of leading railroad and industrial securities; but the time is not far distant when it will be the wise course to accumulate money in the bank in the expectation of being able to buy stocks considerably cheaper.

THE real estate market has lost none of its accustomed activity during the past week, but its only noticeable feature has been the increasing number of sales of vacant property on Washington Heights for improvement. These sales are not only more numerous than they have been recently, but they are more numerous than they were at the same time last year. It is apparent that the erection of apartment and tenement houses on the Heights will proceed at a more rapid rate during 1906 than it did during 1905. In 1905 the amount of money spent upon the Heights and on the upper East Side was approximately equal; but in 1906 the latter section is likely far to surpass the former. Indeed, it will not be many years before almost all the new tenement-house building in Manhattan will take place on the Heights. There is comparatively little vacant land remaining in Harlem and on the East Side available for improvement. In these districts existing dwellings will be frequently replaced by tenements; but this process is necessarily a slow one. As to the West Side the unimproved land which remains is for the most part so high-priced that it will have to be improved with fire-proofed apartment houses; and there is not room for the construction of many such buildings in one year. Washington Heights and Inwood are the most available sections, and they will be built over with remarkable rapidity. • The building machinery of Manhattan, which has been working over a much wider area, will be more largely concentrated upon one section, and it will doubtless effect the expenditure of between $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 each year in this neighborhood.

THE Tax Department has found it possible to add a very large sum to the total assessed valuation of real estate in the city of New York. The net increase in the total amounts to over $480,000,000, which is much larger than that of the two preceding years, and has been surpassed in the previous history of the city only when the general percentage of assessment was raised in 1902. The expansion is the result chiefly of the general increase in price, which has taken place in the value of vacant land on the outskirts of the city. It is true that an enormous building movement was in progress in 1905, but the money spent in building during the past year has not served largely to increase the assessment roll which has just been opened. The new buildings, which are now assessed for taxation for the first time, are most of them buildings which were completed in the winter of 1904-5, and such buildings probably do not account for much more than one-fourth of the whole increase. The other three-fourths is due to the rise in the price of the land itself; and this fact is clearly proved by the way in which the $480,000,000 of additional assessed value is proportioned among the several boroughs. The Bronx shows the largest proportional increase of about $84,000,000, or 30 per cent., and not over $30,000,000 of this can be traced to new buildings. Brooklyn comes next with almost $119,000,000 of increase, or about 13 per cent., while Queens is a close third, with $17,000,000 of increase, or 12 per cent. The percentage of increase in Manhattan is only 7; but the total is $258,000,000, and of this not more than $75,000,000 can be traced to new buildings. The rest of it is due chiefly to the augmentation of ground values which has taken place in Harlem and on Washington Heights. Of course the part of Fifth avenue devoted to the retail trade and the adjacent side streets has also contributed many millions of dollars to the total; but it will be found that the major portion of it has been derived from vacant land, which has been increased in value by the operation of the Subway.

THIS large increase in assessed valuations should have two very desirable results. It will probably mean a small decrease in the tax rate, and it will certainly mean also a corresponding enlargement of the city's power of borrowing money. The second of these results is a matter of prime importance. It will mean that the debt margin will amount on July 1st to over $100,000,000, and out of this sum it should be possible to devote, if necessary, $30,000,000 to new rapid transit construction. This sum is not as large as it should be, but it will be sufficient to enable the Rapid Transit Commission to proceed with the construction of a municipal subway system, provided it cannot obtain sufficiently favorable terms from private corporations, and provided the Legislature grants to the Commission the necessary power. Moreover it is extremely probable that during the next few years the assessed valuation of real estate will be increased by a sum almost, if not quite, as large as the increase of the current year, and in this case it should be possible to appropriate every year $15,000,000 to subway construction. With this amount of money at its disposal, the Commission could build subways almost as fast as is desirable, and certainly no better investment could be made of the city's money. On the other hand, if none of the enlarged borrowing capacity is necessary for subway construction, a regular appropriation should be made by the Board of Estimate towards the carrying out of some comprehensive plan of street improvements. This all-important matter goes over from year to year, and absolutely nothing is accomplished in reference to it except talk. Whole sections of Manhattan, now neglected, could be made much more active and valuable by the opening up of a few connecting streets and by the widening of others already in existence. When will New York have an administration which attaches proper importance to a thorough-going improvement of the plan of the city?

THE prospects for a repeal of the mortgage tax are, if anything, better than they have been. There was nothing in the Governor's message to encourage the opponents of the tax; but, on the other hand, there was nothing, as might have been feared, to make their cause entirely hopeless. The Governor adopted distinctly an apologetic attitude in reference to the operations of the mortgage tax law. He did not claim that the law had been a success from any point of view. He only claimed (1) that it was an improvement on the former method of taxing mortgages under the property tax, and (2) that the new tax had not been in operation long enough to give it a fair chance. There would be something in this first contention, provided the only alternative to assessing mortgages under the general property tax was the existing annual tax of one half of one per cent., but inasmuch as the alternatives of total exemption or a recording tax exist, it does not seem to be necessary to replace the injustice of the old method of taxing mortgages by the more widely distributed, if less acute, injustice of the existing method. The present tax has so far been a failure both as a producer of revenue and as an equitable means of raising it. The tax has been levied upon the borrower instead of upon the lender, as both the Governor and the Legislature intended. It has served to retard improvements, and in the long run it will also serve to increase rents. A larger sum of money could be collected with far less expense by means of recording tax, and at the same time the great business of developing urban real estate would be relieved of an oppressive burden. These arguments should be sufficient to secure the repeal of the mortgage tax law, particularly as the income and the expense accounts of the state exhibit a balance for the current year. The Governor's suggestion that a commission be appointed to take testimony and consider the various possible methods of improving the state system of taxation is a good one; but it should not be used as an excuse for postponing the repeal of the mortgage tax. The repeal should precede the commission.

It is to be hoped and expected that the new Bridge Commissioner, Mr. Stevenson, will make a better record than his predecessor. The maladministration of the Department of Bridges was one of the most palpable deficiencies of the first term of Mayor McClellan, and no better proof has yet been offered of the sincerity of that gentleman's desire for good government than the substitution of Mr. Stevenson for Mr. Best. The former has made an enviable record for himself in the Finance Department, and if he lives up to his record he will probably reverse the policy of his predecessor in almost every respect, just as Mr. Best insisted upon reversing in every respect the policy of Mr. Lindenthal. What is more to the point, however, is the fact that the length of Mr. Stevenson's term, four years, should give him an opportunity really to accomplish something. No progress has recently been made in the important matter of the construction of the new bridges, because the Bridge Department has made no serious effort to co-operate with the Rapid Transit Commission. It has persisted in acting on the superannuated idea that the bridges were distinct from the general rapid transit system of the city, and should not be integrally connected therewith. As a matter of fact, the value of the bridges is wholly dependent upon their articulation with the future means of transit on both sides of the River, and as the future means of rapid transit is obviously subways, it is the subway system with which close connection should be made. Mr. Stevenson has already announced that he has abandoned the terminal idea, and it is to be hoped that he will also soon be in a position to announce that he has reached an agreement with the Rapid Transit Commission for a system of connecting subways.

For Square Dealing in Real Estate Transactions.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

The letter from Messrs. J. Scott & Co., published in your issue of Jan. 6, has been read by me with great interest, and I fully agree that some action should be taken to protect honest brokers, not only from dishonest buyers, but also from dishonest brokers who steal the results of their labors. Under the existing laws no broker, unless he has an absolute option from an owner, is safe in offering a piece of property for sale, and the prevailing spirit among many buyers is to cheat the broker in order to save on the purchasing price the commission which should rightfully be paid to the broker. I will mention an instance in my own experience. I offered a certain house to a large operating concern in which there are five partners. I took one of the partners through the house, introduced him to the owner who lived there, and, while the price was agreed upon, the prospective buyer was not willing to pay in as much cash as the owner demanded. After leaving the owner the buyer declared that he did not want the house at all. Within ten days one of the buyer's partners bought the house direct from the owner, and when I asked my prospective buyer as to why this trick was played on me, he declared that he did not know that his partner had purchased the house until I had mentioned the fact to him, which, it is self-evident, could hardly be so. I am willing to do what I can, both financially and in other ways, to devise means and try to have laws passed that will protect brokers who not only desire to deal honestly, but who want others to deal honestly with them.

Manhattan.

L. MINIZE.

The possibility of the Jerome avenue extension of the subway being a fixed fact has awakened a demand along that thoroughfare north to the city line. However, the upper portion is handicapped by the fact that a small strip of Van Cortlandt Park north of 233d st completely "bottles up" Woodlawn Heights. This drawback could be removed by cutting through several streets from their present dead ends to Jerome av.

The Brick Market in 1905.

In the annals of the brick business in this city and State it can scarcely be said that the year 1905 ever had an equal. Upon the general resumption of business after the Civil War there ensued an era of feverish activity and inflated silver prices, but the net income to the trade after paying the correspondingly high costs of manufacturing and shipping could not have exceeded the percentage of profit for a whole year on the gold basis, nor did the total yearly production forty years ago in anywise compare with the immense aggregate of bricks sent to this market during the year just closed. Taking into account at first only common brick, in order to speak in definite terms, referring only to the product of the Hudson River yards and leaving out of the calculation front brick, vitrified paving brick, fancy and ornamental bricks, hollow building tile or blocks, fire brick, fire-proofing and architectural terra cotta blocks, it is estimated in advance of official returns that the shipments to this one district, though it is the principal one, will total 1,100,000,000, and sold at an estimated average, as computed by the president of the association of dealers, of $8.35 per M. In 1904 a total of 958,219,000 were produced, and, according to the manufacturers' own figures, were marketed for $5.87 per thousand. The Jersey shore is estimated to have shipped during 1905 about 60,000,000, and, in order to obtain the full aggregate of figures to represent the "consumption" of common brick in this district during the year just ended, a large number must be set down to represent the shipments from New England by rail all through the season in greater number than ever before; and finally a figure must be selected to stand for the millions of second-hand bricks which regularly appear in the market.

The possible output of the Hudson River yards is commonly estimated at 1,400,000,000. That this great finality was not required from them last year was owing to the high prices and the consequent appearance of material in large quantities from other sources. Demand and supply played each its part in the market as fully as it ever does. Builders simply had to have the brick, and it is their competitive bidding which has driven values to their present height. The almost certain consequences to the trade every one freely admits, but says they cannot help. The manufacturers have derived almost the full benefit from the boom. In 1904 a large proportion of the output was under long-term contracts, at rates much below the open market quotations, but in 1905 fewer brick were marketed on that plan than ever before under the existing business regime. Hence, the dealers have not made money in the sense in which "making money" is generally taken. It was not a market that permitted the exercise of speculative frivolities on the part of dealers and consumers, though several large constructing firms saved considerable money by buying in other markets and paying the higher freight rates. At least one firm of contractors were in a position to make their own brick. The average cost of manufacturing and shipping last year was higher than usual, owing to increased wages granted in the spring, higher rents and higher costs generally; but from typical examples the average cost to Hudson River manufacturers did not exceed $5 per thousand. As throughout it was a year of sustained prices almost without variation, it is self-evident that manufacturers have made large profits and are fortified against the reaction which is prophesied to come in the future. For the present and until new brick come in they can see only an ascending scale of prices.

Dealers see no particular advantage for the trade in such a market, and apprehend undesirable effects to follow. At no time after the building season was fairly opened was there a surplus of brick, and only once was there anything like a reaction, and then it was more like a strong team pausing momentarily for breath. There was no opportunity to accumulate a surplus, or for much discretion of any sort. Higher charges for handling and delivering material after it reached the city, through the congestion of general business traffic at the public piers, was a consequence of the extraordinary increase of general freighting. Inadequate docking facilities developed, necessitating delays or longer hauls, and with other increased expenses raised handling costs to figures about double what they used to be. The course of wholesale prices for good brick during the year is indicated in the following list, the minimum quotation being given in each case:

New York continues to be the State producing the most common brick, marketing in 1904 1,169,233,000, as compared with 1,068,464,000 in 1903. About 77% of the total in the State was produced along the river, and the records for 1905 when formulated are expected to show a larger proportion. The Hudson River counties, together with Bergen County, N. J., turned in to this market in 1904 958,219,000, valued at $5,624,914, or $5.87 per thousand. This was a gain in quantity of 113,719,000, or 13.47%. The average price per thousand in the New York portion of this region was $5.88, as compared with $4.69 in 1903—a most remarkable gain, which, however, was probably exceeded in the year just ended. Dealers complain that the average quality of material rated as “good” was inferior to what was received in former years, which was probably owing to less care in grading the stock.

Ulster County is the largest producing county, reporting 226,452,000 brick in 1904, or 23.63% of the total of the region, but the value of its product was exceeded by that of Rockland County, owing to the higher prices obtained in the latter county. It may be interesting to note that there were only eight States besides New York that produced more common brick than Ulster County in 1904. They were California, 256,898,000 brick; Georgia, 269,815,000; Illinois, 999,310,000; Indiana, 283,707,000; Missouri, 271,370,000; New Jersey, 319,975,000; Ohio, 455,936,000, and Pennsylvania, 856,963,000. The largest producing county in 1903 also was Ulster, when a product of 190,981,000 common brick was reported, valued at $765,504, or $4.01 per thousand. In 1903 ten States besides New York showed a larger production than Ulster County. The value of the common brick produced in 1904 in this region—$5,624,914—was greater than that of any State except New York, of which it is a part, Pennsylvania being the nearest, with common brick reported valued at $5,439,116. Pennsylvania was the only State that exceeded the value of the common-brick product of New York's portion of this region, and there were only eight States that exceeded in value Rockland County's output, and only ten States that exceeded in value Ulster County's product.

The average price per thousand in 1904 in the Hudson valley ranged from $4.83 in Rensselaer County to $6.86 in Greene County. In 1903 the range was from $4.01 in Ulster County to $5.57 in Orange County.

Convention of American Institute of Architects.

WASHINGTON (Special).—With nearly 200 delegates from all sections of the United States and many foreign countries in attendance, the thirty-ninth annual convention of the American Institute of Architects convened in the assembly room of the New Willard Hotel on Tuesday, Jan. 9. The first session was called to order at 11 o'clock by President William S. Eames, who introduced District Commissioner H. B. F. Macfarland, who made the address of welcome.

The institute was in session three days. At the first day's sessions officers for the ensuing year were elected, committees were named and other routine business transacted. On Tuesday night there was a banquet in the hall of the New Willard, which was attended by the delegates and their ladies.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Frank Miles Day, of Philadelphia; vice-president, Cass Gilbert, of New York; second vice-president, William B. Mundie; secretary and treasurer, Glenn Browne, of Washington; directors for three years, Alfred Stone, Irving K. Pond and Ralph Adams; for two years, Merritt J. Reid; auditors, J. G. Hill and Robert Stead.

The report of the directors stated that the present membership of the institute is 750. Particular attention was given in the report to the work the association has done toward beautifying Washington, it being stated that the new federal buildings in the capital city are being erected in accordance with the program laid out by the Park Commission, the first step toward the appointment of which was made through papers read before the institute.

It was recommended by the report that a body be appointed with a majority of the members architects, and similar to the council of France, to conduct all competitions for Government buildings.

Don'ts for Appraisers.

BY CHARLES GRIFFITH MOSES.

I have always found it a pretty safe practice to keep clear of glittering generalities and to limit general rules to specific cases. Some theories, which at the time the testimony is given seem to be true for all cases, may re-act on you in the future in some widely divergent case where they do not apply at all, and as a copy of all your testimony is in file in the Corporation Counsel's office carefully indexed, and as the assistants usually have very good memories, some general rule you have established without limiting it to a specific case may hurt the value of your testimony in another case very materially.

Another thing that as a general rule it is well to avoid on the stand, is valuing property off-hand, or on a different theory than the one you have adopted, unless you are very sure of your ground. It is your privilege to take all the time you want for consideration of new facts or features introduced by the cross examiner, and frequently an offhand answer leads the witness into deep water. Depend on your notes, especially for figures, as much as possible, thus keeping your mind clear and wits sharpened to parry apparently innocent questions which may get one into trouble. Frequently a question must be answered by a yes or a no, and qualification or explanation of your answer may not be allowed. If possible get your explanation in first before the yes or no, and even if it is stricken from the record the effect is there.

There is one other point I would like to bring out here. A point that was given me by my friend, Mr. Thos. C. Smith, and one which I have always considered very useful. When I first started to testify as an expert he happened to hear of it and called at my office and said: “I want to give you some advice. Many expert witnesses,” he said, “after a few years of this work, either break down physically or go crazy. I don't want to see you follow in their paths, so I am going to give you my panacea, and while it may seem a small thing and apparently trivial, I have found it very useful to me. In preparing your cases evolve your theories, make up your figures, work out your proof and your qualification, and reduce it to writing. Make full notes and then dismiss the whole matter from your mind. Just before going on the stand look over your notes and, if you think necessary, revise your figures and use your papers while you are testifying. When you have finished, dismiss the whole proceedings from your mind again, and above all things don't try to carry your figures in your memory. Of course if you have but one case on at a time the memorizing and thinking about your testimony will not seem irksome or much of a strain, but if you are engaged in testifying in several proceedings during the same period you will find this method a great saving of fatigue and brain work.”

As I said before, the work of an expert appraiser is the highest branch of the real estate business, because the expert is retained absolutely for his opinion, just as a lawyer or a doctor or any other professional man is. It is also, strange as it may seem, the most remunerative. I say strange, as it may seem, for it is not always true that the higher branches of all kinds of work are the most profitable financially. Good experts and high class appraisers are always in demand both by the city and by the attorneys for the property owners, and a man who can give good value can command high prices. Lawyers who make a specialty of this work appreciate the difference between a good and a poor or mediocre witness, and are always ready to pay well for the best service.

Very few lawyers doing general litigation conduct condemnation proceedings in their own offices, but associate themselves with the specialist in this line; and as the so-called condemnation lawyers number comparatively few, it does not take long for an expert to become well known to the best of these. A conscientious expert with good ideas, a convincing way of answering questions, and ability to take care himself, and incidentally his client, while on the stand, can always find plenty of employment. The larger general knowledge of the real estate business an expert has, the more valuable a witness he is, all other things being equal. It must be remembered that every owner of real estate taken by the city or otherwise for public purposes in condemnation proceedings is entitled to receive fair and equitable compensation at its fair market value for his property so taken.

It is distinctly within the duties and province of the expert to value the real estate thus condemned under its most favorable circumstances. That is to say, he must see and know what are its most valuable uses, its most advantageous method of subdivision, and its most favorable aspects, and be able to bring these out, not by making a statement of them, but in the answers to direct questions. Of course this method can only be successful after long experience, good judgment, and knowledge of the methods of the cross-examiner.

Another point I would like to bring out is this: Never allow the attorney employing you to influence or dictate your figures. Of course the attorney wants the most extreme figures possible and frequently will try to induce the witness to stretch his ideas to the breaking point. The witness must remember that he is under oath, and must be conscientious in every particular, and if he expects to retain the confidence of all concerned and be of the best service to his clients, he must be true to himself and his own ideas. This is especially true in valuing easements, rights of way and other phases of a situation, difficult to prove mathematically. These special features affect values in a different manner in almost every case, and where an easement of light and air, for instance, may very seriously affect the market value of one certain parcel its affect on another may not be nearly as serious, so a general rule as to percentages of value in such cases would not be a safe or an equitable one. This holds good for all such cases and is a good thing to bear in mind.

I spoke before of the importance of the value of a general knowledge of the real estate business. This comes in very useful not only in qualifying the witness but in the actual valuing of the premises in question. In the former case, the qualification of the witness, the broader and more general one's experience and knowledge, the simpler and easier to qualify, and the more consideration and weight given one's opinions and views. In the latter case, the actual valuing of the premises in question, this knowledge widens the scope of the witness and enables him to more readily and correctly see the proper uses for the premises under consideration. It is only such knowledge that enables the witness to be sure of whether the property is suitably improved, or whether full value is to be allowed for the building, or whether plottage is applicable, and if so, how much should be added to the lot basis by reason of such conditions; or what would be the proper improvement of the premises, and a host of other reasons. For the benefit of those who may be unfamiliar with the term "plottage," I will try to explain briefly its meaning. In some sections of the city the holding of land in one ownership in plots of more than one lot adds materially to the intrinsic value of the plot. For example: given the value of one lot 25x100 ft. at $10,000, three adjoining lots 75x100 ft. would be worth more than $30,000, or three times the value of a single lot, by reason of their better adaptability for improvement. I say better adaptability because three lots in one plot may be improved more economically and to greater advantage than one single lot 25x100 can in most neighborhoods.

In sparsely built up sections of the city where vacant lots are plentiful and it is an easy matter for a builder or buyer to obtain adjoining lots to make up larger plots, plottage is not so valuable as it would be in a neighborhood where vacant or lots with old buildings are scarce and in consequence large plots are more difficult to get together. In the former case the additional value by reason of plottage might be say 10 per cent., whereas in the latter case it might amount to 25 per cent., or even more.

Annual Valuation of Real Estate.

FOR ASSESSMENT PURPOSES—THE PART THE MORTGAGE TAX WILL PLAY.

The enormous value of New York City and the amount of money which is handled each year is shown somewhat in the statement made by the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments as to the total assessed valuation placed for this year on real and personal property. The increase of value breaks all records and holds out an apparent promise to taxpayers that there will be further decrease in the tax rate for the year, in spite of the increase in tax budget. The increase in the assessed value of real estate this year reaches the enormous total of $480,895,464. It is thought that this will be little reduced by the corrections and changes made between now and the 1st of June, when the books will be finally closed.

The total assessments in the city of New York in 1905 were $4,919,308,751. Those for 1906 are $5,400,204,215, while the increase in the assessment of personal property is $30,395,511. This does not indicate much, as many personal taxes will be sworn off between now and the 1st of April.

The largest real estate increase is shown in the Bronx and in Brooklyn, in proportion to the total value of property. Much of this is in the South Brooklyn section, where property has advanced on the doubtful promise of a subway. There is also a big jump in realty values near the Williamsburg Bridge and a 10% increase in the Fulton st shopping district. In the Bronx real estate values have advanced more than 30%. The changes from last year are shown in this table:

	Assessment Rolls. 1905.	Record Books. 1906.	Net Increase.
Manhattan ..	$3,592,620,181	$3,851,103,031	$258,482,850
The Bronx .....	260,742,593	345,043,727	84,301,134
Brooklyn .....	888,775,352	1,007,580,922	118,805,570
Queens .....	134,172,390	151,630,705	17,458,315
Richmond .....	42,998,235	44,845,830	1,847,595
Totals .....	$4,919,308,751	$5,400,204,215	$480,895,464

In the opinion of the Tax Commissioners, the workings of the Mortgage Tax Law will tend to reduce considerably the amount of money received this year from personal taxes. Under the Mortgage Tax Law it is provided that money loaned on mortgage must not be reckoned as personal property. The mortgage tax is only ½ of 1%, while the tax rate last year was 1.51. From information which has already come to the Commissioners, they fear that a large amount of personal property upon which taxes have hitherto been paid will be converted into mortgages.

In 1905 the total of personal assessments was $3,630,674,671. Of this amount, nearly $3,000,000,000 was sworn off, leaving only $690,571,926 as the exact amount of personal estate on which taxes could be collected. This year the personal tax roll starts at $3,492,015,682, but the swearing-off process would doubtless reduce it to the former net total but for the fact that the situation has been changed by the Mortgage Tax Law, which Governor Higgins declares must stand. Under this law the personal tax roll may be almost swept away and many millions of dollars transferred from the coffers of the city to those of the State. What is lost on personality must be made up by real estate.

During the last six years real estate values in the entire city have been advanced more than two and one-half billions of dollars by the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments. The advance this year, $480,895,464, is the greatest of any advance within this period, with the exception of 1903, when almost a billion and a half was added. The total assessment each year, with the increase, is as follows:

	Increase.	Total. Assessment.
1901 .....	$84,861,805	$3,033,715,654
1902 .....	88,406,015	3,472,785,802
1903 .....	1,425,452,387	4,756,099,966
1904 .....	281,978,286	4,798,344,789
1905 .....	173,376,047	4,919,308,751
1906 .....	480,895,464	5,400,204,215

Total advances in the six years, $2,534,970,004.

MANHATTAN BOROUGH.

A comprehensive statement for each of the eight sections of Manhattan Borough is here given:

Section 1 (all that part of the borough south of Watts and Grand sts.)—Assessment roll, 1905, $662,521,390; new buildings, 49; increased improvements, $6,743,800; decrease, $745,500; net increase, $26,167,150; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $688,688,540.

Section 2 (all that part of the borough bounded north by 14th st and on the south by Watts and Grand sts.)—Assessment roll, 1905, $477,665,410; new buildings, 105; increased improvements, $6,118,000; decrease, $1,856,000; net increase, $9,181,500; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $486,846,910.

Section 3 (between 14th and 40th sts.)—Assessment roll, 1905, $737,460,400; new buildings, 95; increased improvements, $12,152,500; decrease, $6,323,500; net increase, $73,693,450; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $811,073,850.

Section 4 (between 40th and 96th sts., west of 6th av and Central Park)—Assessment roll, 1905, $472,831,400; new buildings, 86; increased improvements, $4,911,500; decrease, $401,500; net increase, $17,988,400; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $490,819,800.

Section 5 (between 40th and 96th sts, east of 6th av and Central Park)—Assessment roll, 1905, $708,668,010; new buildings, 191; increase improvements, $10,677,500; decrease, $2,503,900; net increase, $41,773,750; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $750,441,760.

District 6 (north of 96th st and east of Lenox av to East and Harlem rivers)—Assessment roll, 1905, $200,791,400; new buildings, 410; increase improvements, $12,612,300; decrease, $241,500; net increase, $24,177,000; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $224,958,400.

District 7 (between 96th and 155th sts and west of Lenox av to Hudson River)—Assessment roll, 1905, $283,066,241; new buildings, 520; increase improvements, $18,610,600; decrease, $108,500; net increase, $35,745,870; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $318,812,111.

Section 8 (all that part of the borough north of 155th st)—Assessment roll, 1905, $44,380,580; new buildings, $2,220,400; decrease, $267,500; net increase, $22,620,130; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $67,000,710.

Real estate total assessment roll, 1905, $3,587,384,831; new buildings, 1,567; increase improvements, $74,046,600; decrease, $12,447,900; net increase, $251,337,250; annual record, Jan. 8, 1906, $3,854,103,031.

In each of the foregoing items, by subtracting the figures for increase improvements from the net increase of valuation the remainder will be the increased valuation on property unaltered since the last assessment was made, and from that the average per cent. of increase can be figured for each district.

While buildings in the lower section of Manhattan Island were advanced almost without exception, as a rule the increases were small. The largest per cent. of increase was in the section between 14th and 40th sts, from the East to the North River.

On some of the parcels in the immediate neighborhood of Herald sq the assessment was more than doubled. The new McCreery store (building only started), assessed last year as private parcels, was raised from $1,233,000 to $2,070,000. The Knickerbocker Trust Company's building, 5th av and 34th st, is raised from $925,000 to $1,375,000. The total assessment on the various individual parcels last year for the Altman site was $2,603,000, exclusive of the art store at the corner of 5th av and 34th st. This was assessed separately at $340,000. The assessment on the plot has been doubled, almost to $5,050,000, while the art store was increased to $800,000, making the total assessment for the plot $5,850,000. The old Broadway Tabernacle, 6th av and 34th st, unoccupied and idle, has been raised from $1,200,000 to $1,580,000.

Following is a list of some of specimen properties showing the increases this year over 1905, classified according to their use:

Largest in the World.

The new Astor apartment hotel which will be built at Broadway and 78th and 79th sts, New York, will be the largest apartment hotel in the world, and will cost upward of $4,000,000. The building will cover a plot of ground 200 ft. on Broadway and 225 ft. on the side streets. Two stories will be built under the streets and eighteen above the surface level, making a 20-sty structure in all. A sub-basement will be constructed for accommodating the power, heating and lighting plants. The furnaces and machinery will rest on concrete floors and be completely inclosed in walls of fireproof clay, so that any fire once starting in the engine or dynamo room cannot possibly extend to the basement above. The building will be made of the usual steel framework, well protected by fireproof tiles, and the floors and partitions will similarly be protected from interior flames. Each suite of rooms will represent an independent fireproof structure which can be completely isolated from all other parts of the building in times of fire. Practically no wood other than furniture will be used in the building, and there have been reports that even the furniture will be specially made of so-called fire-proofed wood to limit the spread of an interior fire. While marble, glass, onyx and light stone will be used freely for ornamental work, none of these materials will carry any of the load or be placed next to supporting columns or beams. A fire could crumble the marble and stone without in any way affecting the main structural walls, partitions and floors.

The Fashionable Residential Section.

FIFTH AV, FROM 72D ST TO 90TH ST.
No. 5.

According to Louis Keller, president of the Social Register Association, the social centre of New York alters about every ten years, and has changed on an average ten blocks in the last eight decades. From the Battery and Bowling Green in 1820 it reached Bond st and Lafayette pl in 1850 and 10th st and Washington sq in 1860. The uptown movement of the society centre marked time somewhat on 5th av for twenty years, extending its boundaries from 23d st in 1870 to 5th av and 39th st in 1890. Resuming its march to 49th st what may be called the inner circle of the elite residential centre has now at the dawn of 1906 halted apparently for all time, wealth and fashion having entrenched themselves in that section of 5th av opposite to Central Park, extending from 72d st to 90th st. The ordinary society centre will, of course, continue its advance northward, and by the middle of the present century will probably be in the vicinity of Cathedral Heights. But that narrow strip of territory on upper 5th av restricted in the nature of things by hard and fast physical conditions, namely, from 72d st to 90th st, must always remain exceptionally what it now is, the home of exclusive and opulent persons, eliminating it from the class of any other residential quarter where dwellings of a superior character are found.

This property on Fifth av between the streets mentioned is unique in situation and has consequently become, as it were, a sort of "Forbidden City," accessible only as a home to those who possess abundant wealth. The average well-to-do man of means would scarcely wish to acquire a dwelling here because he could not afford the necessary expenditure to keep up with the luxury and lavishness justified by the great fortunes of his neighbors who make their homes in this limited section.

In last week's article of this series it was said that a few mansions had been erected by builders at great cost from architectural designs by leading architects. This fact alone is a proof of the high class character of the property and its assured and permanent future. Men engaged in building do not construct mansions costing from two hundred thousand to half a million dollars or more without the immediate prospect of being able to dispose of them. In great capitals palaces or mansions may occasionally be acquired by others than those who have built or occupied them, but it remains for New York builders to erect magnificent residences as if constructed to order with the absolute certainty of their being taken off their hands by rich and influential citizens for homes at a greatly enhanced value. A few such choice houses are still in the market in this section, and it may be said that they are among the handsomest mansions ever built in New York. Their equipment leaves nothing to be desired, and should meet the demands of the most fastidious wealthy. In some of these houses, among other scientific appliances, are Otis electric automatic passenger elevators, gas supply apparatus for lighting and heating and cooking purposes, electric lighting in addition to gas lighting, electric burglar alarms, automatic intercommunicating telephones and metal lath on all partitions, rendering the same fireproof. The exterior likewise of some of these mansions as seen from the avenue impress one by their dignity and elegance. The facades express individuality of design and a richness of effect has been secured without an excessive use of ornament and decorative features. The difference, too, in the color of the stone of which the facades are constructed aids in giving them a distinctive character, and the contrast thus obtained is pleasing to the eye. The small amount of property in this favored location still purchasable necessarily places a narrow limit on future opportunities to secure a high class residence.

An Important Shipment of Lumber.

The Port Blakely Mill Co., of Washington, is shipping to its New York agents, Dixon & Dewey, Flatiron Bldg., New York, a full and complete cargo of fir timbers to be used for dock and construction purposes in this city. This is the first complete cargo of fir timber that has ever come around Cape Horn. The High prices and poor quality of Eastern yellow pine make it possible to bring this timber from the West. The cargo is valued at $40,000, the freight, which amounts to over $18,000, playing an important part in shipping cargoes of timber from Washington State. Messrs. Dixon & Dewey claim that the superior quality and freeness from sap make this timber better for all construction purposes than the sappy yellow pine now in the market, and they are negotiating for several additional cargoes.

The John B. Rose Company, brick brokers, have sent out a call—a very loud one—for the third annual "Pow Wow" of the metropolitan brick industry, at the Murray Hill Lyceum, in East 34th st, next Thursday. A brief meeting of the Hudson River Manufacturers' Association will be held at 12 M., and at 1 o'clock there will be a spread for all the guests. All the manufacturers from up the river, with many leading citizens, will be down to meet the agents and dealers who handle their product in this market.

A Progressive Real Estate Firm

IT is not so many years ago that the real estate agent in New York was a person of comparatively little importance, and the place wherein he transacted business was often small, inconvenient and dingy. With the great development of the city all this is now changed, and real estate agents and brokers have now offices and establishments on the principal streets which vie in equipment and arrangement with those of any others in the field of commercial or financial activities. At 906 Columbus avenue, near 104th street, a real estate office long established there and one of the landmarks of the district has attracted considerable attention by the recent enlargement of its offices. This is the place of business of Mr. Charles S. Kohler, who has been located there for the last fourteen years, having originally established himself in 1887 at 1656 Tenth avenue. Mr. Kohler makes a specialty of selling and managing realty property and estates, besides doing an insurance business. So extensive has his business become that in March, 1905, he found it necessary to increase his office facilities to its present proportions. For this purpose he secured the next store, thus enlarging his offices to their present ample proportions. At a considerable expense he refitted his remodeled establishment with a new and improved heating and lighting plant and up-to-date fixtures. Mr. Kohler has also entirely refurnished all the divisions of his office. The current year he reports has been a most prosperous one in the real estate business, a large number of properties having been sold through his instrumentality. He has an efficient office staff, some members of which have been continuously in his employment for upwards of eleven years. Property under his management is in sections so widely apart as Christopher street to the south, 132d st. North, and Fourth avenue East; but the bulk of the property of the clients of Mr. Kohler lies within ten blocks of his office. Mr. Kohler was an early member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, and for many years has been an associate member of the Builders' League of N. Y.

BUILDING NOTES

The "D. & D." maple flooring is to be used in the new Clafin building, 34th st and 5th av, some 350,000 feet having been contracted for.

The Prometheus Electric Co. has moved its offices from Courtlandt st to 236-238 East 43d st, the building now occupied by their factory. Having their offices and factories in the same place will enable the managers to better take care of their rapidly increasing business.

On or about May 1 the old and distinguished architectural firm of De Lemos & Cordes, with offices at No. 130 Fulton st, this city, will be dissolved, both partners retiring. Mr. R. L. Daus, of 130 Fulton st, will take entire charge of the execution of the work, and also succeed to the general practice of the firm.

Brick building was halted by the storm and has not been resumed this week. As for the brick market it is laid up for the winter. Navigation on the Hudson is closed above Haverstraw, but tows are trying to get through from Newburgh. There comes a time when building stops, marking the end of the season, and the metropolitan brick business has arrived at that stage. The weather loosened up again on Thursday, but the masters and journeymen are tired, and material prices are high—and for one reason and another business is practically shut down. Brick are bringing now as high as $10.75 in the open wholesale market. The expectation is that the Hudson will be entirely closed in a few days by falling temperatures.

A test case to break one of the agreements between employers and unions has been brought by the National Fire Proofing Co. The contention of the plaintiff is that the agreement to which objection is raised is in violation of the penal code relating to conspiracy. The defendants in the case are the Mason Builders' Association and the Bricklayers' and Masons' Unions of New York. In the formal affidavit lodged in the Jefferson Market Court on Monday afternoon the president of the National Fire Proofing Co. alleges that last October and November his firm had more than ten contracts for installing fireproofing in a number of large buildings under construction in this city, but as a result of an agreement between the two organizations he was unable to carry out the contracts. This agreement, he alleges, prevents a general contractor from sub-letting a contract to anyone living outside of the city. The case has been adjourned until Jan. 26, when it will be resumed in Jefferson Market Court.

Sixteen persons are dead or missing in consequence of the appalling landslide at Haverstraw. Six bodies have been recovered. Rockland st, which has for years been on the tongues of people of the village, was the scene of the catastrophe. A stretch of land over 800 ft. along the embankment from Jefferson st to Liberty st and several feet wide, including about a dozen houses and shanties, was the zone of devastation. For the past three years there has appeared in Rockland st a crack extending from the embankment across that thoroughfare. This embankment surmounted the stretch of clay holes on property owned by the Eckersons, Gillies and the Excelsior Brick Co., who for years have been making excavations to a depth of over 100 ft in search for the article that is of so much worth to the brick industry. On Monday it was discovered that the crack had widened, and the landlords notified the tenants to leave. The courts will investigate and, if necessary, punish the guilty, if a crime has been committed.

Ice Factory to be Sold at Auction.

Reed, auctioneers, will sell by order of court, Thursday, Jan. 25, at 11 a. m., on the premises, Kingsland av, corner of Lombardy st, Brooklyn, eight city lots, with the brick building thereon, containing engines, boilers, pumps, condensers, ice cans, distilling and filtering apparatus, and all the equipment of an Ice Manufacturing Plant. Thompson & Fuller, 60 Wall st, are attorneys for trustees.

Fixing Tax Rate in Nassau County.

The Nassau County Supervisors finished Wednesday the work of preparing the budget for the several towns and fixing the tax rate. The Town of Hempstead gets the highest tax rates it has had in some years, $2.07 in all, owing to the increase in assessed valuation as fixed by the equalization commission and increase of town expenditures, some of which were for improvements and others consisting of back claims audited by the town auditors. The general rate for Hempstead is $1.74; road tax, 28 cents on every $100 valuation, and Board of Health tax, five cents. The grand total of the town levy is $207,104.87. The general rate for North Hempstead will be $1.56, with 13 cents additional for road tax. The total levy is $124,337.80. For Oyster Bay the general rate is $1.32 on each $100, with 13 cents additional for road tax. The grand total of the levy is $143,212.72.

CONFESSION OF J. MARSHALL HAND, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE BROMLEY CO., 112 W. 42d ST., MADE IN WRITING TO THE REAL ESTATE DIRECTORY, NOVEMBER 27, 1905.

A company was to be incorporated under the name of the Bromley Co. 500 shares were to be issued. 67 I was to receive, 67 to Robert Core, and 67 to Spencer Lawson. Company to be incorporated Dec. 1, 1905. We copied about 130 galleys (Printers' proofs) for the use of the new Company; but have falsified no records of the Real Estate Directory.

I went to Philadelphia on Wednesday the 15th of November, and saw G. W. and Walter Bromley, and made arrangements to open a New York office. I TOLD THE MESSRS. BROMLEY THAT WE COULD COPY SOME OF THE ADDRESSES OF THE R. E. DIRECTORY FOR THEIR FUTURE USE, AND THEY CONSENTED TO THIS ARRANGEMENT.

Bromley & Co. intended, according to their statement, to bring out a new owners' book about January 1st, 1906. Bromley intended to publish out-of-town addresses, and had about 1,500 city addresses which they intended to include.

Bromley claims to have about 300 subscribers.

The "Record and Guide" Bureau of Information

On the first day of January, 1906, the "Record and Guide" will commence to issue a special Real Estate Information Service to all Persons who may Subscribe for the same.

This Service has been established at the request of a Number of the Leading Real Estate Brokers and Financial Institutions in this City, who to-day are unable to obtain really Prompt, Accurate, and Special real estate information.

The Management of the "Record and Guide" have very carefully investigated the Existing Needs of the Public and the real estate service, which the "Record and Guide" has organized, has been devised with an especial view to Actual Requirements.

By means of a Subscription to the "Record and Guide" Bureau of Information, Brokers and Others may equip their offices with a Complete Service of Real Estate Information at a cost of less than Three Dollars ($3.00) a week. For this amount, they will be supplied with the "Record and Guide Quarterly" (improved), the Names and Addresses of Property Owners, full use of the Bureau of Information, a weekly service for Index purposes of Conveyances with Names of Grantees and their Addresses, a weekly service concerning Mortgages, a weekly service of information contained in Wills so far as same relate to real estate, and other matters of importance.

The information supplied will be Full, Accurate, and Prompt. Arrangements have been made to avoid Unnecessary Delay of even an hour. The Service, moreover, has been rendered so Flexible that it is believed it will meet the Requirements of all offices and of any system that may now be in use.

The "Record and Guide" service has been so Devised that it necessitates a Minimum Amount of Space, a Minimum Amount of Filing, a Minimum Amount of Reference, and does away completely with any possibility of a Huge Accumulation of reference cards.

Start the new year with a first-class Information Equipment. A postal card will bring a representative to see you.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Webster B. Mabie has leased to the Grolier Society the first floor of 2 West 16th st as an office and salesroom.

Webster B. Mabie has leased to Morton H. Meinhard & Co. the store 533 West Broadway for a term of years.

Huberth & Gabel have leased for P. J. Kabler to Arnold Preim the 4-sty private house 238 East 12th st for a term of years.

George Milne, 74 Courtlandt st, and Leon S. Altmayer, 62 East 86th st, have been elected to membership in the Real Estate Board of Brokers.

The Title Clearance Company, with offices formerly at 1515 1st av, has removed to the New York Life Building, 346 Broadway, room 1143.

Chas. E. Duross, in conjunction with William Cruikshank's Sons, has leased 676 Hudson st to the Atlantic Hotel Beef Supply Co. for a term of years.

John Boulton Simpson informs us that there is no truth whatever in the statement printed last week in relation to the sale of his house 988 5th av, to Peter Doelger, Jr.

Louis Schrag was the broker in the leasing of property 405 6th av for Friedrich Rosenberg to Messrs. Oestreicher Brothers for 21 years, at a total rent of about $103,000.

Robinson, Maguire & Co. have leased for Albert Ludorff to the Haynes Automobile Co. for a term of years the premises 508-512 West 58th st, to be used as a private automobile repair shop.

R. Pehlemann, real estate broker and agent, of 2383 Broadway, near 87th st, has formed a partnership with G. Schwegler under the firm name of Pehlemann & Schwegler, and will continue the business at the same address.

When White Plains av is asphalted in the spring it is expected that there will be considerable building activity there. The syndicate which recently purchased three large tracts east of White Plains av will begin building in the spring.

Mr. George F. Picken has been elected a director in the United States Exchange Bank, situated on West 125th st. Mr. Picken has been in the real estate and building business for several years, and is prominent in the Harlem section.

Nichols & Lummis have sold to the Sisters of Charity, of St. Vincent de Paul, for Arthur O. Townsend and Antonio Monteforte respectively, their properties with the brick buildings, situated on St. Mark's pl, New Brighton, Richmond County, Staten Island. The buildings with the surrounding lands will be improved for school purposes.

Spear & Co. have rented the store and basement at 207-209 Wooster st for a term of years for David Schwartz; 15,000 sq. ft. for R. F. Kilpatrick, at 141-145 and 149-153 Wooster st; 10,000 sq. ft. in the DeCourcy Building, 570-576 West Broadway for John deC. Ireland, and store, basement and third loft at 165-167 Mercer st for the Balleis Realty Co. for a term of years.

The real estate interests of the Bronx have a hopeful expectation of the eclipsing of the phenomenal success which has been witnessed in the real estate market and which culminated in the erection of 2,214 buildings, at a cost of $37,500,445, and the expenditure of $844,710 for alterations to 704 buildings, a total of $38,345,155. With peace in the essential mechanical trades assured, builders can make sure calculations for the coming year, and are busy with plans for apparently more houses than were erected in 1905.

New Y. M. C. A. Building for Brooklyn.

LORIMER ST.—The Greenpoint Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, No. 861 Manhattan av, Brooklyn, has just commissioned Messrs. Jackson & Rosencrans, 31 Union sq, Manhattan, to design plans for a new association building, 4 stories, 100x100 ft., to be erected at the northeast corner of Lorimer st and Meserole av, Brooklyn. No contract has yet been given out.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, the mean as follows:
 1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.
 2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.
 3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.
 4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.
 5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.
 6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.
 7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figures indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (f) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments. The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

WHILE the current stock market is undoubtedly one in which stocks bought at a lower level are being distributed, it by no means follows that there is anything insecure about the current situation. The process of gradually increasing the price of securities has occupied about eighteen months, and the process of distributing them widely at the present or at a higher level may well take a year. It all depends, of course, upon the maintenance of earnings, the course of general business, and the degree of caution with which the bull campaign is continued. As to the course of general business, there is no reason to anticipate any diminution of activity during the coming spring and the early summer. A crop failure might thereafter give a decided check to the expanding earnings of the railroads and to the purchasing power of their customers, but no one can anticipate what may take place in business six months ahead. It is sufficient that business is active and profitable at the present time without any obvious signs of inflation. If, consequently, the stock market becomes dangerous during the next few months, it will be because prices are being forced up too rapidly, and are allowed to depart too far from a conservative estimate of current values. We do not believe that any such condition has occurred as yet. It may have taken place in a few securities, but, as a rule, the current level of values affords room for further advances, provided they are cautiously brought about. There has been no indication of a runaway market during the week. Certain securities have made sharp advances; but those are just the securities in which advances were most justified. The buying, while large, is by no means indiscriminate. There are undoubtedly a large number of people who believe that prices will reach a somewhat higher level, and who have the money and the will to back their convictions. They are likely to control the stock market some time to come.

THE most noticeable development recently in the real estate market has been the buying for improvement in the vicinity of Broadway and Cortlandt street, to which more specific reference is made elsewhere. There has also been some very good buying on some of the side streets down town, and most of this purchasing has been done by speculators and operators with a view to improvements. The only other center of pronounced speculative activity continues to be the district in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania and the trolley terminals. The tunnel company keep adding to the list of properties which it needs for its station, and it is stated that negotiations are under way for the erection of a department store over its train shed. That some such disposition will be made of the property seems inevitable; but it is probable that no decision in reference to the matter can be made yet. Speculative buying continues to be lively on Seventh avenue and on the side streets in that vicinity, and prices are steadily advancing. A number of loft buildings will probably be erected on the side streets during the coming spring, and the whole neighborhood will receive a further boost as soon as the contracts are let for the Seventh avenue-Broadway Subway. Old tenements on the middle East and West Sides are also being sold in large numbers, and many indications of activity may be noted on Ninth avenue between 14th and 34th streets. It is one of the most wholesome signs of the existing condition of real estate in New York that property on streets and avenues which has been dead for years is again showing symptoms of life.

THIS is the time of year when the purchases of property are made down town for the purpose of building office buildings during the summer, and from the announcements which have recently been made it is apparent that there will be a good deal of activity during 1906 in this class of building. Apparently both the Adams Express Company and the Singer Manufacturing Company will improve their holdings on Broadway, while other offices will shortly be erected on Broad street near Beaver, and on Wall street near William. But most of the building will take place somewhat further north. There has been comparatively little new construction of late immediately north of Maiden lane; but the scarcity of available sites further south is concentrating attention on this part of Broadway and its vicinity. The example of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. is being followed. The City Investing Company has pieced together a fine and large site on Cortlandt street and Greenwich street, and the United States Realty Co. has been buying on Broadway between Cortlandt and Dey. All of these plots may not be improved during the current year; but they are certainly being bought because the existing buildings are out of date, and the erection of new ones will not be long delayed. There is every reason why new skyscrapers should be constructed in good central locations. The ever-increasing business of the financial district is again insistently demanding more space for its use, and the activity of general business keeps existing buildings very full. During the next two months many additional announcements of this kind may be confidently expected.

LITTLE by little it is being divulged in the daily papers what the City of New York has to expect by way of increased rapid transit from the Belmont-Ryan combination. The officials of the companies frankly state that it was the desire to avoid building competing and unprofitable lines, which was the chief motive of the consolidation, and that the combination has no intention of bidding upon all the new routes laid out by the Commission. The only new subways in which it is interested are a three-track line running up the East Side from 42d along Lexington avenue and a four-track line south from 42d street on Seventh and Eighth avenues and Broadway. This announcement will disappoint many property owners who are interested in some of the other proposed routes; but it cannot be said that the decision is unreasonable. The immediate construction of all the proposed subways would certainly be a very unprofitable business, and one cannot ask capitalists to invest money without the expectation of a substantial return. The upper East Side and the lower West Side routes mentioned above are the subways most urgently needed at the present time, and if this city can secure their early construction from the rapid transit company on favorable terms, it will have obtained as much as can be expected for the next two or three years. The question is, whether the combination is prepared to offer sufficiently favorable terms, and this question cannot be answered with any certainty. The only inducements which the combination will offer are, according to the newspapers, (1) the construction of the subways without the use of the city's credit, and (2) certain unspecified transfer privileges. These are all very well, but they do not touch the heart of the matter. What the public wants to know is, How long the operating contract will run, and how much rent will be paid? The success of the existing subway has been such that the city has every reason to demand a larger compensation than the one which it is now receiving. The profit on this contract has already amounted to about $50,000,000, and no one can tell how much more it will become during the next seventy-five years. The lease must be for a shorter term, and there must be periodical readjustments of the rental charge. The contract with the New Jersey Tunnel Co. for the Sixth Avenue Subway contained provisions looking in this direction, and the new longitudinal subways now proposed should be worth more than the short tunnel under Sixth avenue from Ninth street to Greeley square. It is very much to be hoped that the officials of the traction companies will agree to pay a fair value for these new subways.

THE Bridge Commissioner, Mr. Stevenson, stated his determination recently to do away entirely with the terminals, which encumbered the plans of his predecessor, and this decision is worthy of all approval. But we fear that he will have some difficulty in making it good. The terminals cannot be dispensed with except by means of connecting rapid transit tracks, running either in subways or on elevated structures, and there seems to be insuperable difficulties in the way of making the necessary connections by either of these methods. Every attempt to plan a connection by means of an elevated road has been met with such stubborn opposition from the newspapers and the various civic associations that the people who proposed them abandoned their plans in despair. On the other hand, there are equally stubborn engineering difficulties in the way of making the connection by means of subways. Mr. Lindenthal, the former Bridge Commissioner, in a letter to the Sun, asserts flatly that such connections imply grades that are dangerously steep, and he objects strongly and justifiably to any plan which includes the running of non-fireproofed cars through such tunnels. But if subway connections are engineering impossibilities, what is to be done? The Record and Guide has always favored the subway idea, provided subway connections can be made; but assuming that subway connections cannot be made, is it not better to put up with the occupation of a few more streets down town by elevated roads than to abandon the idea of any connection? The city is spending many million dollars on these bridges, which will be thrown away unless traffic can be brought to the bridges and carried away from them. Of course, if the opposition to any more elevated roads is too stubborn to be overcome, the inevitable must be accepted; but, at all events, let the alternatives in that case be clearly understood. The people who oppose elevated roads also oppose terminals; but apparently the city is obliged to accept either one of these solutions or the other. Which shall it be? The elevated roads are undoubtedly objectionable, but are they more objectionable than the postponement of satisfactory rapid transit between Manhattan and Brooklyn until two or three more tunnels, with adequate connections, are constructed under the East River?

IT was announced during the week that the Century Realty Company will preserve its independent existence, in spite of the fact that its control has passed into the hands of the United States Realty & Improvement Company. Mr. Charles T. Barney, Mr. Oakleigh Thorne, and Mr. William H. Chesebrough have been elected directors of the latter corporation, while Mr. H. S. Black and Mr. R. G. Babbage have become directors of the former company. It is stated, furthermore, that the Century Realty Co. will continue actively in business, and that the chief difference which the merger will make is that the Century Co. will have the "advantage of an alliance which will prove of great benefit in handling larger transactions." This arrangement certainly has the advantage of being very flexible. What it probably means is that the Century Realty Co. will be the operating department of the United States Realty & Improvement Company. Speculative purchases for resale will be handled by means of the Century organization, while large building operations, which are essentially in the nature of an investment, such as the new Boreel Building and the new Plaza Hotel, will be turned over to the United States Realty & Improvement Company. It is certainly desirable to keep these different classes of operation separate, and the efficiency of both companies should be increased by means of an alliance which falls short of complete identification.

How the Mortgage Tax Law Works in Actual Business.

Editor Record and Guide:

I send you enclosed a copy of correspondence to Governor Higgins in connection with the Mortgage Tax Law that speaks for itself.

I believe that the specific case at issue to which I called the Governor's attention, to satisfy him as to who is paying the mortgage tax, ought to convince the Governor that this obnoxious mortgage tax cannot be repealed any too soon.

HARRY GOODSTEIN.

No. 1.

Honorable Frank W. Higgins, Governor of the State of New York.

Honorable Sir: I respectfully beg leave to call your attention to my experience that I have encountered in connection with obtaining first mortgage money on my property in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

I am an extensive real estate operator and builder in the city of New York, and have been such for quite some time, and, knowing your sentiments, as so often and frequently expressed through the daily papers, in connection with the agitation now going on for the repeal of the obnoxious Mortgage Tax Law, I thought it might be to some advantage to send you a report of one particular experience in connection with obtaining first mortgage loans on some choice property, located on one of the best avenues in the City of New York, and you will find enclosed a copy of a communication sent to Messrs. Adams & Comstock, attorneys in New York, representing financial institutions, estates and individuals, having many millions of dollars available for first mortgage loans on New York City real estate, that I think after careful consideration and investigation will be found most convincing to you as to who pays the tax, the mortgagee or mortgagor.

I could cite and prove similar experiences and difficulties in endeavoring to obtain first mortgage money at the old and usual rate of interest, namely, 5%, that is practically out of the market since the passage last summer of the mortgage tax, but think that this specific case, properly presented herein to you, bears evidence sufficient of the most telling effect that it is not the lender who is paying the mortgage tax, but the owner of real estate, who, in addition to this tax, already pays land taxes, assessments, etc.

I would feel very grateful to Your Honor for acknowledging the receipt of this communication that I am positive will receive your just consideration. Remaining, very respectfully yours,

(Signed)

HARRY GOODSTEIN.

Office of Adams & Comstock (Thatcher M. Adams, Frederick H. Comstock), 36 Wall St, New York.

Mr. Harry Goodstein, No. 200 Broadway, City.

Dear Sir: The only one of the two applications received from you this morning which interests us is that on 1966 7th av, between 118th and 119th sts, and if this can be had in the form of an assignment of a mortgage which is free from the mortgage tax, we may be able to do something with it; but our clients do not care to invest in any mortgages which are subject to the mortgage tax. Please let us hear from you if anything can be done. Yours truly,

Where Fireproof Wood is Required.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

In the Dec. 23 issue of the Record & Guide, in the article under the heading of "Building Superintendent Estopped," you give the decision of the Appellate Division in the matter of the City vs. the A. T. Stewart Realty Co. In the third paragraph of the article you quote the Appellate Division as saying: "It was neither designed to regulate the use of buildings nor temporary changes and alterations not materially affecting the permanent outside or partition walls, floors or ceilings made for the purpose of conducting a particular business therein, nor to prevent the use of movable trade fixtures, necessary or appropriate to such business, but that it was evidently intended to ensure the construction of fireproof walls, ceilings, floors and all finish, exterior and interior, forming a permanent part thereof."

Do we understand by this that (1) wood and glass partitions going to the ceiling, used for dividing offices into separate or private rooms, must be constructed of fireproofed material? Also (2), shall the terra cotta partition used for the same purpose have trim for door openings constructed of fireproofed wood? Or (3), does this decision mean that the wood in both cases need not be fireproofed? Yours truly,

E. C. SCATCHERD.

(The Batavia & New York Wood Working Co.)

Answer.—(1) All partitions in fireproof buildings of a permanent character are required by law to be of fireproof materials. It has been customary, however, for the bureau to accept for the sub-division of offices and small rooms wood and glass partitions, provided the same were made of fireproofed wood when the building is over 150 ft. in height. This practice is likely to continue, although the decision of the Appellate Division would justify the bureau in insisting on such partitions being of fireproof construction. (2) The trim for door openings in all terra cotta or other fireproof partitions in buildings over 150 ft. in height must be of fireproofed wood or some other approved incombustible material. (3) The decision of the Appellate Division does not exempt woodwork which forms interior trim from being fireproofed, but does exempt fixtures, such as shelves, which can be considered as movable furniture.

Personal Mention.

James H. Hyde and William H. McIntyre retired this week from the board of the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust Co., James N. Wallace, president of the Central Trust Co., and Henry Rogers Winthrop, financial manager of the Equitable Society, being elected to the vacancies caused by the retirement of Messrs. Hyde and McIntyre.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Lawyers' Mortgage Co., new directors were elected as follows: Robert Walton Goellet, Ernst Thalmann, of Ladenburg Thalmann & Co.; Henry L. Stimson, former law partner of Secretary of State Elihu Root; Louis V. Bright, vice-president of the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust Co., and William A. Day, ex-Assistant Attorney General of the United States. The directors retiring are James Hazen Hyde, William H. McIntyre, George H. Squire, Alvin W. Krech and Robert A. Grannis.

At an annual meeting of the stockholders of Lawyers' Title Insurance & Trust Co., held Jan. 10, the following named were elected directors of the company, to serve for three years next ensuing: David B. Ogden, James M. Varnum, John Webber, William A. Day, J. Frederic Kernochan, Franklin B. Lord, James Stillman, Henry E. Howland. Also Mr. Thorwald Stallknecht, as successor to Mr. Geo. H. Squire, resigned, to serve for one year. At a meeting of the board of directors, held Jan. 17, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: E. W. Coggeshall, president and general manager; David B. Ogden, John T. Lockman, Louis V. Bright, Henry Morgenthau, vice-presidents; Thorwald Stallknecht, treasurer; Walter N. Vail, secretary.

One of the surprises thrown into the arena of political discussion by Mayor McClellan was the appointment of ex-Deputy Register Henry H. Sherman, of 1006 Trinity av, to the vacancy in the Board of Education created by the resignation of Frederick W. Jackson. Mr. Sherman has resided on the North Side since 1888. Mayor Hewitt made him his private secretary, and later in the years 1893-1894 he was secretary of the Bureau of Immigration on Ellis Island. From 1895 to 1897, inclusive, Mr. Sherman was an Under Sheriff. Three years ago, when M. P. Breen resigned the post of Deputy Register, the then Assistant Deputy Register the latter, Ferdinand Boehmer, was appointed deputy, and Mr. Sherman became assistant deputy. Upon the death of Boehmer Mr. Sherman was made deputy, and ex-Senator Joseph P. Hennessy was appointed assistant deputy. Upon the assumption of office by Register Gass, Mr. Hennessy was continued in the position to which he was assigned under the preceding administration.

Brick Manufacturers' Banquet.

GUESTS OF THE JOHN B. ROSE CO. AT MURRAY HILL LYCEUM—ADDRESS BY MR. ROSE ON THE STATUS OF THE BRICK MARKET.

The John B. Rose Co., with offices and wharves at the foot of 52d st, North River, tendered a luncheon to the brick manufacturers, the dealers in masons' building materials, builders and their friends at the Murray Hill Lyceum, 34th st, on Thursday afternoon. Among the 600 guests present we noted the following: Mr. Horatio N. Wood, president National Bank of Haverstraw, with his partner, Mr. Brewster J. Allison, of the firm of Wood & Allison; Mr. Everett Fowler, president People's Bank of Haverstraw, with his partners in Excelsior Brick Co.; Mr. A. S. Staples, president Ulster Co. Savings Bank, Kingston, N. Y.; ex-Mayor Jonathan D. Wilson, of Newburgh, N. Y.; Clinton W. Sweet and H. W. Desmond, of New York; Senator J. T. Alds, of Sullivan; Senator John N. Cordts, of Ulster; Hon. Jas. K. Apgar, representative from Westchester; District Attorney Lee, of Rockland County; Hon. W. Geo. Hastings, representative from Orange Co.; Hon. Jean L. Burnett, representative; Postmaster H. B. Odell, of Newburgh; County Clerk Jas. J. Leonard, of Orange County; Hon. Jas. G. Graham, Jr., Deputy Attorney General; Mr. Lenox S. Rose, president Blanchard Bros. & Lane, Newark, N. J.; Mr. Henry Theobald, general manager Toledo Computing Scale Co., Toledo, O.; Mr. W. J. Mathews, potentate of Mecca Temple; Mr. John Downey, builder, New York City; Mr. Geo. C. Cromwell, President Borough of Richmond; Mr. Marc Eidlitz, builder, New York City; Mr. Thos. B. Leahy, contractor, New York City; Mr. Charles A. Schieren, Jr., Brooklyn; Mr. John C. Orr, of John C. Orr & Co.; Mr. James Sherlock Davis, president, and Mr. John H. Ireland, of Cross, Austin & Ireland Lumber Co.; Mr. John Peale and Mr. E. P. Dunham, of Peale, Peacock & Kerr; the following among many well-known citizens of Newburgh: Mayor Robinson, Clayton, E. Sweet, of Sweet, Orr & Co.; John W. Mathews, William H. Hilton, Samuel J. Hilton, ex-Postmaster Lewis W. Y. McCroskery, Alexander Goldberg, James Beahan, R. N. Whalen, Dr. Henry W. Wilson, W. J. Fowler, W. H. Fowler, John H. Chapman, John H. Quinlan, H. N. Waring, Robt. C. Boyd, William T. Hilton, Benjamin Quinlan, Graham Whitchief, Frederick Banks, Frederick W. Wilson, Henry McDowell, H. N. Bain, William H. Coldwell, John J. Nutt, F. W. Doxey, A. N. Chambers, Dr. Townsend, Geo. Donoghue, W. F. Cassidy.

And the following brick manufacturers, representing an output of 1,000,000,000 brick annually: Arrow Brick Works, Allison & Wood, B. J. Allison & Co., C. B. & G. A. Archer, Jas. Bissett, L. H. Brockett, William Bennett, Bartlett Brick Works, Chas. E. Bishop, Cary Brick Co., Henry Corse, Champlain Brick Co., B. J. Curtis, Jr., Central New England Brick Co., Dempsey & Gabriel Brick Co., DeNoyells & Co., Dennings Point Brick Works, East Windsor Hill Brick Works, Excelsior Brick Co., Edward Futman, Eugene Frost, Ferguson Brick Co., Everett Fowler, D. Fowler, Jr., & Co., Philip Goldrick, I. E. Gardner, M. B. & L. B. Gardner, Jas. W. Gillies, Matthew Gormley, Percival Golden, Gardner Brick Works, M. M. Hayden, the Hutton Co., Jova Brick Works, Jacob Klein, William Leahy, Robert Lent, Lynch Bros., Mehrhof Brick Co., Murray & Riberdy, Joseph Mayone, Philip Merhoff, Nicholson & Reilly, Nicholson & Sons, Newburgh Brick Co., Pettitt & Co., C. R. Painter, Ramsdell estate, E. N. Renn & Co., Rose Brick Co., J. Roberts, Richmond Brick Co., Thos. Shankey & Son, Geo. A. Sheehan, Sayre & Fischer Co., Standard Material Co., Snedeker Bros., Edmund Schmultz, A. S. Staples, H. H. Schultz, A. S. Staples, Jr., Terry Bros. Co., M. E. Turner, Tuttle Brick Co., Troy Brick Co., Westfield Brick Co., Washburn & Fowler, U. F. Washburn & Co., Wood & Allison, Yates Bros.

These gathered together at what has now become widely known as the "Hot Air Convention." Enthusiasm was the order of the day, for no one could enter the hall, which was profusely decorated, without at the very outset becoming thoroughly aroused with the spirit of the occasion. We believe this luncheon is absolutely unique, knowing of none where so large a number attend annually and for five hours are so enjoyably entertained, without the guests being bored for a single moment by a number of speeches, for the man who attempts to make a speech at this time would find the famous Gridiron Club an awful frost in comparison to the heat generated by the "hot air pow-wow."

Each guest received a boutonniere, and a badge and a memorandum book as souvenirs.

The menu as served by L. L. Goldstein, the proprietor of the Murray Hill Lyceum, was an excellent one. During the luncheon Hurtig & Seamon's Orchestra of twelve pieces played all the popular airs, from "Sweet Annie Laurie" down to "Everybody Works But Father," and the entire assemblage, lead by a double quartette, composed of former members of the Yale Glee Club, all friends of Mr. Rose, joined heartily in the chorus. At the conclusion of the luncheon the tables were cleared and a vaudeville company entertained the guests for two hours and a half.

Preceding the pow-wow a meeting of the manufacturers of the Hudson Valley, Hackensack and Connecticut was held, where reports of the business for the past year were read, and the general conditions of the trade were discussed. Only the brickmakers attended this meeting. The following address, which expressed the conditions very tersely, was delivered by Mr. John B. Rose, president of the John B. Rose Co.:

THE PRICE OF BRICK.

"Fellow Brick Manufacturers: It gives me great pleasure on behalf of the John B. Rose Co. to welcome you here to-day. But as the hour for luncheon is growing near at hand, I will get at once to the subject nearest to our hearts, namely, the price of brick, and that which is necessary to a good price, the demand. A year ago we met here, quite satisfied with the year that had passed and hopeful, if not almost confident, of the future. To-day we meet after the most successful year in the history of the brick business. Not for twenty years have the prices been so high, and never in the history of the business have so many brick been produced. Representatives of this company have for weeks been at work preparing an inventory of brick on hand at the close of navigation, and a comparative statement of the brick manufactured during the past years. Six years ago the manufacturers found themselves face to face with extermination, unless the ruinous competition and low prices which then prevailed could be remedied. For the purpose of bettering these conditions an association was formed which had that for its sole object, and for a number of years the output of manufacturers was reduced from over 1,000 millions to 750 million brick annually. Thus the great surplus which was found in the various yards at the close of the season was gradually reduced, until last year we found that the supply of brick of that season's manufacture, which must last until the brick of the following year's manufacture should become plentiful, which is about the month of June, was scarcely enough to keep pace with the demand.

"With the reduction in brick manufactured annually, and consequently the constantly decreasing surplus at the end of the manufacturing season, came a gradual increase in the demand. From a demand of 1,969 buildings, which were the plans filed in 1900 in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, showing an estimated cost of $57,000,233, this grew to 2,512 buildings, to cost $119,000,000 in 1901; 1,703 buildings, to cost $88,000,000 in 1902; 1,757 buildings, to cost $81,000,000 in 1903; 3,040 buildings, to cost $97,000,000 in 1904, and 4,805 buildings, to cost $163,000,000 in 1905. This does not take into account a still greater proportional increase in the Boroughs of Brooklyn and Richmond. To this demand, and this demand alone, is due the high prices of to-day.

"It is estimated that for a number of years previous to 1900 the brick manufactured was about 1,000 million annually, but this was reduced for a couple of years to 750 millions annually; but not since 1902 has anything been done to secure a curtailment. Manufacturers, fearful lest the conditions which obtained before 1901 might again come to pass, were not eager to drive their work. But during the past two years, when the users of brick in this city have been loudly proclaiming that the "brick trust" was forcing up the price of brick, there has been no combination, and every mother's son of us has made all the brick we could produce. You can appreciate the truth of this statement when I tell you, from the most careful estimates we have been able to make, that the increase in manufacture has grown from 750 millions in 1900 to 1,100 millions in 1904, and 1,250 millions in 1905. This does not take into account the large number of brick that come into this market from Connecticut, Troy, Albany, nor from South River, N. J., but only the brick manufactured on the Hudson River from Coeymans, south, and those shipped to this market from Hackensack, N. J. The stock of brick on hand at the close of navigation in 1903 was 204,471,000. Notwithstanding an increase in manufacture of brick of over 150,000,000 the next season, we found on hand at the close of navigation in 1904, 214,941,000.

"With an increase of over 200,000,000 manufactured in 1905, and with a still larger quantity coming into the market from New England, we find the stock on hand to be 200 millions to-day, with navigation still open to Haverstraw, showing that the great demand for brick has exceeded the enormous production of 1,250 millions. How, then, in the name of all that is good and bad, can the users of brick in this city yell "brick trust"? For, notwithstanding the fact that we have done our utmost to produce all the brick possible, the demand has gone us still one better. There is just one other point I wish to make at this time and that is, the dealers have told us that the high price of brick may discourage builders. To this I have made the following reply, and I am sure you will all bear me out in the truth of it. If builders wait until the price of brick prevents them from building they will never stop. For so small a part does brick play in the cost of a modern building that an operation consuming one million of brick to-day, and the ground covered, would represent an investment of $1,000,000. Do you imagine that even so great an advance as $5 per thousand on the price of brick, which would represent an additional cost of $5,000 on a million-dollar investment, would prevent the owner from going on with the work? In the case of a building where 250,000 brick would be used in construction the same conditions would apply.

"A year ago I was asked if I thought brick would go to $10 per thousand before the end of the year. I replied, with some hesitancy, that I thought they would. I have now been asked when I thought the price of brick would drop to $10 per thousand. I can only answer this, when the surplus at the end of one manufacturing season is greater than the amount which will be consumed before the new product comes into the market; and when the supply continually exceeds the demand, then may we expect low prices. Let us now and for all times to come disabuse the minds of the users, that there is a combination of brick manufacturers, for a willing purchaser makes a better market than an unwilling one; and he who knows and believes that he pays the price asked because the other fellow is willing to pay that price if he does not; and, further, that it is only because there is a greater demand than a supply; and if these, I repeat, are the reasons why prices are high, he simply shrugs his shoulders and smilingly complies with the inexorable law of supply and demand. Having dispensed all the "hot air" that I feel that we can properly digest, and assuring you that it will be the pleasure of the company to submit our written report at the earliest possible moment, we now extend you an invitation to adjourn to the luncheon upstairs."

CITY LAND VALUES

As Affected By Transportation Facilities

By H. H. VREELAND

(Executive Head of the Surface Car Lines in New York County.)

When I came to the consideration of this subject, which was new to me, I assumed that on a question of this importance there existed and had been collated a mass of facts and figures which when examined would throw considerable light on the topic we have in hand. I inferred that from this date it would be possible to answer two questions. First: What is the effect, good or bad, of railroad improvement on land values; and, Second: To what extent has this influence been felt. I found to my surprise, however, on investigation, that no such data exists in collected form and it was in truth the discovery of this fact that finally put an end to my hesitation in favor of coming to speak to you. Because if you carry away from this conference nothing more than the knowledge that all archives are barren of figures and facts on this important topic, it will not have been in vain, for it will have brought intimately home to your consciousness the necessity of such work as the Y. M. C. A. has undertaken in this lecture course. It will show you the necessity of an organization of this kind which can collect, discuss and collate data of this kind and make it available for those who intend to devote their time to the real estate business.

There being no data in existence, it was necessary to make inquiry in the line of "human experience." It was plain that some experienced man must be sought who had, in his business career, observed the known effects and made a little note of them. No one seemed more likely to have done this than Mr. Frederick G. Hobbs, of Slawson & Hobbs, to whom I am indebted for many of the special incidents which I will presently furnish in support of the theory that the effect of intensified street railway transportation improves the rental and taxable value of land.

Before proceeding with these particular interests, I wish to call your especial attention to the steady neglect of increased taxable values in all the discussions concerning street railway improvements. Some of the most astonishing effects are to be found in this connection, but it being a creditable feature, it is ignored. As I proceed, I will have to refer to this subject again, and I will present to you some facts concerning it. I think, since it is the simplest form of showing what I have in mind to illustrate, I had better first consider the crosstown lines, and therefore let us take a look at Thirty-fourth street and see what happened there in the past few years.

THIRTY-FOURTH STREET.

In discussing this particular thoroughfare, I will exclude its east and west termini, as they are too far away from the intersecting points of those great north and south lateral lines running the length of the island, and I will confine myself to that portion of it between Eighth and Fourth avenues. Ten years ago this particular portion of Thirty-fourth street was among the most fashionable residential sections of the city, and its occupants had sufficient strength to postpone for many years the introduction of a crosstown line through it, notwithstanding the fact that there was a clamorous public demand for cheap transportation across town at some point between Forty-second and Twenty-third streets. The promoters of the road finally succeeded in meeting the demand, and beating down the local opposition to it. Thereupon the street went into the transitional stage, and the values of the residences owned by the original objectors soon began to change for the better, although the uses to which the land was to be put was for business more than for residential purposes.

By means of transfer to north and south lines intersecting this Thirty-fourth street railroad, the street was thrown into communication with the whole of Eighth avenue, Seventh avenue, Sixth avenue, Broadway, Fourth avenue and Lexington avenue, so that broadly considered, that little strip of Thirty-fourth street was as if it had been inserted into each of those great north and south thoroughfares, and presently the line was so over-taxed that it was necessary to change the motive power on them, and on August 28, 1900, cars propelled by electric storage batteries were introduced there. It was supposed that this improved power would ease the congestion made by the passenger contributions from these great avenues, north and south, but the tide of travel swamped the cars; and on September 10, 1903, the owners of the road converted it and uniformed it with the other car lines and installed the underground electric system.

In the year 1900 property in this section sold at the rate of from $2,000 to $2,500 per front foot, but immediately after that date a very sudden rise took place, and R. H. Macy & Co. paid for some of their land on that thoroughfare as high as $133 per square foot, or about $16,000 per front foot. On the corner of Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, I am informed, they paid $333 per square foot, and this, mark you, in a section influenced by nothing other than surface transportation; because for over twenty-five years the elevated in the immediate neighborhood, one block south, had failed to affect values at all.

Directly opposite the Macy corner, at the Sixth avenue intersection, is the Broadway Tabernacle. The trustees of that church in 1857 bought ten lots on the northeast corner of Thirty-fourth street for $78,500, and disposed of four of them for $33,000, making the actual cost of that site $45,000. Within the past three years this property, which cost them $45,000, was sold for $1,275,000, and real estate men inform me that this rise was not a speculative one, but was reasonable, because of the accessibility of this site, on a corner from which four cars running over some five hundred odd miles of city streets transfer.

Opposite the Macy site there is another, that now occupied by Saks & Co. The syndicate that built this structure which came into existence after the facilities on Thirty-fourth street had been fully developed, paid $133 per square foot in some instances, and the tenant of the property is under an annual rental of $170,000. A Chicago merchant, I am informed, has made an offer to the owners of this property for $3,750,000, agreeing to take it subject to a mortgage of $2,000,000 at 4½ per cent., and pay $1,750,000 in cash for their equity. The owners, believing as every one does who studies the transportation problems of this city, that it is worth more, have fixed their price at $4,250,000, so you see the neighborhood seems still to be growing.

In real estate circles there is an interesting story told of a gentleman who owned an old-fashioned four-story house in the center of the block between Broadway and Fifth avenue. He offered this property for sale in the early eighties for $50,000, but accidentally communicated the fact to a great believer in Thirty-fourth street property, who urged him not to sell. The old man, however, argued that, because of his age and for the convenience of his family, and the inevitable coming introduction of street cars into the thoroughfare, he must, in duty to his family, dispose of the property. However, after much earnest solicitation, the old gentleman was finally persuaded to hold on. Some years later he was approached with an offer of $90,000, but by this time he had grown interested in development, and finally when he did dispose of the property he sold it for $150,000, and they say that the friend who advised him—a real estate broker, by the way—was not forgotten. An old dwelling on this block, covering a plot 25x98.9, is estimated now to be worth $200,000, whereas before the car line started dwellings of this type were virtually a drug upon the market.

Rents in this block are naturally estimated upon the value of the land. Nos. 43 and 45 West Thirty-fourth street, dwelling houses, on a plot 50x98.9, have been rented to a tenant for a term of years at an annual rental of $24,000, with taxes and repairs. This same property rented in the early nineties for private use for $3,000 and $3,500, respectively. The class of business now coming into Thirty-fourth street, between Broadway and Fifth avenue, is really the overflow from Fifth avenue firms. They find it necessary to be convenient to the surface cars, although to a great extent they are patronized by people of means, who use other means of conveyance than street cars. Their journeymen, clerks, salesmen and saleswomen must be near the public accommodation.

Nor is the effect of this rise confined to the Thirty-fourth street exclusively, for around the corner in Thirty-fifth street, Nos. 8 and 10 West, of which I have a record, show the influence of the improved facilities. These numbers were purchased in 1900 by a physician, the year after we started the storage battery cars on Thirty-fourth street, who paid $70,000 for it, or about $30 a square foot for a plot containing 2,345 square feet. He sold his holding the other day for $96 per square foot, and the purchaser resold at a profit. B. Altman & Co., who undoubtedly have more carriage trade than any other dry-goods firm in this city, also found this neighborhood desirable and are now constructing one of the largest stores in the city of New York on the Fifth avenue block between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets. The record shows that they paid $265,000 for No. 3 East Thirty-fourth street; for No. 5 East Thirty-fourth street they paid $250,000, and for No. 7, $175,000, all of these plots being 25x98.9 feet. A 20-ft. house opposite the Altman site sold in 1900 for $48,500 and cannot be purchased to-day for $100,000.

Finally, probably the most important result of the great increase in values on Thirty-fourth street property is the benefit derived by the city from increased taxes, part of which, at least, is in consequence of the excellent surface car facilities. The taxes on the following properties on the north side of Thirty-fourth street have increased as follows:

	Taxes in 1894.	1905.	Net Gain.
Bet. 7th and 8th aves. ....	$6,686.55	$22,684.18	$15,997.53
Bet. 7th ave. and B'way .....	2,557.60	15,261.35	12,703.75
Bet. B'way and 5th ave. ....	29,015.00	75,710.37	56,695.37
Bet. 5th ave. and Madison ...	9,057.40	19,093.30	10,035.90
Bet. Madison and 4th avs. ...	6,873.60	9,794.58	2,910.98

Total increase ..... $98,343.53

And this increase is only between Fourth and Eighth avenues. Nor is the improvement here now at an end. The Rapid Transit Commission have under consideration a proposition to throw into that street, by means of an underground road and tunnel under the East River, the population of Queens and the northern section of Kings Borough.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTEENTH STREET.

Prior to 1895 One Hundred and Sixteenth street between Pleasant and Manhattan avenues was improved only to a small extent, and at that time dwellings and apartments were erected without the remotest idea of the street ever becoming a business thoroughfare. But on April 12, 1896, the One Hundred and Sixteenth street crosstown car line was established from Lexington avenue to Columbus avenue and One Hundred and Ninth street. This was the beginning of a great change in that street, for since that time, or at least within the last five years, buildings which have been erected have stores at least on the first floor, and in many instances one, two and three-story taxpayers for business only have been erected. Many of the old-type, five-story apartment houses have also been altered into stores and offices, at least on the first floor, and this has been more extensive than most people realize. Over 225 stores have been added by this transition. Where the alteration of apartments into stores has not taken place, many of the old private residences and first floors of apartment houses are now used by tailors, dressmakers, milliners, doctors, dental parlors, clubs, schools, etc.

Another noteworthy change is that of tearing down old private residences and replacing with large elevator apartment houses with stores, the value of the land having increased so rapidly that owners can easily afford to do so. Two good demonstrations of this noteworthy change are the southwest corner of Manhattan avenue and the southwest corner of Lenox avenue. As already stated, land in this street is very rapidly increasing in value, and the altering of flats into stores is but a stepping stone towards tearing down the entire building and erecting a large up-to-date business structure, the land having become too valuable to warrant the maintenance of residential property only. This is plainly shown, for wherever a crosstown surface line is put through a wide street it almost immediately starts a great change from a resident to a business section, and real estate values in all cases rise rapidly, as stores command a much higher rent than apartments.

Rental values have been greatly increased, and One Hundred and Sixteenth street is becoming more and more a business thoroughfare. Of course these changes do not occur in a day. They are gradual, but are, nevertheless, the more certain. The fact that so many of these alterations have taken place in so short a time signifies that the change is yet in its infancy. One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, a much older business street, has the advantage of a car line from river to river, which One Hundred and Sixteenth street has not, and therefore it cannot be expected that the change in One Hundred and Sixteenth street shall equal that of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Business seldom precedes a surface line, but it is very noticeable that in sections where there has been little or no business activity, after the establishment of a surface line flourishing business and increased real estate values ensue. Therefore, every surface line is a decided boon to the public as well as real estate holders—so the more surface lines we have the better.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STREET.

One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street is indisputably THE uptown business centre, where merchants in all lines have located, and they will never regret it, either, for they are amassing fortunes. Why is this? Why, just because you can easily reach One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street from anywhere. The surface lines will transfer in every direction, be it Harlem or Washington Heights, and the service is excellent, too.

Now what effect has all this had upon the value of real estate on or about this thoroughfare. Well, just so much that property has doubled and trebled so within the past ten years that to-day real estate on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street is worth about $4,000 per front foot, and, in consequence, rents are extremely high. But even at these high rentals, there is never a scarcity of willing and anxious lessees, and if the congestion and demand continues there is no telling what the rents will be.

Let us consider the rental conditions existing on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street: To begin with, leases made this year are considerably higher than ever before. One store, 50x100, was leased for 21 years at a graduating rental of $14,000 to $16,000 per annum, and the lessee sublet to a Boston shoe merchant half of the store, 25x100, at a graduating rental of $11,000 to $13,000 per annum. About the same time the southwest corner of Seventh avenue was leased for 21 years at $13,000 per annum. A 50-ft. store which five years ago rented for $7,000 per annum now finds a ready market at $15,000 per annum. This great increase in rentals in so short a time is almost unparalleled and is almost wholly attributable to the excellence of the surface transit facilities.

LEXINGTON AVENUE.

In conclusion, I must, in order to complete my story, give you the history of a North and South line. The values of no avenue suffered more than did those on Lexington by its proximity to Third avenue, which was the principal business thoroughfare of the East Side. Lexington avenue, by beginning as it does at Twenty-second street and Gramercy Park, in a section where there is no special business activity and ending in the midst of car barns and factories, has small possibilities as a thoroughfare, but by the opening of a surface railroad in 1895 a great change consequently took place.

The extension of this road through Lexington avenue south via Twenty-third street and Broadway to the Battery, and north via One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Lenox avenue to One Hundred and Forty-fifth street and the Harlem River, added five miles to its length, and the consequent and enormous additional traffic. Residents of West Harlem were enabled to reach any part of the East Side as far south as Twenty-third street without change of cars, which naturally brought to this avenue people who would probably not have visited it under ordinary circumstances were it not for the Lenox avenue extension. Stores which, until the advent of the new road, had lacked tenants, were rented, and business places already established were enlivened by the increase of visitors.

It is significant that for some time prior to the opening of the road there had been no attempt to improve available property on the avenue with stores; but after work was commenced there was a movement in many sections towards such improvement. Since which time many operations have been completed of buildings which contain stores, for which tenants were easily secured; and in numerous instances old dwellings from which the owners derived little profit have been altered for business purposes and are now showing their proprietors substantial returns. These conditions are matters of record.

Though Third avenue still retains a place as a great business thoroughfare, it will be noticed that a better class of stores obtain on Lexington avenue, stores which yield more to the owners of property in which they are located, and which tend to enhance the values of adjoining properties because of the character of their patronage.—Portion of a lecture delivered before the Real Estate Class of the West Side Y. # THE REALM OF BUILDING

The Fashionable Residential Section.

FIFTH AV, FROM 72D ST TO 90TH ST.
No. 6 (Concluding Article).

In the preceding five articles on the fashionable residential section of New York it has been shown conclusively why that narrow strip of territory on 5th av, between 72d and 90th sts, has been chosen by the wealth of the country as its permanent home in the metropolis. In this concluding article of the series it may be as well to give some of the reasons which make this favored location unique. This is not only on account of its fixed character, which must always render the section peculiarly exclusive, but also from the fact that there are a few mansions for sale, built to meet the demands of those wealthy persons and families of distinction who must necessarily seek dwellings here. The configuration of Manhattan Island is such that there cannot be another Central Park within its limits. Consequently the blocks of palatial residences facing the park from 72d st to 90th st must always remain what they now are. They are the permanent centre of an aristocratic quarter, just as are Belgravia and Mayfair in the British metropolis.

The country is enjoying unexampled prosperity. Men who have accumulated fortunes in all States in the Union are gravitating to New York to settle and acquire the handsomest residences that money can purchase in the most exclusive quarter. It is on this upper 5th av section that the cachet of fashion has been set. And there are many reasons why this should be the case.

The ground lies high, the park is as it were a private domain for each mansion in the vicinity. Business will never encroach on this part of the avenue, nor will car tracks ever disfigure its roadway. Residence in the locality carries with it social distinction and all that the term implies. That great public institution, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, will stand here for all time, thus maintaining the refined and aesthetic character of the section.

Numbered among the residents are such families as Converse, Kuhn, Dillon, Ripley, Fletcher, Reginald, Barclay, Broughton, Henry H. Rogers, Barnes, Cook, Stuyvesant Fish and Payne Whitney. The homes of Henry C. Frick and Andrew Carnegie are renowned throughout the country, and are viewed with interest by sight-seers visiting New York. Then there are the imposing residences of Townsend Burden, Brokaw, Leeds and many others of greater or lesser prominence.

This property under these circumstances must necessarily continue to advance in price for the simple reason that there is so little of it, and it can never be duplicated in any part of New York. Those who secure it will possess something that can never depreciate in value so long as New York remains the metropolis of the New World.

The few magnificent residences of the highest class now in the market are elaborate in architecture and arrangement and are replete with every modern convenience and improvement. And as to the vacant land for sale the price at which it is held is practically prohibitive for men of merely large means. It is only possible for multi-millionaires to secure such property.

Building and Loan Associations Growing.

The local building and loan associations of the United States were prosperous and successful during 1905. There has been an increase in membership and in assets, and a healthy condition generally prevails. The total assets of the local building associations in the United States is now upwards of $600,000, which is a net increase for the year of 21 millions. The total membership is 1,632,000, a net increase of 64,500. There can be no doubt of the increasing power and financial influence of these associations. Six hundred millions of dollars has been laid out in the erection of new homes and in the upbuilding of communities. The associations in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts have during the past year largely increased their assets and membership, and in many of the States changes have been made in the existing laws affecting these associations. These have been especially numerous in New York, with the result of placing the associations in this State on a much better footing and adding to their safety and strength.

The appended table shows the increases or decreases over last year and the assets and membership by States, so far as could be ascertained:

Building Operations.

Plans Ready for Immaculate Conception Buildings.

Plans are complete, and Raymond F. Almira, 51 Chambers st, is taking figures on the general contract for the institution buildings to be erected by the Mission of the Immaculate Conception, at Mount Loretto, Staten Island. There will be eight structures erected, all of reinforced concrete construction.

American Numismatic Society to Build.

AUDUBON PARK.—A building committee has been appointed to consider plans and the erection of a handsome fire-proof building for the American Numismatic and Archaeological Society as a permanent home, to be erected on two lots adjoining the new $350,000 building of the Hispanic Society of America, at Audubon Park. The structure will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, of which $19,000 has been contributed. The society's large collection of coins, medals and tokens will be on permanent exhibition, in many respects the most complete and valuable display in the world. Mr. Archer M. Huntington, of No. 1083 Fifth av, is president. No plans or architect has been selected.

Geo. A. Fuller Co. to Build Seligman Bank.

SOUTH WILLIAM ST.—The George A. Fuller Co., Fuller Building, Broadway and 23d st, has just obtained the general contract to erect for Isaac N. Seligman, of the banking firm of

THE Highest Standard of Instruction in Real Estate

We teach by mail how to buy and sell real estate. We teach all the phases of the real estate business thoroughly and exhaustively; and our lessons will be worth hundreds of dollars to every one interested in real estate.

IT IS THE IDEAL METHOD

Write for Booklet H, which will tell you all about it
U. S. Real Estate Correspondence Institute, Hegeman Bldg, 200 B'way

J. & W. Seligman & Co., of No. 21 Broad st, the new banking house and office building on the south side of William st, between South William and Stone sts, opposite the Cotton Exchange, on a plot 70x94x50 ft. The structure will contain, beside the bank, fine offices; it will have 12 stories, of granite and marble, fireproof throughout. The cost is estimated at about $750,000. Work is to commence at once. Messrs. Francis H. Kimball, of 71 Broadway, and Julian Clarence Levi, of 24 East 23d st, associated, are the architects. (See issue Dec. 9, 1905.)

Work to Begin at Once on Yerkes Institution.

Work is to be begun at once on the preparatory details in settlement of sites, plans and contracts for the erection of the new general hospital and home for convalescents, to be situated in the Bronx, provided for in the will of the late Charles T. Yerkes. The buildings will be substantial and handsome, but not of extravagant design. There will be plenty of well-lighted enclosures, on the order of "sun parlors," and baths of all kinds. The grounds will be handsomely laid out, and there will be lots of trees and gardens, with flowers and promenades. Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes, 5th av and 68th st; Dr. Edwin Sternburger, 43 East 60th st., and Dr. Joseph E. Janvrin, 191 Madison av, have the entire matter in charge. It was learned this week at the Yerkes residence that as yet no architect has been appointed.

The Phipps Model Tenements Again.

9TH AV, 20TH ST.—No time has been lost in actually carrying out the purpose of Mr. Henry Phipps for the erection of a series of "model tenements" in this city, for which he subscribed $1,000,000 less than a year ago. The property on which the third group will be situated is at the southwest corner of 9th av and 20th st, fronting 100 ft. on the avenue and 250 ft. on the street. The three groups of buildings are widely separated, the other two being already under course of erection on the north side of 31st st., east of 2d av, on plot measuring 186x98.9. The other site covers sixteen lots in 63d and 64th sts, 200 ft. in each street, and 125 ft. east of West End av. Dr. E. R. L. Gould, of 304 West 78th st, is interested in the work. It is announced that Mr. Phipps' plans include similar enterprises for Pittsburg, Alleghany and Philadelphia. In the proposed structures the question of sanitation will receive the most careful attention. No architect has been selected for the 9th av building as yet. Grosvenor Atterbury, of No. 20 West 43d st, and Messrs. Whitfield & King, 160 5th av, have been architects for Mr. Phipps in previous operations.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

2D AV.—Samuel Sass, 23 Park row, is planning for a 6-sty 32-family flat, 49.9x86.1, for Alexander Rosenberg, 235 East 60th st, to be erected at Nos. 732-736 2d av, to cost $50,000.

72D ST.—Isaac Spector, 22 East 120th st, will build on the north side of 72d st, 100 ft. west of Av A, a 6-sty 39-family flat, 50x89.2, to cost $50,000. Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, is architect.

12TH ST.—Rosenberg & Perelson, 124 Bowery, will erect on the south side of 12th st, 183 ft. west of Av G, a 6-sty 39-family flat, 50x90, to cost $50,000. Samuel Sass, 23 Park row, is architect.

75TH ST.—Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, is preparing plans for a 6-sty flat, 25x89.2, for 22 families, to be erected at No. 317 East 75th st, to cost $25,000. Chas. I. Weinstein, 1531 Madison av, is the owner.

31ST ST.—Chas. M. Straub, 122 Bowery, is preparing plans for three 6-sty flats, 40x85.9, 50x85.9, for the Victor Land & Improvement Co., 35 Nassau st, on the north side of 31st st, 100 ft. west of 1st av, to cost $125,000.

114TH ST.—Lordi, Permetti & De Respiris, 2206 2d av, will build on the north side of 114th st, 177.10 ft. east of 1st av, a 6-sty 28-family flat, 42.2x88.1, to cost $50,000. L. F. J. Weiher, 103 East 125th st, is preparing plans.

PARK AV.—L. F. J. Weiher, 103 East 125th st, is preparing plans for four 6-sty, 50-family flats, 37x87, for Abraham Goodwin, 1600 Madison av, to be erected at the southwest corner of Park av and 134th st, to cost $160,000.

122D ST.—Joseph Ludman, 23 East 107th st, will erect on the south side of 122d st, 141 ft. east of Lexington av, a 6-sty 22-family flat, 50.2x56.73/4, to cost $40,000. Bernstein & Bernstein, 24 East 23d st, are making plans.

98TH ST.—Bodenheimer & Keller, 570 West Broadway, will build on the north side of 98th st, 150 ft. west of 2d av, two 6-sty 28-family flats, 37.6x87.11, to cost $60,000. Bernstein & Bernstein, 24 East 23d st, are architects.

136TH ST.—Schwartz & Gross, 35 West 21st st, are making plans for a 6-sty 46-family flat, 99.11x115x112, for William Brown, 151 West 117th st, to be erected at the southwest corner of 136th st and Broadway, to cost $225,000.

135TH ST.—The Highland Construction Co., 1469 5th av, will build at the northeast corner of 135th st and Amsterdam av, two 6-sty flats, 56x90, 43.11x87, to cost $146,000. John Hauser, 360 West 125th st, is making plans.

73D ST.—Bernstein & Bernstein, 24 East 23d st, are preparing plans for four 6-sty 28-family flats, 37.6x89.2, for Messer & Warner, 18-20 1st av, to cost $150,000. They will be situated on the north side of 73d st, 98 ft. east of Av A.

AMSTERDAM AV.—The Interborough Building Co., 206 Broadway, will erect on the west side of Amsterdam av, from 134th to 135th sts, a row of five 6-sty flat buildings, 40x90, 40x87, 39.10x37, for 65 families, to cost $210,000. Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, is preparing plans.

Dwellings.

A. B. Gaines, Englewood, N. J., is taking bids on a 2½-sty residence, 50x75, which he will build at Englewood, from plans by H. R. Wilson, 218 La Salle st, Chicago, Ill.

Churches.

The Episcopal congregation of Norwalk, Conn., will build a new $80,000 church edifice. Rev. Weymes Smith is pastor.

SOUTH CHASE AV.—John W. Ingle, 109 West 42d st, has plans ready for the erection of the new church edifice on South Chase av, Rockaway Beach, for the Church of St. Rose of Lima, to cost $50,000.

Mercantile.

16TH ST.—Kurzrok Bros., of No. 832 Broadway, will erect at the period of about one year hence at No. 15 East 16th st., on a plot 25x92, a 10-sty loft and office building. They inform the Record & Guide that no plans have yet been made or architect selected.

Miscellaneous.

The Robins Conveying Belt Co., 21 Park Row, Manhattan, is taking figures on an addition to its foundry, at Passaic, N. J., to cost $35,000. Andrew Heintzleman, Newark, N. J., is the architect.

Figures on the general contract are wanted by Frederick Wunder, 957 Broadway, Brooklyn, for the 3-sty fireproof, cold-storage building, 40x55, for the Eagle Brewing Co., Nos. 20 to 40 Hayes st, Newark, N. J.

Charles A. Lupprian, 244 Main st, New Rochelle, N. Y., is preparing plans for a 6-sty fireproof office building, 35x145, to be erected at New Rochelle by the New Rochelle Press. No contract has yet been awarded.

Estimates Receivable.

160TH ST.—Moses Herrman, president Park Board, will take bids until 3 p. m., Jan. 25th, for plumbing and heating work in the Jumel Mansion, at 160th st and Jumel pl.

171ST ST.—Estimates are being received by Messrs. Bosworth & Holden, 1170 Broadway, for the new 8-sty fireproof parish house, 80x115, for the Protestant Episcopal Church, to be erected at 171st st and Fulton av.

33D ST.—No contracts have yet been awarded for $17,000 worth of alterations to the two 4-sty flat buildings to dormitories at Nos. 445-447 West 33d st, for the French Benevolent Society, 450 West 34th st, for which John H. Knubel, 314 West 42d st, is architect.

PARK ROW.—E. Raymond Bossange, 3 West 29th st, has plans ready for $30,000 worth of improvements to the 5-sty store and loft building, Nos. 31-33 Park row, for the J. Gould estate, for which D. H. Taylor, 31 Nassau st, is agent. New elevator, partitions, toilets, windows, etc.

MAIDEN LANE.—C. T. Wills, 156 5th av, general contractor, is taking bids on all sub-contracts for the 16 or 18-sty office building, 77x100, for the Royal Insurance Co., of Liverpool, 50 Wall st, to be erected at Nos. 84-88 William st and 67 to 71 Maiden Lane, for which Messrs. Howells & Stokes, 100 William st, are the architects.

29TH, 28TH STS.—Plans are ready for figures on the general contract for the 10-sty hotel addition, 50x197.6, Nos. 18 to 24 East 29th st and 15-17 East 28th st, for the Roy Realty Co., 141 Broadway, to cost $150,000. Edward Purchas, Madison av and 29th st, will superintend the work. The officers of the company are Leo J. Matty, 300 Manhattan av, president; M. Hall, 130 West Grove st, Elizabeth, N. J., secretary, and David A. Davies, 1203 Degraw st, Brooklyn, treasurer. Chas. T. Mott, 35 West 31st st, is architect.

Contracts Awarded.

The contract for structural steel work for the Yale Library, at New Haven, Conn., has just been awarded to Levering & Garrigues, of No. 552 West 23d st, Manhattan.

William Bason & Son, Sayville, L. I., have obtained the general contract to erect at Westhampton, L. I., the new passenger station for the Long Island R. R. Co., 128 Broadway, Manhattan. J. R. Savage, Jamaica, L. I., is chief engineer.

THIS illustrates the Power House of the Metropolitan Railway Company, at 96th Street and East River, New York City. It is considered, both from architectural and mechanical standpoints, one of the best examples of its class of building in this country. Among the several highly commendable features of this structure, the Architectural Iron Work, including window frames and sashes, stairs, railings, etc., all manufactured and installed by the Hecla Iron Works, stand out boldly as master specimens of mechanical handiwork.

The Hecla Iron Works are recognized as the first and foremost concern in the manufacture of Architectural Metal Work in the World. The plant is the largest and most complete, and the quality of its work is considered the standard, the world over.

North 10th, 11th and 12th Sts., from Wythe Ave. to Berry St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Bids Opened.

M. B. Foster Electric Co., Fuller Bldg., New York, submitted the lowest bid for rewiring at General Islip State Hospital, Albany, N. Y., at $1,600.

Contracts for paving in the Borough of Bronx have been awarded as follows: To the Asphalt Construction Co., at $4,509; to D. W. Moran, at $2,315; to P. J. Kane, at $2,545; to Geo. J. Bailey, at $4,281.

Bids were opened Jan. 9 for constructing various sewers in Borough of Bronx. Contract 14 was awarded to S. M. De Pasquale, Williamsbridge, N. Y., at $62,971. Contract 10 was awarded to M. F. Leahy, at $21,039; Contract 11 to the Culin Pace Construction Co., at $4,268; Contract 13 to J. M. Stanton, at $5,492.

The bids received on Dec. 28 for water mains in various streets in Borough of Richmond are officially announced, as follows: Contract 1—Joseph Johnson & Sons, 193 Broadway, West New Brighton, N. Y., $148,720; Clinton Beckwith, 49 West 27th st, N. Y., $133,789; James P. Graham, Bath Beach, L. I., N. Y., $117,297. Contract 2—Joseph Johnson & Sons, $143,792; Clinton Beckwith, $131,600. Contract 3—L. D. Gregory, 125th st and 1st av, N. Y., $160,986; A. H. Locheim, Mint Arcade Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa., $123,713; Joseph Johnson & Sons, $151,094; Clinton Beckwith, $119,790; J. T. Donavan, New Brighton, S. I., N. Y., $105,813.

Morris Heights is having a building movement, and about a dozen dwellings are finished. A pleasant place to reside is this, with its river scenery and suburban attractions; and a five-cent fare would on a rapid transit route quickly bring a great increase in valuation.

Sale of a Bank Building.

Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., & Co. have sold the 16-sty building of the Bank of the Metropolis, on the northwest corner of 16th st and Union square, to W. W. Cole, who has given a 50-year lease of the corner store and basement, now used by it for its offices and safe deposit vaults. The building will continue to be known as the "Bank of the Metropolis Building."

LATE REPORTS OF PRIVATE SALES.

35TH ST.—Folsom Bros. have resold the 5-sty front and 4-sty rear tenements, at 416 W. 35th st, 25x100, to Rev Henry E. Hovey, of Portsmouth, N. H.

54TH ST.—Frank Koch has sold 50 West 54th st, a 4-sty and basement brownstone dwelling, on lot 20.6x100.5.

80TH ST.—Gideon H and Gerard Fountain have sold 47 East 80th st, a 4-sty and basement brownstone front dwelling, on lot 23x83.

Mr. Walter H. Sears, M. Am. Soc. C. E., has been appointed chief engineer of the Aqueduct Commission of New York City at a salary of $10,000 per year. Since the resignation of the former incumbent, Mr. J. Waldo Smith, M. Am. Soc. C. E., to become chief engineer of the new Board of Water Supply, Mr. Sears has been acting chief engineer, advanced from the position of division engineer. Mr. Sears is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the class of '68.

BUILDING NOTES

Water Commissioner Cozier has asked for $1,290,000 for the construction of a 6-ft. steel conduit from the Ridgewood station to Valley Stream, eight miles, which when completed will be the largest conduit of the kind in the world. This conduit will increase the water supply for Brooklyn by 16,000,000 gallons a day without increase in area of the watershed.

The estate of the late Secretary of State, Hamilton Fish, some time ago formed a real estate corporation which took over all real estate holdings of the estate. They have during the past summer improved the northeast corner of 4th av and 12th st with an 8-sty store and loft building of fireproof construction. Messrs. Robertson & Potter are the architects, and therefore the construction and facilities of the building are of the best; they expect to have the building completed for occupancy before the first of May, and have put it in charge of Mr. William M. Benjamin, of No. 17 William st.

Suddenly and without previous intimation, the International Union of Masons and Bricklayers has revoked the resolution adopted at the Trenton convention, two years ago, in regard to installing fireproof material, especially hollow tile, and has reinstated the previous rule, for which the New York unions have contended, and for violating which all but two were expelled by the San Francisco convention, a year ago. The new resolution upholds the agreement between the Mason Builders' Association. A large delegation from New York is in attendance at the convention, which is now in session. Presumably the New York unions will now be reinstated.

In building the new Plaza Hotel, all floor surfaces are to be constructed of cement; elevator shafts will be inclosed solidly with fireproof material, having fireproof self-closing doors, glazed with wired plate glass; stairs are to be inclosed with fireproof partitions and self-closing fireproof doors, glazed with wired plate glass. In providing one great central court opening out to a rear unoccupied space, instead of providing several small courts inclosed on all sides, a superior construction has been employed and one more desirable than a literal compliance with section 10 of the Building Code would require. The location of this fireproof hotel, fronting as it will on the wide Plaza, having Central Park on its north side and 58th st on its south side, affords unusual advantages for light and ventilation, and for the health and safety of its occupants.

At least two new syndicates, each with strong financial backing, will no doubt be ready for early bids for the construction and operation of some of the more important among the new subway routes.

Shaw & Co. have leased for A. E. Thompson, 63-65 West 125th st, two 3-sty and basement dwellings and stores, 25x100, for a term of 21 years. This property will probably be altered for business purposes.

George W. Vanderbilt has sold his property at Stapleton Heights, Staten Island, known as Morningside Park, to a syndicate composed of William Horrman, William T. Holt, George W. Stake, William Schuetzendors and Miss Henrietta N. Cornell.

Goodwin & Goodwin have leased for various owners, store, northwest corner of 8th av and 112th st, to Reeves Brothers for five years at an aggregate rental of $10,700; also store, 2189 8th av, to R. Nelson, for five years at an aggregate rental of $9,500; also store, southeast corner of 8th av and 122d st, to Walter Adee for ten years at an aggregate rental of $23,500; also store, 784 Amsterdam av, to Wachtel & Loeb for six years at an aggregate rental of $9,000.

The West End Association, of Manhattan Borough, has elected Mr. Cyrus Clark honorary president. The chairman of the standing committees are: Local improvements, F. R. Houghton; sanitary affairs, W. P. Glenney; membership, Geo. C. Batcheller; grievances, J. L. Brower; finance, Geo. C. Batcheller; legislation, J. C. Coleman; taxation, DeB. Wilmot; railroads, A. W. Otis; house, Geo. A. Bowman. These eight chairmen, together with the president, compose the executive committee.

C. E. Deppeler leased for the Albert Flake estate to the Pabst Brewing Co., for a term of years after the expiration of the present lease, in 1911, the Majestic Theater building, at the Circle and 58th st. He also sub-leased for the same period for the Pabst Brewing Co. to Eugene Schleip the restaurant and hotel portion of the building. Mr. Schleip is the present sub-lessee. Arrangements for the sub-leasing after 1911 of the theater portion of the building, of which Stair & Havlin are now lessees, have not yet been made.

Lieberman Bros., formerly of Lieberman, Levy & Co., for many years converters of cotton goods, have discontinued the cotton goods business entirely and will now devote their whole time and attention to operating in real estate, with office in the Singer Building, 149 Broadway, suite 509-510. This is not a new venture with them, as they have been operating in real estate for several years under the firm name of Lieberman, Levy & Co., and are known to many of the largest and best operators in the real estate line.

At the annual meeting of the Real Estate Owners' Association on Jan. 12, the following officers were elected, the successful ticket having been selected by a nominating committee, of which Frank Eberhart was chairman and William H. Mehlich secretary. These are the new officers: President, Geo. G. Banzer; first vice-president, Geo. H. Beck; second vice-president, Jos. Ceyka; treasurer, Geo. Hedesheimer; financial secretary, Chas. H. Schnelle; recording secretary, Arthur G. Muhlker; members of the executive committee, Adolph Bloch, Marcus Beckman, J. Fred Boss, J. L. Engel, Aug. ## CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, the mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figures indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

OFFICE FURNITURE SHOULD COMBINE REAL COMFORT WITH SERVICEABILITY, AND WHEN YOU'VE

found those qualities see that the price is right. My specialty is doing better for the office than any man can. My catalogues give some idea of my desks, tables, chairs, etc., but it takes an actual visit to my place to show you.

The Private Branch Exchange System of supplying TELEPHONE SERVICE is particularly adapted to the requirements of LARGE HOTELS and APARTMENT HOUSES.

By means of a Private Branch Exchange the general telephone service, local, suburban and long distance, is available in every room and apartment. A complete interior service is also supplied, adding largely to the efficiency, and decreasing the cost of the hotel service proper. No modern Hotel or Apartment House should lack a

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (i) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

EVERY morning during the past week the reports in the daily newspapers have described the stock market of the day before as irregular; and it is very important for everybody interested as a holder of securities to discover just what this irregularity means. Is the bull campaign merely taking breath before making further progress? Or does the uncertain movement of prices signify the beginning of a process of liquidation? On the whole it looks as if the first of these explanations was the nearer correct. Since January 1 heavy advances have taken place in many prominent railroad and industrial stocks, and there has been a certain improvement all along the line. It was not to be supposed that such advances could be continued indefinitely without periodic reactions; and at different times during the week a number of different stocks have been subjected to the pressure of very heavy selling which resulted in quick and large declines in prices. It was noticeable, however, that while the quotations for these prominent stocks were shrinking, those of many other stocks, whose previous movements had been only moderate, were advancing, and it was noticeable also that the stocks which suffered most from the pressure were the stocks, whose prices had been most rapidly and dangerously advanced. In short there has been at no time any general selling movement, and the stocks which were offered were for the most part readily absorbed by the market. Every reaction was succeeded by a rally, and the speculative situation seems still to remain substantially sound. There are a number of good stocks on the list which can be advanced further without becoming excessively high in price, and it does not look as if it were time as yet for a bull speculator to get rid of his stocks. That time may not be very remote, for it is improbable that such an excited speculation cannot continue without becoming after a while top-heavy, and incurring a reaction which will have much the same effect on the market as the reaction which took place last May. But current conditions are all that a man who believes in higher prices can ask for. Very prudent men may, perhaps, think that it is time to quit, and such a course would undoubtedly have much to recommend it; but the risk which a speculator must take who is carrying an average line of stocks does not just at present seem to be excessive.

THE only centre of active speculation in the real estate market continues to be the neighborhood in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania terminal, and the trading in this vicinity is occupied more with properties on the side streets than with those on the avenues. This is doubtless because the old buildings on the side streets have not advanced so much in price that they fail to carry themselves, whereas prices on both Sixth and to a smaller extent on Seventh avenues have reached a level, which makes the income from existing buildings insufficient in many instances to do much more than pay the necessary expenses. Hence speculators prefer to deal in property on the side streets, where the prices asked by owners bear a closer relation to current income. Moreover, while the future of this district seems to be assured, there is still so much doubt about the form which the improvements will take that speculators are cautious about bidding up prices on the avenue too high. The district needs, unfortunately, not merely improvement, but reformation, and the process of reforming it into a clean and prosperous business neighborhood will necessarily occupy a good many years. It is interesting to note, however, that an operator who has made a great deal of money by leasing old buildings on Forty-second street and improving them has begun to operate in this neighborhood. A great deal of money has been made of late years in this class of operation, which does not need very large capital, and which offers great opportunities of profit without any corresponding risk. The rest of the trading during the week has been concerned more with vacant lots and tenements than anything else. There are no indications of any diminution in the rate at which new tenement house construction is being planned, and the filings at the Building Department for the current year are running ahead of the large totals of 1905. There can be no doubt that the amount of this new tenement house construction runs far beyond the actual needs of the city, and that Manhattan and the Bronx are beginning a period of several years in which the tenant will have the better of the landlord. Nothing, however, will avail to diminish the amount of new tenement house construction except a reduction in rents, and it is probable that in the newer districts such a reduction will take place before long. The older districts, among which the better part of the West Side and Harlem must now be classed, will not feel these adverse conditions as keenly as will the Bronx or Washington Heights, but it will be dangerous to build in those neighborhoods during the near future on a narrow margin.

THERE is no better way of making a cause hopeless than by acting on such a belief. The Mail and Express believes that the idea of repealing the mortgage tax law is wholly visionary, and it counsels real estate owners and brokers, consequently, to spend their time in advocating some remedial legislation which there is some chance of passing. But how does the Mail know that there is no chance of repeal? Anybody can see that the chance is not very bright, because of the attitude of Governor Higgins; but there is no reason to suppose that, if sufficient pressure is brought to bear upon him, he may not be induced to change his mind. At all events the only way to find out what can or cannot be accomplished is to make the attempt. Bad taxes remain on the statute books only because the protest against them is not vigorous and insistent enough. The agitation against the mortgage tax may not succeed this year or next year, but if it is as bad a tax as its opponents claim, they will either succeed in repealing it in the end or else they will deserve to fail. No man or body of men ever got either what they wanted or what they believed to be right by sitting in their chairs and declaring that their cause was hopeless. Lack of hope is merely an expression of lack of will. The fact is that the agitation against repeal is gaining in strength, and its leaders are adopting the only course of action that can possibly be effective. The matter rests with the Republican members of the Legislature from this city. They have agreed to stand together in agitating for repeal, and if they persist both in their agitation and their agreement, they may gain their point. New York has for years been victimized by the rural legislators, because its representatives were whipped by their party leaders into abandoning the interests of their constituents, but party discipline is relaxed in the present Legislature, and a fine opportunity is presented by an aggressive and insistent minority to make its righteous claims heard. Even, however, if the Governor refuses to be convinced, a repeal bill should be passed, if possible, by a combination of the Democrats and the protesting Republicans, and the responsibility of preventing repeal should be placed squarely upon Mr. Higgins' shoulders. The only good way to protest is to protest with all your might, and to carry the action demanded thereby as far as possible. You may still fail, but you are thereby placing the responsibility for failure where it belongs, and you are preparing for success hereafter.

TWO bills will be submitted to the Legislature embodying the results of the investigation of Mayor McClellan's Advisory Commission on Taxation and Finance. This commission was requested first to consider the serious question of the city's uncollectible arrears of personal taxes. These uncollectible personal taxes amount to something over $30,000,000, and the deficiency is increasing at the rate of several million dollars a year. Up to the present time this deficiency has been met by the simple expedient of issuing larger amounts of revenue bonds; but it is authoritatively stated that this method cannot be continued without seriously embarrassing the financial administration of the city. It is proposed consequently to meet the difficulty by securing from the Legislature two new laws. One of these measures will authorize the Board of Estimate to convert this deficiency into a permanent debt by the issue of city stock in sufficient quantities to fill the chasm. The other bill provides for the inclusion in the annual tax levy a sum deemed sufficient to cover the deficiency of the previous year. This is undoubtedly the best means of providing for the loss caused by the existing impracticable and absurd methods of personal assessment; but it is curious how inevitably any deficiency in revenues is eventually charged up to real estate. In this instance the increased taxes will amount to a considerable sum, and will cause an appreciable augmentation of the tax rate.

THE Rapid Transit Commission is right in refusing to grant to the New Haven and Pennsylvania companies a franchise for a connecting railway without specific compensation; and the claim of President Cassatt that, inasmuch as the railroad is to be built upon private property, the city is not justified in asking any compensation for the general franchise, will not bear examination. The right to carry freight or passengers through a large city is a right the value of which is not measured by ordinary tax charges. When a railroad uses for the purpose property which it has purchased instead of the streets of the city, the charge for the franchise should be diminished, but its necessity and justice by no means entirely disappears. The operation of cars still remains a special service which is peculiarly profitable because of the population and business which is concentrated within a few square miles of territory, and the public corporation representing the people who create this opportunity for profit should share in the proceeds. It is useless for Mr. Cassatt or any other railroad president to protest against this principle. It has become a recognized part of the city's policy in respect to transit or transportation companies, and much as the city would lose in case the New Haven and Pennsylvania Railroads should abandon their plans, it would lose more by abandoning so vital a principle of public policy. But as a matter of fact the railroads will not abandon their plans, because they have to pay for the privileges they require. The charges proposed are very moderate, and will not constitute an excessive burden on so considerable an enterprise. If it will pay the Pennsylvania Co. to spend so many millions upon developing its facilities for handling and collecting freight in Long Island and Brooklyn, it will also pay the company to contribute two million dollars out of the profits of the enterprise to the city's treasury. No doubt, however, it is not the payment of $2,000,000 of which the company is afraid, but the readjustment of the terms at the end of twenty-five years, and it does not like such a readjustment, just because in the course of time the privilege for which it asks promises to be of such enormous value.

License for Brokers Suggested.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE TO PROTECT THE TRADE FROM THE UNSCRUPULOUS.

IT is a fact that many of the sellers and lessors of properties are objecting to the payment of the full commission authorized by law and custom, even in actually closed transactions and, moreover, seem to feel that they are free to withdraw from a negotiation irrespective of the rights of the buyer and the liability to the broker for his services, to say nothing of the embarrassment of his position with the purchaser. Acknowledging the many good aims and results from the Real Estate Board of Brokers and other unions of real estate interests, the fact still remains that there has not appeared an entirely satisfactory method whereby a regular exchange for real estate brokers may be organized to do business as it is done among stock brokers; but at least some formal understanding between recognized real estate brokerage houses could be promulgated to protect their commissions and keep a black list of unreliable operators.

The annoyances growing out of the irregularities referred to are the subject of new consideration in real estate circles, as has been evident in the columns of this paper; and this week the head of a prominent firm expressed his views in these terms:

"There are many reasons given by some sellers and lessors who, while being perfectly well aware that they are liable to brokers for commissions, yet endeavor to either beat them down or out; but one chiefly given is that when the amounts involved are large, the commission becomes a serious question in the margin of profit figured. This really is absurd, because no one should purchase a property without feeling pretty sure that there was enough advance in it to ignore cheerfully the amount of commission and to recognize the fact that ten chances to one a broker will make the resale for him, so that keeping friends with the brokers is his best play. Do not misunderstand me that this is a common custom among owners and lessors, as it is fortunately a rare occasion; but lately I have heard from all sides complaints by many of our fraternity upon this score, and to those many who do act broadly and fairly this will but be complimentary to them.

"It seems to me that the principal reason for this situation is that there are so many so-called brokers who are only so 'pro tem,' and who may have really no right to any commission; but misuse their position of influence or control of properties by demanding one, while others who, with offices in their hats, feel no special responsibility to uphold a broker's rights by proper demand for their full compensation.

"It is easy to see into the case of the latter, how at a critical time of the closing of a contract some question arises which seems serious, either actual or intentional, that would worry a poor brother into taking anything he could get rather than to insist on his rights and apparently, to him, endanger the closing; whereas, if he only knew it and could count upon the united assistance of an organization of brokers, he could just as well obtain the whole amount at the proper time.

"Better still, why could not a law be drafted to make it necessary for all brokers to obtain a license for the conduct of their business in the same manner that insurance brokers handle theirs, and, I understand, exists in Philadelphia? Thereby authorized brokers could be protected from irresponsible and irregular work by those who have no interest in upholding the standard of real estate brokerage which, with its many exactions of training and knowledge of values and conditions, has gotten to be almost a profession. This would necessitate legislation, but it would be a source of income to the State.

"I am sure that a great majority of operators, and even occasional sellers or lessors, would be very glad to be able to deal with duly authorized and responsible brokers under this system, and thus be relieved of many of the tricks played upon them by those who are held to no account. While perfectly aware of the many and great obstacles in the way of this idea, both from the difficulty of getting a law through and obtaining hearty co-operation of real estate men, who are, of necessity, at some distance from each other and who cannot transact their business as it is done in stocks, from the very nature of it, yet we can feel that something tangible could be done which would have the support of the trade."

Year's Work in Building Bureau.

CHIEF ENGINEER R. P. MILLER, in his annual report to the Superintendent, remarks that the year just ended was the busiest in the history of the Bureau of Buildings of the Borough of Manhattan. The number of applications filed and examined by the engineering staff during the year was 1,769, for 2,572 new buildings, valued at $124,746,552; 3,687 applications for permits to make alterations to 4,469 buildings; the estimated cost of alterations being $14,105,720, and 1,036 applications for minor alterations. Compared with the work of previous years, the estimated cost of building operations in Manhattan for 1905 exceeded by over fifty per cent. the cost of such operations in the busiest year previous to 1905, namely, the year 1902, which was the first after the separation of the borough bureaus. Previous to 1902, when the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx were still under one head, building operations reached their maximum, for the two boroughs, in 1899, when they amounted in estimated cost to $136,442,310. The estimated cost of all operations in the other boroughs for 1905 were, approximately: Bronx, $38,250,000; Brooklyn, $73,020,000; Queens, $12,830,000; Richmond, $2,500,000; total, $126,600,000. Thus the operations in the Borough of Manhattan were greater than those of the other four boroughs combined.

During the year an investigation on proper requirements for new materials of construction was completed early in the year, and a report was made on April 1. The tests in connection with this investigation were made at Columbia University under the supervision of the Manhattan Building Bureau, and the resulting regulations apply to materials used in the same manner and for the same purpose as stone, brick and concrete are now used under the Building Code. (The tests were described in detail in the report of April 1.) Fifty-nine common bricks were subjected to transverse loading, giving an average modulus of rupture of 432. Six hard-pressed bricks gave the average modulus of rupture of 983. The average of fifty nine and six tests, respectively, showed an ultimate compressive strength of 3,476 lbs. per square inch for common brick and 6,361 lbs. per square inch for hard-pressed brick. In the absorption tests the average for thirty-nine specimens of common brick was 15.1 per cent., with a maximum of 21.4 per cent. For five specimens of hard-pressed brick the average absorption was 9.8 per cent., with a maximum of 12.4 per cent.

TESTS OF NEW MATERIALS.

In accordance with the new regulations (which have been printed in the Record and Guide) tests were made during the year on sand-lime bricks and on cement bricks, the results of which are ably set forth in the report, from which it is learned that the following named plants have been approved by the bureau for use in the Borough of Manhattan: Granite Brick Co., of Glen Falls; Newburgh Brick Co., Newburgh, N. Y.; Peerless Brick Co., 116th st and Harlem River; Spear's Brick Co., 22-26 East 36th st, New York.

Although several inquiries have been made as to the use of concrete building blocks in this city, says the Chief Engineer, it was not until very recently that any application for approval under the regulations has been made, and that one came in so late in the year that no investigation had yet been made. The use of such blocks, if they pass the requirements as to strength raises another question as to the proper restrictions for their use. It is clearly not desirable that such blocks should be used for all classes and heights of buildings, and it seems also proper to the Chief Engineer that wall constructions should be increased above those specified by law for brick, at least in the cases of buildings over a certain height.

In Chicago the use of such blocks is restricted by ordinance to one or two-story dwellings and stables. Philadelphia has recently issued regulations regarding the use of such blocks, and they are quite complete, and similar ones should be promulgated in this city. The matter is now under consideration.

The testing of fireproof floor constructions continued during the year quite as vigorously as in the previous year. Eleven fire and water tests, in accordance with the requirements of the law, were conducted under the supervision of the bureau. In addition, seven load tests were made, four on modified forms of approved types for determining working loads, and three on floors in buildings in course of erection, to establish their efficiency for certain proposed loadings.

Many inquiries have been received at the bureau regarding the method of making fire tests, and embraced in the report are a series of suggestions, together with the law and rules, on the subject, which will make the report especially valuable when printed. Nine tests of fireproof partitions were made during 1905 under the supervision and in accordance with the regulations of the bureau. Of these, eight were on forms of plaster construction, the other being one reinforced concrete. Six of the tests were successful. The regulations under which these tests were made are given in the report.

Of fireproofing solutions, only one was submitted for test, that of the Price Fireproofing Co., of Poughkeepsie, and in view of the results obtained it was approved. A new material, known as "Duretta," made by E. G. Walter, of 157 E. 44th st, New York, was tested and approved as an incombustible material that can be used for interior trim in buildings over 150 ft. in height. Among other tests were the usual cement tests, a test of a fireproof window, a fireproof door, and on the bearing capacities of soils in different locations.

Street-Opening Evils.

WAYS SUGGESTED OF ENDING THEM AND RELIEVING PROPERTY OWNERS.

In order to eliminate the evils connected with street opening condemnation proceedings, which are complained of on every hand, it is believed that one of the first essential objects to be attained is that of making easier and less expensive the ceding of property by owners who are willing that their land shall be taken for street-opening purposes. To that end there has been prepared a form of amendment to the City Charter, relieving owners from the expense of furnishing abstracts of title and paying filing fees on ceding land.

It is plain that it is for the interest of property owners that condemnation proceedings should take place only where the simple and inexpensive method of ceding to the city is impossible. The present charter provision offers no inducement to the property owner to deed, as he is required to furnish, at his own expense, an abstract of title, and pay all incidental expenses of deeding his land within a proposed street to the city. The cost of this is from $40 to $100 for each cession, and where there are numerous small owners it becomes a great burden on each. Where houses have been built on mapped but undedicated streets, two courses are open to the abutting owners, under the rulings of the Corporation Counsel, before they can get their pavements, sewers, or, in some cases, even street lighting. Either they must cede, or else they must petition for a condemnation proceeding. Ordinarily the owner feels aggrieved that the city requires further steps before authorizing local improvements, and when he is asked to make a deed of land within the street to the city he may assent until he learns that the making of this deed will cost him $50 or more; then he fails to see why the city should take his land for streets and make him pay for the privilege of giving. Thereupon he refuses or neglects to prepare his deed and abstract, and the next thing he knows is, a street opening proceeding has been begun that will result in a bill of $100 or more for him to pay, to say nothing of lawyer's fees, if he indulges in the luxury of having counsel.

If cessions to the city were free they would be much more numerous resorted to, and many condemnation proceedings would be obviated. The city is the recipient of the fee simple of the street from the abutting owner, and it is no more than just, in the view of many, that it should pay the clerical expense of looking up the title and recording the deed, and this it could do at much less cost than can the numerous private owners.

Organizations of property owners in all the boroughs are giving consideration to this unsatisfactory method of proceeding, and a committee appointed by a conference of taxpayers' associations and boards of trade, and consisting of Mich. Furst, Charles S. Tabor, Daniel Monyhan, Alexander McKinney, Robert B. McIntyre, Michael E. Finnegan, Nelson P. Lewis, chief engineer of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and President Edward M. Bassett, has submitted a concise and able report, embodying important recommendations, one of which is in favor of relieving owners from the expense of furnishing abstracts of title and paying filing fees on ceding land within streets to the city.

Another method which the committee regards as one that would tend to an improvement over the present one would require the commissioners of condemnation and assessment to make a preliminary report of their estimate of the value of property to be taken. The filing of a preliminary report of appraisal would surely tend to reduce the cost and time of the proceedings, for the reason that an opportunity would be given to persons owning property to accept the terms of this preliminary report without the then unnecessary trouble and expense incident to the present method of taking testimony, etc. This would often reduce the work of the ordinary or regular examination to a minimum.

Another matter which the committee has considered is that of changing the authority in which shall be vested the power of designating or fixing the district of assessment. The commissioners of condemnation and assessment now have jurisdiction in this matter, but it is proposed to confer this power on the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the area of assessment to be designated by that body at the time of the adoption of the resolution placing the street on the city map. It is also recommended that the district shall, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, be one-half of the block on each side of the proposed improvement. This change was considered necessary to prevent spreading an assessment over a large territory which receives no appreciable benefit, in order to hide the granting of extravagant awards and excessive charges for the proceedings.

As a collateral subject to this, that of apportioning the cost of the opening of the street between the abutting property owners and the city at large was also considered. Under the charter, the city of New York acquires title in fee to property condemned for street purposes. This deprives abutting owners of all control over the land lying in the street in front of their premises and transfers to the city certain valuable rights which it would not have acquired were a mere easement taken, as was the practice in the former city of Brooklyn. Experience has demonstrated that the taking of a fee instead of an easement has added enormously to the expense of these proceedings, while adding nothing to the benefit to abutting property. As the increased cost seems traceable to the change in the kind of title acquired, which inures to the benefit of the city at large and not to the abutting property, it seems just and equitable to the committee that the city should bear a much larger proportion of the burden than at present. They have therefore recommended that the whole cost of administration, including commissioners' and experts' fees, be paid by the city, and only the cost of the property taken be assessed against property benefited.

PERMANENT COMMISSIONERS.

The larger proposition to obtain, if possible, permanent commissioners in street opening proceedings is also under consideration. It is apparent and within the knowledge of all who have given the matter any thought that this is a difficult subject. In 1904 a bill on this general subject was presented to the Legislature by Senator Elsberg and passed both houses. It provided not alone for the appointment of commissioners for street opening and other condemnation proceedings, but for commissioners to act as referees and as practically trial judges of the Supreme Court. While this bill was under consideration by the Governor an opinion was obtained by him from the Attorney General as to the constitutionality of the proposed law. The Attorney General reported that, in his opinion, the proposed statute was not constitutional. The Governor refused to sign the bill and the legislation failed. These are the facts which confronted the committee at the outset. An effort is being made to draft a bill which will meet the constitutional objections. Whether this be possible or not it is yet too early to hazard an opinion.

Big Staten Island Purchase by Thomas and H. K. S. Williams.

Thomas and H. K. S. Williams, of Ichabod T. Williams & Sons, have purchased the Bechtel property on Staten Island, between Tompkinsville and Stapleton, with a water frontage of about 1,600 ft., running back to Bayst a depth of about 2,000 ft. The depth of water at bulkhead is 35 ft. This property runs down to the Municipal Team Ferry at Stapleton. The Baltimore & Ohio and Lehigh Valley tracks run through the property. This is one of the largest real estate transactions that has taken place on Staten Island. The purchase is for investment.

INCREASE OF THE INTEREST RATE

By B. AYMAR SANDS

(President of the Allied Real Estate Interests)

CAUSED BY THE OPERATION OF THE MORTGAGE TAX LAW

While some of the legislators who were responsible for the passage of the mortgage tax law have expressed an opinion that it is not working satisfactorily and as they anticipated, others are still of the opinion that it is a wise and beneficent measure. Those who still favor the law, although they admit that there has been a rise in the interest rates on mortgages since July 1, claim that this rise has been occasioned not by the effect of the law itself, but by the general increase in interest rates which has recently prevailed in the financial and commercial money markets. Their opinions are not those of experts, and, as their views differ so materially from those held by persons more familiar with the subject, it may be of interest to discuss this question in the light of the statistics which are readily available.

I have examined the mortgage records of a corporation which for many years has been a large dealer in mortgages, and I have found that the average rate of interest per mortgage obtained during the ten years ending July 1, 1905, by that concern has been 4.92 per cent. Taken year by year during that period, the extreme variation has been from 4.84 per cent. to 4.98 per cent., or .14 per cent. These mortgages have chiefly been made upon real estate situated in the Borough of Manhattan; and in ascertaining this percentage I have only considered investment mortgages, disregarding all 6 per cent. mortgages, as, on account of the usury law, which limits the maximum rate of interest on loans to 6 per cent., the rate of interest on such mortgages could not have been increased above that rate by the operation of the mortgage tax law. This average rate of interest per mortgage prevailed until July 1, when the mortgage tax law went into effect.

Continuing this examination from July 1 to December 30, 1905, I find that the average rate of interest per mortgage upon all investment mortgages made by that concern during that period has been 5.46 per cent., being an increase of .53 per cent., or slightly more than the amount of the mortgage tax. The line of demarcation between the rate of interest prevailing before July 1 and after that date was drawn sharply across the 1st day of July, and the current rate of interest on practically all investment mortgages increased on that day by over ½ per cent. This result, it would seem, must have been occasioned by the operation of the mortgage tax law.

It is claimed, however, that this result is only a coincidence, and that the increase was actually occasioned by the stringent conditions prevailing in the general money market. In order to test the merits of this argument, I have caused to be prepared a statement showing the increased rate, week by week, of interest per mortgage on all mortgages recorded in the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn from July 14 to December 30, 1904 and 1905, as compiled by the Real Estate Record and Guide. In preparing this I have excluded from the total number of mortgages recorded in 1905 a number equivalent to the ratio of 6 per cent. mortgages of 1904 to the total number of mortgages recorded, thus showing the average increase of the rates on all mortgages except those on which the interest could not have been increased on account of the provisions of law fixing the maximum rate at 6 per cent. From July 1 to December 30, 1904, the average rate of interest per week varied from 4.90 per cent. to 4.96 per cent., or an extreme variation of .6 mill. For the first four weeks after July 1, 1905 (when the new law went into effect), the interest each week was variable on account of the unsettled rates caused by the operation of the law, but particularly on account of the completion of contracts made before the 1st of July. Afterwards, however, from August 11 to December 30 (except during one week) it was very uniform, showing an average increase per mortgage during that period of .56 per cent.

It is therefore established—

(1) That during the weeks of 1904 under consideration there was an extreme variation of only .6 mill per week in the average rate of interest on all the mortgages tabulated.

(2) That the average rate per week for the weeks of 1905 increased by over ½ per cent., as compared with the similar weeks of the previous year.

If, on the other hand, reference be had to the quotations of interest in the financial money market, as published in the Financial Chronicle, the rates for call money during the period under consideration will be found as follows: July, 1¼ to 3½ per cent.; August, 1½ to 3; September, 2 to 7; October, 2 to 8; November, 4 to 25; December, 3 to 125.

These quotations show that while the money rate in the open market was increasing from 1¼ to 125 per cent., the rate of interest for mortgages was varying very slightly, with a tendency to decrease as the rate of interest in the open market advanced. The rate of interest on mortgages reached its maximum increase of .67 per cent. on September 22, while during December, when the rates for call money had attained their maximum, the increase of the rate on mortgages varied from .51 to .66 per cent.

It has also been claimed that the lower rates obtained at the November sale for the New York City bonds were caused by the same conditions which increased the rate of interest on mortgages, and that as investments in these bonds are made by the same class of individuals and corporations as those investing in bonds and mortgages this fall in price fairly indicated that the increase in the rate of interest on mortgages had been occasioned by the money stringency which had depreciated the value of city bonds. This argument, in my opinion, has no value, as will readily be seen by an examination of the following table showing the prices obtained at recent sales of New York City 3½ per cent. bonds:

January 20, 1904.....	10,000,000—100.23
March 24, 1904.....	3,000,000—100.10
May 3, 1904.....	37,000,000—100.94
November 24, 1904.....	25,000,000—102.401
April 24, 1905.....	3,000,000—100.601
April 24, 1905.....	22,000,000—100.712
November, 1905.....	11,600,000—100.

In April, 1905, $22,000,000 of these bonds sold at 100.7. The rate of interest in the call money market during that month varied from 2½ per cent. to 7 per cent., while in November of the same year, when the last sale was made, the rate of interest varied from 4 to 25 per cent. The slightly lower price obtained at the November sale may readily be attributed partially to the declining condition of the credit of the city and partially to the money stringency. The fall in value, however, is so slight that it is not worthy of consideration.

I might add that in the same week when the last sale of New York City bonds was made $3,000,000 of 3½ per cent. bonds of the city of Baltimore sold at 104.85, or on a basis of 3.30 per cent. New York City 3½ per cent. bonds sold in November, 1902, at 106.162, and the drop from that price to the present is in my judgment, entirely the result of the decline of the credit of the city, owing to the large increase of its bonded indebtedness.

Having seen, therefore, that the rate of interest on all investment bonds and mortgages for the ten-year period preceding July 1, 1905, and during periods of tight and easy money, was very uniform, and that after July 1, 1905, without any apparent reason, except the imposition of the mortgage tax, it increased over ½ per cent. per mortgage, it would seem an almost mathematical conclusion that the present increase in the rate of interest is entirely the result of the mortgage tax law.

The figures which I have quoted have been entirely obtained from an examination of the record of mortgages in New York City; and while I have not been furnished with any figures from other parts of the State, I am told by the correspondents of the Allied Real Estate Interests that the same conditions prevail almost universally throughout the State, and that the rates of interest have been increased in all localities, excepting those in which the prevailing rate of interest has heretofore been 6 per cent.

People not familiar with mortgage loans are surprised when they are told that the rate of mortgages does not appreciably increase during periods of stringency in the general money market, and while, at the first blush, this condition does seem rather unnatural, I think it is readily susceptible of explanation.

Bonds and mortgages form a class of securities by themselves, differing in all their characteristics from other investments. The borrowing of money on bond and mortgage is a deliberate and expensive operation, as all real estate people, both borrowers and lenders, clearly appreciate; such loans, unlike commercial loans, are made for long periods, therefore the net returns from the property mortgaged and its value being measured by the rate of interest on existing mortgages, it is a matter of vital importance that the rate of interest should be as low as possible. If, therefore, money happens to be tight, the responsible borrowers are generally able to defer their borrowings until the money rates decline. At these times only the more impecunious borrowers appear in the mortgage market, and the offerings of mortgage money are generally sufficient to satisfy the demands of such borrowers at the interest rates prevailing before the period of stringency. Fewer mortgages are made during such periods, but rates are not materially changed. High rates for money rarely continue for long periods; if, however, they should be prolonged, I admit that the mortgage interest rate would be affected.

The advocates of this measure urged that the passage of this law would induce the custodians of trust funds, which had heretofore been heavily locally taxed, to invest large sums in
